THROW WANTS TO SEE GRANGE PLAY

Rush Made On Ticket Office On Eve Of Pennsylvania-Illinois Contest

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Correspondent)
Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 30.—Business and social activity were almost neglected today in a mad and hopeless rush for tickets for tomorrow's football game between Penn and "Red" Grange's Illinois eleven.

University athletic officials closed the ticket office and asked the protection of police to save the building. The teams had to be taken to a resort near Atlantic City so that the players could keep their mind off football and keep their bodies together.

Some Penn students who preferred dough to Alma Mater, rented their registration cards or sold their tickets to speculators who predicted while rubbing their palms together, that they would get $50 tomorrow for a good one within the forty yard zones.

Despite the admitted fact that Pennsylvania would be weakened by the absence of Al Kruezer, the star punting and kicking fullback and Stan Sieracki, one of the most valuable men on the line, the betting showed Penn was a slight favorite.

The Illinois squad, headed by the peerless Red and Coach Bob Zuppke, arrived today.

The huskies looked at the grey skies and prayed that it wouldn't rain.

"If the field is hard, Red is sure to get away," several of the players said. Most all of the Illinois rooters who were early arrivals felt the same way but the Penn supporters were not alarmed about the weather.

Rogers, Douglas and Thayer can go just as fast on a dry field and they're almost as good in mud.

It was the recognized adaptability of the Penn offense to meet any conditions and the resourcefulness of the Penn backs to rise to any situation that made the team one of the greatest in the east and established it as the favorite in the betting.

There was plenty of respect for Grange expressed in the arguments and it was admitted by Penn partisans that he might get away once, but they insisted that he would get away only once and that the Penn defense would solve him and stop him.

YELLOW JACKETS TO PLAY GARRETT

Decatur High School Eleven To Meet Upstate Team On Local Field Saturday

The Decatur high school Yellow Jackets will play the Garrett high school gridiron on the Ahr's field gridiron Saturday afternoon. Garrett has a good team and has won most of its games. Auburn lost to Garrett last week by two touchdowns. Decatur and Auburn tied, 6-6, in the first game of the season, but the Yellow Jackets have improved considerably since then and should give Garrett a good battle.

The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock. The admission price will be fifty cents for adults.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

Bloomington, Ind. — Having spent much of the week in perfecting a good defensive style of play, Indiana is on its way to Evanston for the Northwestern game Saturday. Final practice for the tilt was held in a two-inch sea of mud, and a temperature at almost freezing.

Lafayette, Ind. — Approximately 2,500 backers of Purdue are expected to be on hand when the local team meets Chicago Saturday at Stagg field. Every man on the squad is in shape to play except Captain Harmon and Dode Cladders.

THREE BIG TEN GAMES SATURDAY

Contenders For Championship Do Not Meet Tomorrow, However

By Edward C. Derr
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—With "Red" Grange, the Illinois wonder man, playing in the east tomorrow, midwestern football fans will have to be satisfied with lesser luminaries and games of only passing interest this week-end.

The Michigan-Navy battle at Ann Arbor will attract the bulk of interest. In addition to being an inter-sectional game and giving sectional enthusiasts a chance to boost their respective favorites, it will afford another opportunity to see just how well Benny Friedman, Michigan's stellar quarterback, can measure up to Red Grange.

Michigan is Favorite
On the face of early season games, Michigan should win but the navy has a team that should be feared by the best of them. A victory for the mid-dies would be a serious setback to the prestige of midwestern football as Michigan is obviously the class of the Western conference.

Tomorrow's schedule brings three games that will have a bearing on the Big Ten championship race.

"Stagg Fears Purdue"
Coach A. A. Stagg's Chicago Maroons, although defeated by Penn, still have a clean slate in the Big Ten and are expected to come through with a victory over Purdue. As usual, however, the gloomy Stagg says he fears the Boilermakers.

Minnesota opens its Big Ten season by taking on Wisconsin, a team that has failed to live up to expectations. The slim 7 to 6 victory last week over Purdue makes Wisconsin appear weak indeed and Minnesota may push the Badgers even further down the ladder.

Indiana Plays Northwestern
Northwestern, another team that has been weaker than it looked when the season opened, celebrates its homecoming by welcoming Indiana. With "Moon" Baker not likely to take a chance with his sprained ankle, the Wildcats will have a job on their hands to send Indiana home defeated.

With these six teams engaging in championship games, the other four members of the Big Ten go outside of the conference for their games tomorrow. Illinois clashes with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in the outstanding inter-sectional game of the day. Ohio State meets Wooster at Columbus; Iowa takes on the strong Little Wabash squad at Iowa City, and Michigan will be busy with the navy.

FOWLS WIN PRIZES

Chickens Sold By Monroe Man Win First Prizes At Utah State Fair.

J. F. Rupert, of Monroe, has received word from A. M. Johnson, of Ogden, Utah, that the Rose Comb R. I. Red fowls sold to him and raised on the Rupert farm carried off the blue ribbons at the Utah State fair held at Salt Lake City, Utah. Mr. Johnson purchased a cockrel and two pullets. The cockrel won first prize and the pullets first and second. Mr. Johnson purchased the fowls about October 1, and wrote to Mr. Rupert that he was more than pleased with them and that the showing made by them was proof that they were the best R. I. Reds purchasable.

PEACE REIGNS AS LEAGUE ADJOURNS

Work Of Settling Greco-Bulgar Dispute Viewed As Great Achievement

Paris, Oct. 30.—The spirit of Woodrow Wilson was summoned today to preside over the closing session of the league of nations council, as that body wrote Finis to a work of pacifism—the settlement of the Greco-Bulgar conflict. Paying the memory of the dead president an unique tribute, President Briand placed the meeting under the memorial presidency of the man who, in the same Clock Hall, read out to the world the covenant of the league. Wilson died a broken man, his league spurned by his country.

But today his spirit lives—Woodrow Wilson saw his dreams come true—a border war settled by pacific means through the instrument his brain evolved.

By Minott Saunders
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Paris, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—The league of nations council today looked upon its work as peace-maker between the quarreling Greeks and Bulgars as ended and consequently adjourned its sessions.

The ending of the dispute was viewed among council members as a great achievement.

The council, before dispersing, received a final report from its own mission in Macedonia proving that the border incident was closed with both sides having fulfilled their promises to obey the council's orders.

The mission state that the evacuation of invaders was completed and both the Bulgar and Greek armies had been re-instated in their old positions on their own territories.

The had also exchanged the prisoners which had been taken during the recent clashes.

Original Status Restored
Athens, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—Rugarian forces along the Macedonian frontier, pushed back when the Greeks passed over the border, started today to re-occupy their abandoned territory under supervision of French, British and Italian military attaches.

It had been agreed that the Bulgars should only return to their frontier posts when the Greek evacuation was complete and the Greeks were safely ensconced in their old places on the Greek side.

With this re-occupation, the original status was restored, and the border incident deemed definitely closed, at least from a military standpoint.

Secretary Of State Board Of Accounts Is Questioned

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—Speculation was rife at the state house today over the cause for appearance of Homer Kimberlin, secretary of the state board of accounts, before the Marion county grand jury. It was said the grand jury sought some of the records involved in the scrap between Dr. William F. King, secretary of the state board of health, and members of the board.

Auditor Enjoined From Adding Horizontal Increase

Rochester, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press)—The county auditor of Fulton county today was permanently enjoined from placing on the tax duplicate the 10 per cent horizontal increases ordered by the state tax board. The injunction was granted by Judge R. R. Carr, in circuit court, on a petition of individual tax payers who charged the state tax board was without jurisdiction and had not complied with the statutes.

Woman Severely Burned When Dress Catches Fire

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press)—Mrs. Donald Kase, 18, today is recovering from severe burns sustained when her dress caught fire from a small gas heater.

Two men saw the woman dash from her home enveloped in flames, wrapped their overcoats around her and saved her life.

Sentenced To Serve Six Months On Arson Charge

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 30.—(United Press)—William E. Griner, 62, prominent Middlebury business man, was sentenced to serve six months at the penal farm here today when he pleaded guilty to an arson charge.

Will Not Finish Paving Road 22 Before Spring

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—Indications are that the work of paving state highway No. 22 between Martinsville and Bloomington will not be completed until next spring it became known today. Officials of the state highway department say that the inclement weather has made it impossible for the contractors to proceed with the work of reducing the grade on several hills in time to lay the paving before freezing weather.

A new detour around the stretch of paving has been marked by the commission because of the wrecking of a bridge at Gosport.

This detour is only three miles longer than the one through Gosport and follows the National road west to the intersection of State road 32 and then south to Spencer and Bloomington.

Woman Drinks Poison On Indianapolis Street

Indianapolis, Oct. 30.—(United Press)—Miss Laura Matthews, 30, is dead today from poison taken yesterday.

The woman was found lying on a downtown street with a shattered poison bottle at her side.

away with it?"

The state objected to the question, but it was overruled and Smith answered "No."

Prosecutor Remy then offered the dying statement as evidence.

The statement accuses Stephenson of abducting her from her home and forcing and assaulting her.

Floyd Cristen, defense attorney, made a lengthy objection and Judge Sparks withheld his decision temporarily.
