PLANS MADE FOR CLUB ROUND-UP IN DECATUR ON NOV. 7

month or the first of December. The cash prizes in the calf club also amount to $220 and the money will be given the members at the big meeting here.

Dinner Saturday Noon
The farmers, in appreciation of the interest taken in the junior club work, asked that they be permitted to bring basket dinners to this city for the round-up day and their offer was graciously accepted. The dinner will be served by the farmers and the place of meeting will, in all probability, be in the old gym building, corner of Jackson and First streets. The committee will decide on the place for holding the dinner and afternoon program today or Monday.

Following the dinner, a program will be given and later on a parade of the calves entered in the calf club will be held down the main street of the city. This will be the final event on the program.

Committees Named

The committees appointed last evening for the arranging of the different events are, A. D. Suttles, general chairman; Eating place, Geo. Krick, C. N. Christen, H. P. Schmitt. Arranging of corn, J. W. Tyndall, chairman. Fred Kolter, A. R. Holt. Arranging of bees, John Carmody, chairman. F. E. Conter. James Kocher. Arranging of calves, W. A. Klepper, chairman. F. J. Schmitt, T. J. Durkin and D. W. Beery.

County Agent L. M. Busche will assist the committees, farmers and club members in the general details for the big event and happy time is anticipated by both young and old. Letters have been mailed to the club members informing them of the plans and it is hoped that every junior member present at the judging and program on Friday afternoon and Saturday. Mrs. William Blackburn left today for Rochester for a several months visit with her daughter and family.

Miss Ruth Castle, piano instructor of the European School of Music, presented her Decatur pupils in a Halloween Studio Recital at her studio, at 715 North Fifth street, last night. The pupils all came masked. They were met at the back door by a ghost and were directed by another ghost to the recital room, where they drew checks for their seats. Two ghosts and an old witch were judges. Prizes were awarded for the best playing. After the recital, the pupils unmasked and games and refreshments were enjoyed. The games and contests included a peanut hunt, fortune telling, drawing pumpkin seeds, etc. Those who won prizes during the evening were Virginia Miller, Sephus Jackson, Marjorie Oller, Marjorie Johnson, and James Harkless. The house was decorated in witches, owls, ghosts and black and orange crepe paper, the piano being decorated with pumpkins. Those playing in the recital were Eline Teeters, Mary Jane Augenbaugh, Sephus Jackson, Marjorie Johnson, Marjorie Oller, Mamie Counts, Lucile Ogg, Bernice DeVoss, James Harkless, Virginia Miller, Barbara Krick, Marjorie DeVoss, Marjorie Hoagland, Madeline Miller, Erma Lankenau, Vivian Acker. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mrs. John Chronister, Mrs. Castle, Paul Castle, Richard Castle and Mrs. Coll, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The recital program was as follows: The Halloween Sprites; the Graveyard; Dana of the Hobgoblins; Tombstones; Goblins Dance; The Bats Frolic; Cornstalks; Laugh of the Halloween Witch; March of the Goblins; The Witches Serenade; Hays Solo; Halloween Nite and Black Wings; Halloween Thrills; The Black Shadow; My Jolly Pumpkin; The Skeleton's March; The Witches Home; and the Haunted Parade.

A group meeting of Presbyterian Missionary societies will be held Wednesday, Nov. 4, with the First Presbyterian church of Fort Wayne. Other societies included in the group are Bluffton, Huntington, Ossian, Elhanan and Decatur. The meeting will convene at 10:30 a. m. There will be a potluck luncheon. A splendid program has been arranged and plans are also being made to have Miss Elliot, who is a successful worker in the home field, for the afternoon speaker. It is urgently requested that every member of the local society make an effort to attend.

Mrs. Avon Burk will entertain the members of the Tri Kappa Sorority Monday night. All members are urged to attend.

All members of the Civic Section of the Woman's Club are requested to meet at the Library at seven o'clock Monday evening for a half hour's business meeting. The chairman desires the presence of every member as the business is very important.

Miss Jeanette Ehinger will be hostess to the Delta Theta Tau Sorority Monday evening.

Mesdames J. W. Meibers, William Shoemaker, Clem Voglewede, Joe Smith, Ed Whitright, F. J. Schmitt and the Misses Margaret Moran and Bertha Voglewede are the members of a committee, who are arranging for a five hundred and bridge party to be given as a benefit at the Elk's home, Tuesday evening, November 3, at eight o'clock at the Elk's home. The members are busy selling tickets and if you have not been solicited, the ladies will gladly deliver tickets to those who call.

The Misses Margaret Bright, Velma Walters and Winifred Kitson united in entertaining a number of friends at one of the prettiest Halloween parties of the season. The delightful affair was held at the Bright home, on North Third street, which was artistically decorated in the usual Halloween colors for the occasion. Black cats, witches, pumpkin faces and black and orange crepe paper were also used in the decorations. The lights were dimmed with pretty shades. Miss Edna Miller and Mr. Ralston Sowers were awarded prizes for being the most cleverly dressed. Contests, games and fortune telling were enjoyed. Chalmer Steed received a prize in a candy contest and Eugene McNulty was awarded the prize in the guessing contest. At a late hour the hostesses served dainty refreshments. HOTEL CLERKS IDENTIFY GENTRY AND STEPHENSON severe blow to the defense, which had counted on having its important points ruled out.

"Our case is clinched now," Prosecutor Remy said. "Miss Oberholtzer met Stephenson at a ball given for Governor Jackson in Indianapolis last January, the statement declared.

"At that time, I was impressed with his power and influence with the state officials," her story continued.

"I met him on three occasions after that at dinners and on the night of March 15 he called me and asked me to come to his home on important business.

"He said he was leaving for Chicago on the midnight train and must see me before he left.

"I went to his house and knew I was trapped as soon as I entered. Stephenson had been drinking. He forced me to drink with him. I tried to telephone for help, but they grabbed the telephone from me. I was hustled into an automobile and taken to the Union station.

"Stephenson and Gentry threatened to kill me if I made an outcry. Each man had a revolver in his hand.

"They put me on the train for Hammond and took me into a stateroom with them. Stephenson threw me into a berth, tore off my clothing and attacked me.

"I tried to fight back but was weak and unsteady. I did not have the strength to move. What I had drank was affecting me.

"I do not remember all that happened that night. When we reached Hammond the next morning they took me to the Indiana hotel, where Stephenson registered as man and wife for us.

"He went to the room and lay on the bed while Gentry got towels and bathed my body with witch-hazel to relieve my suffering."

The statement continued with the story of how she eluded her captors, bought poison and took it.

She became very ill after taking the poison and Stephenson offered to take her to a hospital as his wife, continued the statement.

"I refused and told them to go way and leave me alone," the story said. "On the way I was in terrible agony all the time and called repeatedly for them to stop and summon a doctor. I asked them to throw me out at the side and let me die, but they hurried on. "When we got to Indianapolis I begged them to take me home. They took me to the garage at Stephenson's home and kept me there over night without medical aid before returning me to my own home."

Purple Hopes Not High On Eve Of Indiana Clash

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 31.—With Indiana putting its full force into the game this afternoon and Northwestern considerably damaged by injuries, hope is not so high in the camp of the Purple as it has been before other games.

Fans attending the game this afternoon may have an opportunity to see a clash of the two styles of passing.

Northwestern this season has adhered to the long pass, and Indiana has used the short style to advantage.

Anderson-Marion Road Almost All Paved Now

Anderson, Ind., Oct. 31.—(United Press.)—The paving of state highway eleven between this city and Marion has been completed with the exception of a small strip near Fairmount, it was announced today.

The road will be opened within the next few days.

Day after Tomorrow

Come to our store and listen to the most astonishing exposition of music in the world
Something absolutely new
A musical miracle

NO MATTER what you are planning to do next Monday, November 2nd, do not miss this amazing demonstration. It is worth going miles to hear. It is something you will never forget. Be sure you hear it.

Fritz Kreisler, Madame Schumann-Heink, Sousa, Paul Whiteman and other great Victor artists hail this incredible instrument with ringing praise. The most noted critics are completely won by its masterful playing.

Our demonstration will begin at nine o'clock in the morning, on Monday, November 2nd, and continue throughout the day. Don't miss it! The more critical your attitude toward music, the more astounded you will be. You will say: "I didn't think it possible!"

Choruses, band music, vocal and instrumental solos, and the latest dance music will be played. Don't let anything deprive you of this inspiring experience.
