Erie To Operate Dairy And Poultry Train Soon

A special train of dairy products, live and dressed poultry will depart from Chicago over the Erie railroad on the afternoon of November 2, and is scheduled to reach New York on the morning of the 5th, running on regular freight schedule. The contents of the train are sufficient to satisfy the hunger of more than 1,000,000 persons for one meal. The value of the products is more than $500,000.

The train will be accompanied by officials of the Erie and Rock Island railroads all the way through to New York.

Daily Report Of Local And Foreign Markets

OPENING GRAIN REVIEW

Chicago, Nov. 2.—(United Press).—A substantial boost in wheat strengthened the grain list in first dealings on the Chicago board of trade today.

The local wheat pit responded to sharply higher cables. Most traders were in a bearish mood and not inclined to give the market support.

The corn trade looked for further drops. Fractional boosts at the start were in sympathy with wheat.

Oats lagged. Conditions in this pit have not changed in the last two weeks.

Provisions were steady without features.

CARD OF THANKS

We appreciate the interest taken by so many folks in the Callithumpan parade Saturday evening and we wish, especially, to thank G. E. and the Monroe bands, all those who masked and all who assisted in any way. We are also grateful to those who served as judges and as members of the various committees. We feel the event was a success and we hope and believe it can be made an annual event, more interesting each year.

J. W. Rice, chairman.

prizes for the most beautiful costume. Gustave Larsen received $5.00 for the most comical man's costume. He was dressed as a South Sea Islander. Mrs. James Kessler won the award for having the most comical woman's costume. She was dressed as an umbrella woman. Bernadine Colter won the prize for the most comical girl's costume.

Miss Mary Neptune, dressed as a one-legged boy, won the first award for the most comical boy's costume. The judges, when awarding the prize, thought that Miss Neptune was a boy and so placed her in the boys' class. Messrs. Jones, Tinkham and Foreman, dressed as negroes, won the $7.00 for the best group of three, and Mrs. Sephus, with a doll in her arms and Catherine Jackson, dressed as a little elf, Isabelle Beath, as a clown, and Helen Beath as a little farmer boy won the group of five prize of $10.00. This group created laughter and interest as it passed up and down the streets and no one was able to recognize any of them.

Mrs. Mary Lugnbill and Mrs. John Wolf, dressed as bride and groom, won the prize for the most comical couple. Scores of other people and groups received honorable mention, and the judges declared that there were so many make-ups that it was hard to award any prizes. Several Decatur business men and Mr. Rice will have a meeting in the near future and perfect an organization to make the Callithumpan parade an annual event in this city.

Solemn and Impressive Service Mark Close Of Devotion At Catholic Church

Solemn and impressive services marked the close of the Forty Hours Devotion at St. Mary's Catholic church last evening, the church being filled to capacity.

Prior to the sermon, the congregation recited the Litany of the Sacred Heart, the Rev. Otto A. Peters, assistant pastor, being in charge. The Rev. Michael Andrew, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Roanoke, and associate editor of "Our Sunday Visitor," who conducted the devotions, delivered the closing sermon. His subject was, "Christ abiding with us." His eloquent sermon was concluded with these timely suggestions, "O Jesus by our Savior, not our judge."

Nine priests, including Father J. A. Seimet, pastor of the congregation and Rev. Peters, assistant, participated in the services and in the procession with the Blessed Sacrament through the aisles of the church. The visiting priests who were here were the Rev. Joseph Kroll, pastor of St. Paul's, Fort Wayne, celebrant; the Rev. Charles Marr, Monroeville, deacon; the Rev. Theodore Fetting, Fort Wayne, sub-deacon; the Rev. John A. Dapp, the Rev. A. E. Lafontaine, diocesan school superintendent; the Rev. Henry A. Hoerstrman, the Rev. John G. Bennett, all of Fort Wayne. About sixty little girls and sixty little boys, the girls being dressed in white and carrying flowers, the altar boys and members of the boy's chorus marched in the procession. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was held following the procession, and the service concluding with the congregation singing, "Holy God, we praise Thy name."

The Forty Hours opened here Friday morning and on Sunday morning the entire congregation received Holy communion.

Yesterday was the feast of All Saints' also, and the services were rendered doubly impressive. Today, the feast of All Souls, although not a holy day of obligation, was observed in the Catholic church, nine masses being celebrated.

NEW VICTROLA DEMONSTRATED

Local Dealers Demonstrate New Machine Today; Many Improvements

Return From California

In connection with National Victor Day, being observed today by Victor phonograph dealers throughout the United States, the Holthouse Drug company of this city is holding an all-day demonstration of the orthophonic victrola, the newest and said to be the greatest achievement of the talking machine since its invention.

The new machine has been greatly improved and the human voice, and all musical instruments are so recorded that it seems as if they were right in the room with the listeners. The new Victrola is said to be the first talking machine that can transmit the sound of a bass instrument and drums by recording.

For the last several days, several hundred Decatur people have heard the new machine at the Holthouse Drug company store and all are of the opinion that this is a great achievement in the musical field. Today's concert is open for everybody and the local Victor representatives urge that everybody visit their store and hear the new machine. The concert will last until 8 o'clock tonight.
