When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply with the fingers and works right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmothers' mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.

This will be announced officially to the chamber by Premier Painleve on Tuesday when he addresses that body for the first time since he created the second Painleve cabinet.

In his speech he will stress particularly France's desire to reach an agreement with the United States, following the failure of his former finance minister, Caillaux, to achieve a definite settlement at Washington.

Medical Testimony Heard

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 3.—(United Press.)—Expert medical testimony was placed before the jury today by the state in building up its murder case against D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry for the death of Madge Oberholzer.

Mrs. Anna Stillman Confirms Report Of Divorce Agreement

New York, Nov. 3.—(United Press)—A staff correspondent of the New York World has penetrated the fastnesses of Canada to Camp Stillman at Grande Anse, Quebec, and secured from Mrs. Anne U. Stillman confirmation that her husband has agreed to give her a divorce.

The interview, appearing as a copyrighted dispatch in today's issue of the World, speaks of a "great change" which has come over James A. Stillman, the multi-millionaire banker.

With Mrs. Stillman, the dispatch says, was Fowler McCormick, the son of Harold McCormick, of Chicago. Both are described as denying "singly and together any intention of marrying."

The did not deny, however, "the great bond of sympathy between them."

"I am too old and he is too young," Mrs. Stillman is quoted as replying to the direct question whether she and McCormick planned to marry.

Mrs. Stillman is pictured as believing that several factors, principally the elimination of Florence Leads from the marital disturbances, have conspired to make her husband change his mind and grant her a divorce. She is further quoted as saying that everything is agreed upon but the financial settlement.

When the text of the interview was read to Isaac N. Mills, local attorney for Mrs. Stillman, he said he was "sure there is some mistake."

He declined to say specifically that her reported statements were correct or incorrect.

Neither Stillman nor his attorney could be reached.

Medical Testimony Heard

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 3.—(United Press.)—Expert medical testimony was placed before the jury today by the state in building up its murder case against D. C. Stephenson, Earl Klenck and Earl Gentry for the death of Madge Oberholzer.

Dr. Virgil Moon, pathologist at Indiana University, resumed the witness stand for further questioning.

Infection from the wounds inflicted during the alleged attack of Stephenson caused blood poisoning which spread to the girl's vital organs, Dr. Moon testified.

This infection and the effects of bichloride of mercury poisoning caused her death, he said.

The wound from which the infection developed was on the girl's left breast and had the appearance of being caused by teeth, according to the expert's testimony.

Wounds caused by biting very frequently bring on serious infection, the doctor said.

His testimony was the most serious blow to the defense has received in the trial.

It has been the contention of the defense that Miss Oberholzer's death was a case of suicide from self-administered poison and that her wounds had healed when she died.

Dr. Moon testified that there was not a case on record where a person died from bichloride of mercury poisoning after the twenty-fifth day from the time the poison was taken. Miss Oberholzer lived for nearly twenty-nine days.

Her body had already started to build up the tissues destroyed by the bichloride of mercury when the infection set in and brought on the complications that ended in her death, Dr. Moon said.

Introduction of Moon's testimony marked the beginning of the second phase of the state's case against Stephenson, Klenck and Gentry.

Prosecutor Remy had succeeded in placing in evidence the dying statement of Miss Oberholzer and introducing important testimony supporting the facts set forth in the statement.

Bitter Fight In Detroit

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—(United Press.)—With Klan and anti-Klan factions each claiming victory by a comfortable margin, voters of Detroit went to the polls today to close the bitterest campaign in the history of the city.

sole issue at stake.
