Bluffton Phi Delt To Have Basketball Team

Bluffton, Nov. 3.—The Bluffton Phi Delta Kappa fraternity has decided to sponsor an independent basketball team again this season. The fraternity men will get behind the team and boost the ticket sale and all games played at home. No definite arrangements have been made at present, but further plans will be made at a meeting to be held this evening, at which time all players wishing a tryout for the team are requested to be present.

The Bluffton Phi Delt have had a high standing in independent basketball circles for several years. Among the players available for the team this season are Cummins, Morris, Rippe, Gale, Shoemaker, Huffman and Boltin. Johnson, veteran of former Phi Delt teams, may decide to play with the team again. Kyle, a member of the quintet for several years, has been booked to referee many games this season and likely will not play.

Van Wert Gridders Win From St. Marys, 6 To 0

Van Wert, Ohio, Nov. 3.—A brilliant exhibition of determination and nerve during the last two minutes of play won for Van Wert over a strong St. Marys football team on the latter's field Saturday afternoon. The score was 6 to 0. A touchdown was launched as Hartman, local quarter stood under his own goal posts, the oval in his hands and opponents surrounding him. He threw the ball to "Red" Leasure, captain, who ran, dodged and fought his way ninety-five yards for a touchdown. Hartman's action was unexpected.

In Saturday's game the forward pass, which was supposed to be St. Marys' most dangerous weapon, proved to be the Scarlet and Gray's best ground gainer.

Frat Freshmen Get Paddling In Co-eds' Presence

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 3.—(United Press)—Freshmen at Drake university who are pledged to various fraternities suffered the ignominy of releasing fair co-eds from the arms at a dance here last night and being paddled by 300 upper classmen.

The older students descended upon the freshmen dance, armed with regulation fraternity paddles, ordered their freshmen to release their partners, and then used the floor of the ballroom for paddling while the co-eds looked on and giggled.

The punishment was meted out because the freshmen had violated certain fraternity rules, the upper classmen explained. Police were called to quell what threatened to be a riot but they made no arrests.

If the minor league club owners do not favor the organization of such a new class they will be asked to adopt some kind of a plan to restrict the number of experienced seasoned players and players under option in Class B leagues.

The innovation is the idea of Michael H. Sexton, president of the National association, who expressed his idea in a letter received today by the writer.

"The great need of baseball talent in the majors and the larger minor leagues has become quite apparent," he said "It will be my endeavor at the meeting of the association to try to open the way for more young ball players, boys from the amateur ranks, high schools, colleges and independent clubs to break into the professional baseball ranks."

While no official statement was obtained, it was understood that John A. Heydler, president of the National league, is in favor of a lower classification, considering it a practical plan to help young ball players who haven't the best means of advancement under the present classifications.

Clevenger To Address State Athletic Officials

Indianapolis, Nov. 3.—Zore Clevenger, athletic director at Indiana University, in addressing the Indiana officials Association here this week, will outline the attitude of the Western Conference toward football officiating and make specific criticisms.

Next week the officials will hear W. L. Hughes, head coach at De Pauw University and later in the season other prominent coaches will speak.

At a meeting of the association last week interpretations of seven plays that occurred in various parts of the state were given.

The interpretations were:
1—Team A punts across side line. After ball crosses side line A fouls but recovers ball. Referee rules E's ball at spot of foul.

2—Team A using huddle signal system and cautioned about delaying game with repeated checking of signals cannot effect time outs to be taken for each action.

3—Team A forward passing. Passer not five yards back—Referee blows whistle as pass is made. B intercepts pass and runs for touchdown. No whistle must be sounded until play is consummated.

4—On interference by defense team when a forward pass is made a first down automatically is given regardless of length of passing unless team making pass declines penalty.

5—Team A passes across the goal line of Team B. Safety man catches ball, holds it momentarily and then pushes or bats it on field on play. A safety should be awarded.

6—On kickoff Team A places ball in center of 40 yard line. As referee sounds whistle the ball is picked up and passed laterally to the end who

Crimson Hopes To Repeat Victory Over Ohio Eleven

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 3.—Indiana University football followers are looking back on the gridiron record of 1924 in venturing opinions on the Ohio State game at Columbus, Ohio, Saturday afternoon.

Last year the "Scrapplu" Hoosiers were doped to get a severe trouncing at the hands of the Buckeyes but the mighty band of Crimson warriors swept Ohio State off its feet in the first few minutes and playing a steady game of football battered Ohio 12 to 7. The game was regarded by the sport critics as the hardest fought affair on the Indiana schedule.

Indiana succeeded in making four more first downs than the Ohioans and broke their aerial attack to pieces, leaving the Buckeye players hopelessly lost.

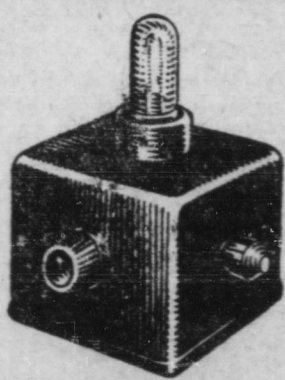

A few minutes after the game was under way Salmi shot a pass to Marks, this year's captain, who raced across the goal line for the first Hoosier points. The vaunted Ohio line was no barrier to "Larry" Marks, and he pounded through holes opened by the viciously charging forwards. A 55 yard run which paved the way for his second touchdown was Marks' best contribution of the afternoon. He eluded the entire Buckeye machine in making his longest sensational run. Klee slipped over for the only points scored by Ohio.

Marks and Salmi will be found again opposing the Buckeyes Saturday but several of their teammates of 1924 will be missing. Ohio no doubt will have a special defense worked up to check the tactics of these two brilliant Hoosiers.

To hold the team steady and on edge for the homecoming and stadium dedication game with Purdue here Nov. 21 and yet to defeat the Ohio State eleven, is the aim of the Crimson this week. Rose Poly is on the Indiana schedule for Nov. 14 but the Terre Haute school is not expected to bother Ingram's machine to any great extent.

The "Scrapplu" Hoosiers will leave for Columbus, O., Thursday evening, getting in the Ohio capital early Friday for a workout in the stadium that afternoon. About 30 players will make up the I. U. squad. It is probable that the Indiana R. O. T. C. band, which followed the team to Northwestern last week, will accompany the Hoosier gridders to Ohio. A special train carrying Hoosier rooters is also a possibility.

Tip On Whereabouts Of Martin Durkin Is False

Whiting, Ind., Nov. 3.—A squad of Chicago police, equipped with rifles, revolvers and steel shields, made an early morning visit to a house near here on a tip that Martin J. Durkin, notorious slayer, was in hiding here. They found this tip, like the scores of others received since Durkin fatally wounded a policeman last Wednesday, was false.

The police, in automobiles, drove to Whiting last night and made their way to within a short distance of the house, where they made a huge circle and waited for dawn to make their rush. Just at daylight one of the policemen who had crept close to the house, looked in and found it was vacant.

A search failed to reveal trace of an occupant.
