According to the Huntington Press the road from Huntington, east to the state line, is to be taken over by the state highway commission shortly after January 1st, provided the winter is not so severe that all the maintenance money on hand is required. The commission has repeatedly declared a desire to make this road a part of the system and at the meeting last week again declared they would do so just as soon as the funds will permit it.

In several counties in the state the board of commissioners working with the highway associations have arranged to use the money derived annually from the gasoline tax for the building of new hard surface roads. If the amount will permit the building of only a mile or two a year, it is something and in the course of a few years will mean a nice stretch of paved road, paid for. This means of course that there can be no reduction in the maintenance tax but it also means building new roads without the creating of a larger debt or the issuance of bonds and the payment of interest over a period of years. Doesn't sound so bad.

The sugar factory is making a desperate effort to keep going against the bad weather and asking the co-operation of every one to that end. Forced to close down once since the campaign opened, it looked Saturday as though another suspension would be necessary but the clear weather today makes it more possible that the 8,000 tons of beets in the county can be brought in and those in nearby counties shipped through. It means much to the county and to the community and every one is hoping the weather will permit the getting out and hauling of the beets.

A thousand men and women attended the memorial services held yesterday afternoon in the Catholic auditorium for the late Charles S. Niblick. It was a fitting tribute to a man who had given his life's energy for the community he loved and the genuine expressions of the speakers were reflected in the expression of the people who feel the keen loss of this estimable citizen. Mr. C. E. Bell presided and short talks were made by C. J. Lutz, representing the community; Judge J. T. Merryman, as a neighbor; French Quinn as a lodge man and John H. Carmody as a church man.

William Patterson of Blue Creek township gave a colt show a few weeks ago and it was a very successful event. A decade ago this would not have caused a ripple but the event given this year by Mr. Patterson attracted much local attention and the story has been told in newspaper and magazine accounts all over the country. Such enterprise is an excellent thing for its such events as this which makes one community better than another. We all like to see our work carry on and this is true in live stock, on the farm, in the shop, every where and every way.

J. Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, visited Washington the other day, called on the president and a few others and then gave out an interview in which he predicted that the next republican nominee for president will be either Hoover or Dawes and that Vic Donahay, of Ohio, will land over Al Smith of New York. That warms Arthur Brisbane up for he claims the far-advanced knowledge and has been predicting for months that Coolidge and Smith will battle it out. The truth is that neither of these prophets have any inside information. In this country things change rapidly and the nominees in 1928 depend largely on what transpires in the meantime, especially the year just preceding the conventions.

The round-up Saturday was a wonderful event considering the weather and it is the opinion of every one that if it had not been for the rain, the meeting would have been an eye-opener to many. Great interest has been manifested in the calf, corn and beet clubs in this county during the year. Boys and girls have taken a big part and encouraged by their parents and by the business men of the county have more than made good. The work has just started and should be carried on next year and the years following. If you talked to any of those who were in the clubs you are no doubt convinced of their earnestness. Its difficult to work and work and never have any one tell you how well you are doing it. In this club work opportunity is given to tell the boys and girls how their efforts are appreciated and it helps. Lets keep the club work going and growing.

Heavy Rains Bring Rivers To High Stages

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 9.—(United Press)—Heavy rains of the past ten days have brought Indiana rivers to high stages, the weather bureau reported today.

There is a possibility of the lower fork of White river reaching a dangerous stage near Edwardsport if the rains continue.

No immediate flood danger is in prospect on the rivers of the northern and central portions of the state.

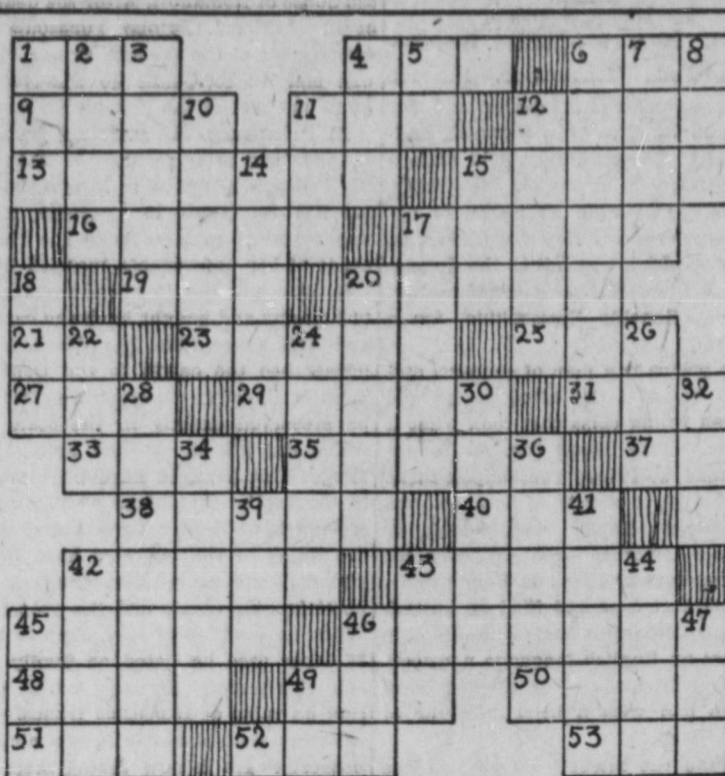

The rain for the first eight days of November was 2.20 inches, double the normal rainfall for that period.

Cold winds brought a low temperature of 27 for the night in central Indiana but warmer was predicted for tonight and Tuesday.

AN OLD ARGUMENT

When home I come with treasures rare,
Some volume old I long have sought,
My Nellie cries: "Well, I declare!
There's much we need you could have bought;
If I had only known that you
Had money just to fling away
I should have bought that lamp shade new
I wouldn't take the other day.
"Another picture!" she exclaims,
As I display my purchase fair,
"The walls are lined with ugly frames,
While I have not a thing to wear;
If you can buy such stuff as this
Don't talk economy to me!
I'm going to know the wondrous bliss
Of spending money foolishly!"
Now homeward I must trudge once more
And timidly my prize display,
And well I know behind the door—
Exactly what she's going to say.
She'll cry in scorn to lay me flat:
"More books that you will never read!
If you can buy such stuff as that,
I'm going to get some things I need."

FARMERS MAY GET THEIR PROPERTY AT CITY HALL

The pans, kettles, dishes, baskets and table cloths left at the gymnasium by farmers who furnished the big dinner to the Decatur business men last Saturday were taken to the city hall on Monroe street. Those who failed or forgot to take their articles with them are asked to call at the city hall and claim them. Several valuable articles were left at the gym and the owners may have them by claiming the property.

Monarchistic Efforts To Restore Monarchy In Bavaria Revealed

Berlin, Nov. 9.—(United Press)—Monarchistic efforts to restore the Wittelsbach monarchy in Bavaria were revealed today by the Frankfurter Zeitung on this, the seventh anniversary of the revolution, which marked the inception of a republic in Germany. The paper declared it had learned from excellent sources that General Moell and Baron Von Soden, confidantes of the Bavarian Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria, had been sounding out the Bavarian state government's attitude towards a possible "putsch" (coup), to put the Wittelsbach line in power in the southern state.

The general and the noblemen were said to have pointed out that unless the dynasty were restored now, the chances for a successful ascension of the throne would fade permanently. The Bavarian government is reported to have answered negatively.

The Frankfurter Zeitung, (democratic), enjoys an international reputation as a very well informed journal.

That the monarchists, especially of south Germany, have long dreamed of a return of the Wittelsbachs to the picturesque mountain state is well known. In this connection the ill-fated ed "beer cellar putsch" of Adolf Hitler, German fascist chieftain, and his former friend, General Ludendorff, is recalled.

This attempt at a monarchist coup two years ago was aimed rather at a general monarchy in Germany than at setting Crown Prince Rupprecht, but if it had succeeded, it would have meant the Hohenzollerns restored in Prussia and the Wittelsbachs in Bavaria.

Rising Temperatures Bring Relief To Midwest

Chicago, Nov. 9.—(United Press)—Rising temperatures today brought relief to the midwest following the heaviest snowfall of the season. Four deaths were attributed to the storm, and one in Springfield, Ill., and three in Chicago.

A show-blanket from two to ten inches in depth covered this forecast area today, following a storm of blizzard proportions Saturday and Sunday night. Wire communications suffered and trains were delayed.

The cold wave has swept eastward, the weather bureau stated.

Building And Loan Associations To Meet

Indianapolis, Nov. 9.—More than 400 representatives of as many Indiana cities will come to Indianapolis November 17 and 18 to attend the state convention of the Building and Loan Association of Indiana.

Arrangements for the biggest convention in the history of the association have been completed by E. C. Ashby, of Ladega, president of the organization.

Albert Stamp, of Indianapolis, will be the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the association to be held at the Severin Hotel, on Tuesday night, November 17.

Men of national reputation in Building and Loan affairs will attend the convention and deliver addresses at the business sessions.

Among these will be C. Clinton James, of Washington, D. C., president of the United States League of Building and Loan Associations who will speak at the business sessions of the convention on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Of interest to the Indiana members of the association will be the report of E. C. Guthell, chief clerk in the Building and Loan department of the State Banking commission.

Guthell's report will deal with the activities of the associations during the last year, and the increase in the number of associations in the state.

It also is probably that Guthell will urge the association to go on record favoring the establishment of a separate division for the conduct of affairs of the association.

Billy Sunday Fights Plan For Dance Hall At Winona

Winona Lake, Ind., Nov. 7.—Rev. Billy Sunday, nationally known evangelist, has declared war against promoters who have declared their intention of starting a dance hall near here.

"A man can do as he pleases about purchasing land in close proximity to the seat of the Winona Assembly but let him start a dance hall and he'll find a fight on his hands," Sunday declared.

Thousands Of Acres Of Wheat Land Not Seeded

Gilead, Ind., Nov. 9.—Thousands of acres of wheat land in Miami, Fulton, Starke, Kosciusko and Marshall counties will not be seeded this year.

The continued wet weather and the early cold spell has forced hundreds of farmers to abandon their plans for sowing wheat.

Indications are the oats acreage in northern Indiana also will run far short next year.

To dress one of the most celebrated film actresses for the screen is said to cost something like $175,000 a year.
