Indianapolis Man Tells of Recovery From Indigestion Torpid Liver and Constipation

Arthur Sauer

The TANLAC treatment took me off the ragged edge of a bad breakdown and gave me health and strength that make life and work a pleasure," is the striking statement of Arthur Sauer, 55 West Pleasant Run Drive, Indianapolis.

"About a year ago my stomach went wrong and then nearly everything seemed to go wrong with my health. Indigestion, loss of appetite, restless sleep, pains in the back and chest, headaches, torpid liver and constipation worked on me until my nerves gave way and I became pale and haggard and only a shadow of my former self.

"Since taking TANLAC I have gained eighteen pounds and my health is just about perfect. I eat everything sleep like a baby and feel fine. I certainly have good reasons for praising TANLAC."

TANLAC is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

In review of legislative achievements, the American Federation of Labor, stressing its nonpartisan political policy, has made public a list of 210 laws which it claims to have helped pass in the past 20 years in Congress.

During this period the greatest influence of labor in Congress was realized. It dated from the "Bill of Grievances" submitted to the Senate and House in March 1906.

Until 1919 the record shows, measures of interest to labor were being enacted with little emphasis upon legislation inimical to labor and its program.

In the 65th Congress from March 1917 until 1919, it was claimed 42 laws which organized labor favored were approved, while only four were defeated.

But the story of labor in connection with the 66th Congress shows 20 favorable bills enacted and 14 defeated.

In the 67th Congress 29 measures of interest to labor were passed and 23 defeated. In the last Congress the program of labor measures dwindled to 17 in which it was interested, but among these were the Isles of Pines Treaty, protection of Alaskan fisheries, bonus legislation and several District of Columbia measures affecting federal employees.

GANGLAND PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE

Chicago Been Baron Buried
In $10,000 Casket; Flowers Valued At $30,000

Chicago, Nov. 18.—(United Press)

With more display than is usually accorded a great national figure, gangland today turned out to pay last tribute to Sammy "Samoots" Amatuna, latest of Chicago's beer barons to die a death of violence.

The body, richly garbed, lay in a silvered bronze casket costing $10,000.

More than $30,000 worth of flowers were piled in the room where the body lay in state and overflowed into all the other rooms of the Amatuna home, and even into the homes of neighbors.

All last night and early today

thousands of men and women from all walks of life filed past the casket for a last look at the man who aspired to leadership of the Italian community and who was shot to death by rival gangsters

because he had encroached on their beer preserves.

In the crowd were his own followers, rival gangsters, who called a temporary truce, politicians, who respected his power as a vote getter, lawyers,

business men and miserably poor men and women who lived off the bounty

of "Samoots," the benevolent despot.

Varied floral pieces stood out in the veritable wilderness of flowers. One piece was in the form of a pedestal a foot square and eight feet high. There were anchors, flags, eagles, harps, and wheels, all done in the most expensive

towers. One huge piece, called, "Gates Ajar," because of its shape, bore the simple card "From the Boys at Taylor and Halstead street."

College Education Is Worth $70,000 Cash

Boston, Nov. 18.—(United Press)

The cash value of a college education is approximately $70,000, according to a statistical survey conducted by Dean Everett W. Lord of the College of Business Administration at Boston University.

This was made in connection with an investigation into the earning capacity of undergraduates at the college.

Of 43 graduates in 1924, who, as freshmen, were earning $20 a week for less, 13 had increased their salaries on the average of 68 percent when they received their degree, according to Dean Lord's report.

Fifteen had doubled their earnings; seven had tripled them; five had quadrupled them; two had increased them five-fold, and one was earning six times his weekly salary as a freshman when 1924 brought him his degree.

ties in South Dakota's most turbulent political campaign took the second step required by the complicated state primary law.

Under the Richards' Act, South Dakota campaigns last a full year. On November 10, precinct meetings are held to select delegates to county conventions which meet November 17 to send delegates to the state conventions meeting December 1st. From then on there are a series of new formalities leading up to the primary election March 23 and the election itself Nov. 2.

The main contest seems to be between the Republican and Farmer-Labor parties though this year the Democrats claim renewed hopes based on alterations within the ranks of their opponents.

that France regarded the submarine as the "soul" of the French naval system—a weapon effective but cheap for a poor nation.

"The French government," said the marine spokesman, "holds that the question of abolition of the submarine has not yet been brought up between the governments. If there is a desire to restrict submarines there should be convoked a conference similar to the Washington disarmament conference to discuss the problem."
