A very enjoyable time was had at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Bender southeast of this city, last Sunday, when relatives and friends gathered about noon with well filled baskets to celebrate the seventy-first birthday anniversary of Mr. Bender. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Will Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ellenberger and daughter, Bernadine, of Lima, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jones and daughters, Martha and Esther; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bender and daughter, Mary, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Davis and children, Velma, Voyle, Herald and Donald, of Troy, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Teple and children, Rosetta, Morton and Catherine, of Pleasant Mills, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Noll and children, Mary, Carl, Eloise, Jaunita and Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. Israel Bender, of this city.

Locals

Mrs. C. J. Vogeleweide, of this city, who underwent an operation last week at the St. Joseph hospital, Fort Wayne, continues to get along nicely and reports from her are very encouraging.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving, the day for family reunions and big dinners. As has been the custom, the Daily Democrat will make a special effort to publish the grocery, food and meat advertisements on Tuesday and those who wish to carry advertisements in this paper are kindly requested to get copy to us not later than Monday.

Mrs. John Carmody is confined to her home on account of illness.

Carl Cue and Walter Shedd of Indianapolis were here last evening talking up the Indianapolis Herald, a new democratic daily which is to be launched in Indianapolis the first of the year. They have financed the proposition and are planning for a 50,000 subscription list and declare the outlook is good.

W. A. Klepper made a business visit to Plymouth, Indiana this morning.

Football fans from here are planning to see the games Saturday, many going to South Bend for the Notre Dame vs. Northwestern game, others to Bloomington for the Indiana vs. Purdue annual scrap and another bunch to Columbus for the Ohio vs. Illinois battle in which the famous "Red" Grange will make his last appearance.

You don't have to talk a Florida knocker very long to find out that he can't get off to go down there. There's already too much delay and fiddling around in criminal cases to time turns on the white light of truth.—Abe Martin, Indianapolis News.

Mrs. Clarence Herber returned to Fort Wayne today after a short visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Harting.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chalmers are moving from this city to Fort Wayne, where they will operate an eating house. Mr. Chalmers was formerly owner of a taxi line.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Pumphrey and Dr. and Mrs. F. I. Jatterson and Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Coverdale will attend the Imperial Potentate Ball at the New Shrine Temple at Fort Wayne tonight. Mr. Pumphrey and Dr. Patterson, ambassadors from this city, will attend the dedication this afternoon.

A. D. Hunsicker was a business visitor in Fort Wayne this morning.

Mrs. E. S. Christen, of north of the city, was a shopper here this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schulte spent the afternoon in Fort Wayne visiting with friends.

R. D. Myers attended the dedication of the New Shrine Temple at Fort Wayne this afternoon.

DISTRICT ROTARY GOVERNOR COMING

the annual Father and Son night program will be held by the local club. The Rev. Cecil Smith, pastor of the United Brethren church, will deliver a talk and the sons of the Rotarians will be the special guests of the club.

EIGHT CHURCHES HOLD FATHER AND SON BANQUETS

gave interesting addresses.

Music was furnished by those present and a good time was enjoyed by both fathers and sons.

Methodist Church

One hundred and sixty fathers and sons attended the annual father and son banquet at the Methodist church last night. After the banquet the interesting program was given in the banquet room. A challenge to the fathers was given by Doyle Johnson and Avon Buck responded for the dads. D. N. Erwin acted as chairman of the meeting.

The Rev. Somerville Light also gave an inspirational talk for both dads and sons. W. F. Beery had charge of the music and several songs were sung by those attending. The banquet was served by the Epworth League girls.

Baptist Church

Fifty fathers and sons attended the annual banquet at the Baptist church last evening and all were well pleased with the fine program that had been arranged for them. H. M. Schroll spoke of "A Father's Challenge To His Son," and William Bell represented the boys in a response. Ralph Kenworthy, Charles Hite, Ernest Lake Don Miller, Melvin Thomas and Vaughn Hilyard spoke on different phases of the subject.

The Rev. Mr. Miller, pastor of the Baptist church, spoke for the first time since his recent illness. His talk was on "Religious Inheritance," and was appreciated by those present.

Church of God

A large number of members of the Church of God gathered at the church last night in observance of the Father and Son movement held simultaneously in all Protestant churches of Decatur last night. The Rev. E. A. Ball gave the first address of the evening.

W. W. Hawkins represented the fathers at the meeting by giving a short talk and his son, Herbert, responded for the boys. Clarence Strickler then gave a reading which was enjoyed by all. John Chilcote talked on "The Handwriting On The Wall." Miss Dollie Cook played an instrumental solo.

A large Bible was presented by the pastor to Gilbert Strickler as an award for bringing the largest number of boys to the meeting. He brought 18 as his guests.

Evangelical Church

A large number of fathers and sons attended the annual banquet at the Evangelical church. Several inspirational talks were given by both the fathers and sons after the banquet.

L. L. Baumgartner presided at the meeting. The Rev. R. W. Loose, Paul Spuhler, John Gage, Robert Gerard and C. E. Hocker were among those who gave short and interesting talks. The program was thoroughly enjoyed.

United Brethren Church

About 75 fathers and sons gathered at the United Brethren church last night at 8:30 o'clock and had a real "chummy" time. Fathers and Sons were pals last night. An interesting program, directed by L. L. Merryman, brought forth short speeches (and they were not the wood shed kind either) from the following: B. C. Hoagland, Jesse Hunter, O. P. Mills, Evan Kek, Frank Baker, Albert Chronister, and the Rev. C. R. Smith. Readings were given by Glen Hurst and Vernon Hill.

A most delightful musical program was also a feature, with John Walters in a beautiful solo, and the Calvary Evangelical quartet, composed of Otis Shifferley, Ivan Shifferley, James Dar, John Harmon and with Artie Jackson at the piano, brought a couple numbers that were most pleasing. Then there was an extraordinary duet by Harold Mamma and R. R. Jackson. The person who was to speak on Faithfulness failed to come, and the person that had said he would respond on "Truthfulness" could not be found, and for some reason, Roy Mamma was too busy eating oysters that he did not have the courage to respond to his previous assigned subject, "Courage."

It was a good time to get acquainted, and the oyster supper that Cecil Harvey looked after was enjoyed by the dads and lads, and after devotions and the song, "Bless Be The Tie That Binds," many were made to say, "Why can't we have more of these kind of meetings?"

Seven Hunters Get 95 Rabbits And 37 Quails In Two Days

Once in a while someone springs a good fish story and it's true. Here's one that is guaranteed by Willis Fanner to be a 14-karat true fish story, minus the fish.

Heber Fanner, a son of Willis Fanner, and six other young men residing at Evansville, Indiana, invaded the nearby woods in that section of Indiana last week for two days. They had two rabbit dogs and one bird dog and each man was armed with a shot-gun and shells.

After the two-day hunt, the men returned with 95 rabbits and 37 quail. The story is vouched for by Mr. Fanner, who incidentally stated that there had been no official notice published as yet relative to the quail season.

The quail season opened in Indiana November 10 and will remain in force for several weeks. Several Adams county hunters have been taking advantage of the season and have reported good catches.

Mrs. C. E. Peterson and Mrs. John Everett were visitors in Fort Wayne today.

Mrs. A. E. Stalter and son, Jimmy, of Fortnada, are the guests of relatives here for a few days.

Mrs. C. N. Smith returned to her home in Detroit, after a few days visit with her mother, Mrs. C. R. Hammell and other relatives here.

Save The Beet Crop

Adams county has produced this year from the standpoint of tonnage what promises to be one of the best beet crops in its history. Due to the unusual weather conditions encountered so far, the crop is only about half harvested.

The season is growing late and it is for this reason WE APPEAL TO ALL FOR HELP AT THIS TIME. A little co-operation on the part of all will save this big crop.

We particularly appeal to those who have already succeeded in harvesting their crop to lend a day or two to your neighbor who is not so fortunate. Any one who lives near a man who has beets will show a real neighborly kindness by offering to help.

We recommend particularly that the beets be lifted and piled in the field so that the laborers can top them should the weather freeze.

In places where the fields are TOO WET to use a lifter, we suggest that you use topping knives equipped with a hook that the beets may be pulled out of the ground. One grower with a wet field has already piled half his crop in this manner to our knowledge. Topping knives can be supplied on short notice.

Laborers are arriving daily to assist in saving the crop. Wherever we can assist, feel at liberty to call upon us.
