Representative Vestal Bags Wild Turkeys And Other Game In Virginia

Washington, Nov. 24. — Imitating the early day pioneer, Representative Albert H. Vestal put gun on shoulder and went to the woods to get his Thanksgiving turkey. He bagged two wild turkeys on a hunting trip to the wilderness of King George county, Virginia. He also got squirrel, quail and rabbits.

Last night several of the friends of Representative and Mrs. Vestal feasted on the wild game at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner given in their apartment at the Hotel Roosevelt. Their guests included Representative and Mrs. Dick Elliott, Representative and Mrs. Fred S. Purcell, Judge and Mrs. Oscar E. Bland and Everett Sanders, secretary to the president, and Miss Vivian Vestal.

Wild turkey are fast disappearing and not plentiful, so Mr. Vestal is receiving the congratulations of local huntsmen.

Woman's Quick Wit Routes Five Thieves

Mexico City, Nov. 24. — (United Press)—Five thieves were routed by Mrs. R. R. Wilson, wife of an American contractor here through the ingenious use of a phonograph.

Mrs. Wilson, who lives in an isolated section of the city, was alone late at night when, to her alarm she heard footsteps outside. Peering from the window she discerned five men leap the wall enclosing the grounds and secret themselves in the shrubbery.

Without a telephone and separated from her nearest neighbor by several hundred yards, Mrs. Wilson, at first was at a loss what to do. Then she remembered her phonograph.

A moment later a strident male voice sounded through the house. The thieves took flight immediately.

NOTICE OF COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

Woman Loses Teeth Seeking Lost Beads

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 24.—(United Press)—A string of pearl beads caused Mrs. G. B. Newman of this city about as bad a half hour as ever the ill-omened Hope diamond caused its unfortunate owners.

The string caught on the door as she was leaving the City Power and Light Company offices, and the pearls were strewn over the sidewalk. In her anxiety to retrieve the beads she placed her handbag on the running board of an automobile parked at the curb. While Mrs. Newman was picking up beads the owner of the car drove off.

The bag contained her false teeth and the key to her home so that pending its recovery she could neither eat nor sleep.

Settle Re-elected Head Of State Farm Bureau

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—(United Press)—W. H. Settle, of Petroleum, today headed the Indiana Farm Bureau federation for a fourth term as president.

Other officers elected at yesterday's session of the convention were Lewis Taylor, of Nebraska, who succeeded Scott Meiks, of Shelbyville, as vice president, and Mrs. G. W. Sewell, Otterbein, re-elected second vice president.

That the bureau is planning a determined drive to have the legislature enact a state income tax law was developed following an address by Charles Ross, tax commissioner from Wisconsin who urged such action.

The session will close with the annual banquet of the organization tonight.

Dennis Miller Dies At Home In Huntington

Dennis, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller, of Huntington, died Monday morning. His death is believed to have been caused from a diseased tooth or diseased tonsils although the exact cause has not been learned here. Thanksgiving

There are many things to be thankful for if you stop to think over the year that has passed. There is something wrong with the man that can't find something to be thankful for.

This bank is thankful for its friends and the many delightful and pleasant business relations it has had during the year—and with the hope that it will continue for all time to come.
