Three Hurt When Nickel Plate Engine Explodes

Frankfort, Ind., Dec. 1.—Three trainmen were injured Sunday when the crowplate of the boiler of a locomotive on the Cloverleaf division of the Nickel Plate railroad, exploded near Jefferson, five miles west of Frankfort. The train, a freight, was badly wrecked and 600 feet of track were torn up.
A state boiler inspector reported that evidently the water supply had run low in the boiler. The force of the explosion was downward, forcing the grates of the locomotive into the roadbed and overturning the engine.
Al Schnader, engineer, was buried beneath the wreckage and was rescued by persons who dug him from the ground. He suffered a fractured leg. James Nolan, brakeman, was severely scalded, G. B. McLain, fireman, suffered three broken ribs.
All the injured live in Frankfort. Ambulances from this city were called and the men were taken to the Clinton County Hospital.
The loss will be thousands of dollars. Sixteen cars loaded with merchandise were wrecked and the locomotive was demolished. Rails a short distance from the explosion were said to have been buried in the ground.

More Than 700,000 Boys And Girls At Stock Show

Chicago, Dec. 1.—(United Press)—There is no danger of the American farm becoming depopulated if representatives of more than 700,000 boys and girls attending the 26th annual international livestock exposition here are to be taken as a criterion, show officials held.
Approximately 12,000 boys and girls here make the claim that 85 per cent of the 700,000 will remain on the farm. Fifteen thousand horse show fans forgot horses for a moment, last night while they honored these young tillers of the soil.
The feature event of the evening—the single horse class—of the horse show, was won by Otto W. Lehmann's Princess Mary.
A Los Angeles entry, Nancy Highland, belonging to Miss Maude Fawn Banks, won the honors in the three-gaited saddle horse class.
E. A. Stuart, of Seattle, Wash., took first prize in the riding team class with Plume's Pride and Brilliant Nan.

Salary Cutting Squabble Is Further Complicated

Indianapolis, Dec. 1.—The squabble over the salary slashes ordered by the state finance committee was further complicated today as the result of a suit seeking to prevent Auditor of State Lewis Bowman from issuing salary warrants.
The suit was brought in the Marion circuit court by L. H. Patterson, Indianapolis businessman, as a taxpayer.
Patterson seeks to prevent Bowman from issuing warrants for salaries in excess of the amounts ordered by the state finance committee.
Attorney General Gilliom has ruled the finance committee was without power to order reductions in the salaries of the public service commission members.
In view of this stand Samuel Artman and Clyde H. Jones yesterday refused to accept checks for their November salary, drawn at the reduced figure.
Bowman said he had not been advised of the suit instituted in circuit court here and would not determine upon a plan of action until he had received official notification.
It is believed the suit was brought as a test case to determine the actual power of the finance committee, although Patterson denied that he acted on the request of members of the committee.
