Are you set for the big Alumni banquet on the afternoon and evening of the 28th? Sounds like its going to be a real event.

Just another week in which to subscribe your share of the Good Fellow fund, that every boy and girl in this city and community may be made happy for Christmas day.

Some of the air enthusiasts express many fears because France has 2,500 flight aeroplanes, but they are horrified when the United States navy assays a flight from San Francisco to Honolulu. Those French planes would have to fly a longer distance to get to the United States.—Huntington Herald.

The very handsome sum of a quarter million dollars was paid out here yesterday for beets and this is but a portion of the money annually expended here for this purpose, besides a large pay roll for labor. The sugar company is a real institution, a mighty good one for the community and is one we can all well afford to support in every way we can.

A Louisville man is advertising for dogs for which he offers $2 each plus transportation. There may be more truth in the "hot dog" term than we imagine. What makes it look more suspicious is that the ad does not specify any particular breed, just so it is a dog, but must weigh fifteen pounds or more.—Brownstown Banner.

With due ceremony, a delicious banquet and a delightful program, afternoon and evening, the new Elk's home was dedicated yesterday. The crowd was large and the interest excellent and those in charge are to be congratulated. The home is a great addition to the social life in this community and is being enjoyed to the limit by the members of the great benevolent order.

Old Elephant Rock is in and hundreds of people have already looked the gigantic rock over. It will be mounted in due time and will be the center of a decorated plat in the courthouse yard. The rock is to be dedicated to Mrs. Porter, whose nature works have been read around the world, a fine thing to do and the finer because it was done by the school children of Adams county.

Well, it begins to look like a federal building for Decatur and we are sure its announcement will be a fine Christmas gift, if we don't get lost in the shuffle, some where down the line. Mr. Avon Burk, president of the Decatur Industrial Association, has been in communication with various members of the house and senate and deserves credit for his assistance in the project. The government owns one of the best lots in the city, opposite the library and court house and it is splendid that the proposal is for a $125,000 building which will be appropriate to the location and will take care of the government needs here for some time to come. If this comes we will forgive them for leaving us to the last.

The Indiana Wheat Growers Association has started separate suits in the Elkhart county circuit court to restrain Jacob S. Walters and Henry Mishler, farmers residing near Nap-panee, from selling their 1925 wheat crops to other buyers. They are under contract to deliver their wheat to a warehouse in Nappanee, but they refused to fulfill the contract. The judge issued a restraining order and the validity of the contract between the association and the two farmers will be fought out in court. An effort will be made to prove that such contracts are not binding, but pooling of crops has come to be quite common among farmers, although it does not always work out satisfactorily to all the members. — Columbia

Story Of Miraculous Escape Of Two Men In Accident At Peterson, Is Told

George Squires, who had a miraculous escape from death Monday when his Ford sedan was demolished at the Nickel Plate railroad crossing in Peterson, today gave the following report of the accident:

"The accident happened at exactly 12:45 o'clock. We, Charles Arnold and myself, left the store at Peterson, a minute before. I was in the front seat, driving, and Arnold in the rear seat. Neither of us heard the train, a fast Nickel Plate freight, No. 41.
Just as we reached the track, I saw the train which was right on us. I whirled the car to the west, the direction the train was moving, but a freight car in the way, shut us in with one wheel of the car on the track.
The pilot struck my car just back of my seat and crushed the car. My foot was caught in the clutch and I thought it was the end of time. I was thrown out, my head resting at the end of one of the ties and the car wreckage, or a part of it, nearby was being brushed by the cars as they passed. I was afraid I would be pulled under the train, but finally, by a frantic effort, I managed to arise and get out of the way, the train stopping after thirty cars had passed.
Arnold, who was in the rear seat, was thrown with that part of the car, rolled around like a ball, but did not receive a scratch. My left leg was sprained at the ankle and my left arm lacerated and I know I went through something, but am thankful to be alive."

The insurance on Mr. Squire's car lapsed about a week ago.

Producing good crops. Mr. Ripley called attention to the fact that the beans should be "cross-harrowed" with a spike-toothed harrow when 3 or 4 inches high, in order to kill small weeds. He stated this should be done during the heat of the day, when the sun is bright and hot, the resulting toughness of the small plants making injury more difficult under such conditions.

This evening, Mr. Beeson will again be on the program, using as his subject, "Alfalfa—The Dairy-

Tomorrow forenoon, G. A. Wil-Associations in Indiana will arrive in the county and in the afternoon will address those attending the Feeding School, using as his subject, "The Treatment of Cows."
