students are home for their vacations and several former Decatur citizens have returned to spend the Christmas season with their relatives and to attend the alumni meeting of Decatur high school.

Continued cold weather and snow is predicted for northern Indiana for the next several days and prospects for a white Christmas are good. Church programs and Christmas entertainments will be held at various times this week, and the community Christmas tree program on Liberty Way will be held Christmas eve. The complete program for the Community Christmas celebration will be announced later this week.

Programs in Churches
 Christmas week opened with the churches giving pageants and Christmas programs at the Sunday services.

Large congregations attended the services in the different churches and appropriate programs were held. Yesterday, at the Christian, Reformed, Church of God, Baptist, Evangelical and Methodist churches, special programs were given at the morning and evening services. Christmas talks and music were given during the services and on Thursday evening a special Christmas service will be held at the Zion Lutheran and Presbyterian churches in this city.

Christmas Program At Mt. Pleasant Church

A Christmas program of recitations and exercises will be given at the Mt. Pleasant church, Wednesday evening, at 7:45 o'clock. A cantata, "The Babe of Bethlehem," will also be given. The public is invited to attend.

Extra Force Delivering Parcel Post Packages

An additional delivery force was added this morning to the one already delivering parcels for the local post office. An overflow of Christmas packages and letters caused the local force to work overtime. There will be no delivery of mail in the city or county Christmas day and the Decatur post office will make all efforts possible to deliver all Christmas packages by late Wednesday night.
