MARKET REPORTS GIVES OUTLOOK ON AGRICULTURE

Daily Report Of Local And Foreign Markets

OPENING GRAIN REVIEW

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(United Press)—There was little change in opening grain prices on the Chicago board of trade today due to pre-holiday dullness. There was scattered buying and a fractional advance in December old variety and May new by commission houses. Slight recessions were made in other options.

The corn trade was evenly divided. Commission houses accepted offers from heavily supplied traders creating a firm undertone. Oats were inclined to easiness without features. Provisions trade was on a steady basis.

CORRECTION

Our attention is called by Nickle Plate representatives to the statement in the story published about the collision of Fred Schulte's car with a freight train, that the trainmen did not know about the accident and did not stop the train. This was an error. The train was stopped and the accident was duly reported.

New President Of Farm Bureau Says Industry Is Not Prosperous

Chicago, Dec. 22.—(United Press)—Agriculture is far from the high state of prosperity so generally ascribed to it, Sam H. Thompson, newly elected president of the American Bureau of Farm Economics declared today in an interview with the United Press on the agricultural outlook for 1926.

There was improvement in 1925, but this fell short of general agricultural prosperity, Thompson said. "Agriculture is not receiving a fair share of the national income," he declared.

Life Is Unbalanced
"Riding out in the country, one sees unpainted buildings, wearing down the capital plant and equipments," Thompson continued. "That means one thing — an unbalanced life. Over one-half of the farm sales in Illinois last year were forced sales."

"A similar report comes from Iowa. However, there has been some improvement. There has been an increase in the price of certain commodities. In some sections there has been quite a large increase over last year."

"Taking the situation nationally, reports at the national headquarters of the farm bureau indicate that the crop year from July, 1925, to June, 1926, will show some slight improvement over the past year. Our reports indicate that the agricultural income in 25 states will show improvement. Eleven states will be about the same as last year, while twelve states will show a decrease over the past year. The brightest promise for the coming year seems to be in Maine, Mississippi, Louisiana and Idaho."

"In Maine, the potato growers will realize a large gain over last year. In Louisiana, sugar cane and cotton, and in Mississippi cotton offers promise of a larger income to farmers. The Idaho people are offered an increase through improvement of live stock prices. "In the central states, 1926 offers very little promise. The Illinois farmer will get very little, if any, more than last year. In Minnesota, 1926 does not promise as much as 1925. Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and Indiana will show some slight improvement. The dairy outlook and the improvement of livestock income will give the farmers of these states a little more money than they had last year."

"A similar report comes from Iowa. However, there has been some improvement. There has been an increase in the price of certain commodities. In some sections there has been quite a large increase over last year."
