

Modern Marriage Is
"Notorious Failure"
Says Noted Novelist

By Lincoln Garber
U. P. Staff Correspondent

Los Angeles, Dec. 24. — (United Press)—The "notorious failure" of modern marriage is causing a gradual but sure demise of this ancient social institution, according to Joseph Hergesheimer, noted novelist.

"Marriage is fundamentally dishonest," declared the writer. "Modern wives and husbands are notorious cheaters, the exceptions only proving the practice."

The ordinary husband is a "jackass," asserts the author, and "women no longer have to endure him."

"Men are natural polygamists," he continued. "There's no use pretending they are monogamists. And they're such ridiculous liars about it."

"The wives used to shut their eyes to the lies and pretend to believe them, but nowadays they don't have to."

"Consequently, even women are getting away from monogamy. It was sort of wished on them in the first place, I guess."

Hergesheimer declared marriage would be an obsolete relic of the social order within the next two or three generations if the present trend continues.

The novelist came to Los Angeles to write for the movies. While "most men are fools," the women are getting their social patterns from the novels and movies, he maintains.

"Women are copying all the wrong things in the novels and the movies," he continued. "They haven't discrimination. They wear fashions which are absurd, they adopt customs which they don't understand, and they run their households beyond their means."

"Women are not honest in their marital responsibilities. They are slaves to fashion and to customs they think are socially correct."

"They have absolutely no conception of the fact that real aristocracy comes from a complete freedom of mind and action."

The average husband of today sees twice as much of his secretary or his stenographer as he does of his wife. When he and his wife are together, the husband usually stalks half a block ahead of his wife like an Indian ashamed of his squaw, or they sit in silence without an attempt to talk.

"Our social pattern is breaking down. Our standards are all wrong in America. What we need is simplicity."

Stop That Backache!

Many Decatur Folks Have Found the Way.

Is a dull, nerve-racking backache wearing you out? Do you feel older and slower than you should? Are you tired, weak and nervous; find it impossible to be happy, or enjoy the good times around you? Then there's something wrong and likely it's your kidneys. Why not get at the cause? Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Your neighbors recommend Doan's. Read what this Decatur resident says:

Mrs. E. A. Mann, 1003 W. Monroe St., says: "My kidneys were out of order and never acted regularly. Severe Backaches made it hard for me to do my housework. I also had nervous headaches. Doan's Pills from the Holthouse Drug Co., relieved me of the backache and kidney complaint." (Statement given October 23, 1920.)

On June 7, 1924 Mrs. Mann said: "I am glad to recommend Doan's again for they have always rid me of kidney trouble."

THE EQUINOX MYTH

Philadelphia Record.—Although it should not be necessary to repeat this story over and over again, the Nature Magazine has been at pains to explain at considerable length that meteorology does not recognize any such things as the "equinoctial storm," which some writers have erroneously blamed for the catastrophe of the Shenandoah.

It is true that at the time of the equinox (in March and September) storms may be frequent or more severe at that time than many other. But there is no reason why they should be more frequent or more severe at that time than any other. There was a time, sixteen years ago.

however, when the general public thoroughly believed in equinoctial storms, and thus became easy prey to such mountebanks as the "Prophet" Wiggin, who in the early 80's fixed upon the 21st or 22d of March for the appearance of terrific storms presaging the end of the world. There are many men and women still living who remember that the storms actually came as predicted—but the end of the world did not.

Mrs. James Gatehouse, winner of the Australian women's golf championship this year, first won the title at any other. There was a time, sixteen years ago.
