COURT HOUSE

Trial Resumed Today

The trial of the case of Levi W.
Kimmell vs. the Bank of Poneto, which has been in recess since last Friday evening, was resumed in circuit court this morning. Several persons from whom Mr. Kimmell had purchased materials used in his work as a contractor during the years from 1921 to 1925, were on the witness stand this morning as witnesses for the defense. Mr.
Kimmell was called to the stand this afternoon and questioned by the defense in regard to his pay rolls during the period above named. Mr. Kimmell is suing the bank for $30,000, which he alleges is due him on deposits.

Fined $5 And Costs

In the case of the state vs. John J.
Hendricks, for illegal possession of a furbearing animal, the defendant appeared in court this morning and entered a plea of guilty. He was fined $5 and costs.

Stage Set For Annual Amateur Net Tourney

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 1. — The stage is now set for the Eighth Annual Indiana Amateur Independent Basket Ball Championship, when the Eighth Amateur Independent Basket Ball Championship will be decided in a "championship way." Wayne Emmelmann, of this city, who is sponsoring the state wide movement predicts that again this year, more than five hundred amateur quintets will play in the thirty sectional meets over the state.
Thirty sectional tournaments will be played and the winners of these sectional tourneys will then play on the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. floor to decide the title.

The twenty-eight sectional meets already arranged are Indianapolis, Sway-zee, Marshall, Fishers, Elkhart, Ed-wardsport, Paoli, Fairbanks, Culver, Jefferson, Auburn, Pierceton, Kentland, Rising Sun, Advance, Miami, New Augusta, Greensburg, Warren, Morgantown, Corydon, Yorktown, Hamlet, Freedom, Gary, Albany, Sulphur Springs, and Fort Harrison. The other two sectional meets will be announced the latter part of the week.
The annual classic has proven very popular because it has given the ex-high school players an honor to play for as when he was a member of the school team. In eight years time the organization has grown from twenty teams to over five hundred.

The teams have ten days to get their entry blanks in the office at Indianapolis and teams that have not received entry blanks are requested to write at once to Wayne Emmelmann, 234 K. of P. Building, at Indianapolis.

Farmer Writes Obscene Language In Note To Child's Teacher; Fined Goshen, Ind., Feb. 1. — (United Press)—Abe Yoder, wealthy Middlebury farmer, decided today it does not pay to fool with school teachers.

Yoder sent a note to W. H. Babb, regarding his child's absence from school. The teacher objected to the language in the note and had Yoder arrested.

The farmer paid a fine of $30 for circulating obscene literature.

Seven I. U. Students Named R. O. T. C. Officers

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 1. — (United Press).—Seven Indiana University students have been appointed field and staff officers in the local R. O.
T. C. unit by Major Crea, commandant, it was announced today.

Appointments include:
L. W. Shumaker, Butler, cadet colonel; E. I. Hehr, Mishawaka, lieutenant colonel; H. F. Krentler, Washington, major; G. W. Market, South Bend, major; F. Stimson, Gary, regimental captain adjutant.

Indianapolis — "The best buy on the New York market is a ticket back to Indiana," Homer McKee, advertising man, declared in a banquet address here.

Gary — Floyd Williams, mayor-elect, has set his foot down on suggestions for an elaborate ceremony when he takes oath of office Monday. He will go to the city hall at noon, take the oath and start work immediately.
