USE OF NAME "KLAN" LIMITED BY JUDGE SLICK

Federal Judge Restraints Independent Organization From Use Of Title

ATLANTA ORDER WINS INJUNCTION

South Bend, Ind., Mar. 31.—(United Press)—Judge Thomas Slick in federal court here today granted a permanent injunction to restrain the Independent Klan of America, with headquarters at Muncie, Ind., from use of the name "Klan."

The injunction was sought by the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, of Atlanta, Ga., which alleged that the independent organization was attempting to steal its name.

Judge Slick held that the Atlanta organization through prior use of the name of the Klan had exclusive right to the name.

Much confusion in membership of the two organizations has resulted from the similarity of names, Judge Slick declared in ordering the Klan organization to change its name.

He said it was evident the independent order had sought to profit by the nation-wide popularity attached to the Atlanta order.

The Atlanta Klan organization in its injunction suit also demanded $500,000 damages from the independent Klan but no damages were awarded by Judge Slick.

Opposition between the national Klan organization and a group of Indiana Klansmen resulted in formation of the independent order at Muncie.

The independent order at first went under the name of the Klan of the North and then assumed the name of the Independent Klan of America.

Hearing on the injunction petition was held by Judge Slick in Indiana last fall.

SALES OF MALT CAN BE HALTED BY THE STATES

New Malt Extract Not Intoxicating And Not Drinkable, Chemist Holds

BREWERS SAY MALT IS NOT A BEVERAGE

By Herbert Little.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Mar. 31.—With many communities protesting—or rejoicing as the case may be—over the treasury's permission to two breweries to market medicinal 3.75 per cent. malt extract, it developed at the treasury today that sales of Sherry and Port wine, especially treated for seasoning and medicinal purposes is already permitted to drug stores and grocers.

But, according to information given in the United Press by government sources, the states themselves can halt these malt and wine sales if they choose. Moreover, it was stated that neither the malt nor the wines are drinkable.

The new malt extract is not a beer and is not intoxicating Dr. J. E. Doran, chief prohibition chemist, told the United Press today.

"The product is a heavy preparation of malted barley containing 25 per cent. solids," he said. "The extract has a bitterish taste something of a cross between beer and molasses but it certainly does not taste like beer."

The government ruling providing for "beer tonic" will bring little cheer to the arid beer drinkers of the country.

It has several large sized lemons on now, many small ones and innumerable blossoms and has produced fruit several years. Jim is sure if he had enough trees and the room to take care of them, he would have no trouble in marketing the fruit and so are those who saw the sample, who declared it to be as fine a specimen of lemon as they have ever seen.

WARN PUBLIC TO KEEP OFF GRASS

Trespass Law May Be Restored to Protect Lawn Around Court House

A warning was issued today that the trespass law would be restored to persons who did not discontinu their habit of walking on the court house lawn. Mat Breiner, custodian, has spent considerable time in beautifying the lawn and he stated today that every spring he is confronted with the problem of having people, both old and young, using the lawn as a loafing ground and play-ground.

He stated that he was interested in the plan to beautify the court house lawn, but that it would be impossible to do so unless everyone cooperated with him.

Police officers warned persons and inferred that the trespass fine would be used if necessary. There are several walks, leading to and from the court house, and officers urge that persons use these walks rather than make their own paths across the grass and through the shrubbery.

COALITION IN CONGRESS IS BROKEN TODAY

Combine Of Republicans And Democrats Splits Over Italian Debt Plan

KLAN OPPOSITION HAS ITS EFFECT

Washington, Mar. 31.—(United Press)—The coalition of republicans and democrats which has dominated this session of congress, broke into pieces today and it appeared not unlikely that the split would mean indefinite postponement of the $2,045,000,000 Italian debt settlement.

A poll conducted by a senator favoring the settlement, indicated that the opposition has a fundamental strength of 45 votes to refer the matter to the finance committee—a sidetrack on which it would stand at least until the next session of congress.

Polls taken by the United Press reveal a possible strength of fifty votes to refer the issue just exactly two more than is necessary.

Although no official communications from authorities of the Ku Klux Klan have yet been placed into the record, both sides admit that the Klan opposition to the settlement has had its effects.

Seven Deaths Result From Storms Which Are General Over Wide Area

SNOW FALL RANGES FROM 4 TO 7 INCHES

Chicago, Mar. 31.—(United Press)—The middlewest today continued in the grip of an unseasonable blizzard which already has resulted in seven lives lost and a score of accidents.

Three persons were killed in Chicago in accidents while four were killed in Wisconsin, owing to the blinding snow which prevented clear vision while motoring.

The entire midwestern region from the mountains to the Ohio, and from the lakes south today is blanketed white with snow and there will be no relief for the next 24 hours, the weather bureau reported. Snow fall in the region during the past 24 hours ranged between 4 and 7 inches.

In Chicago today the driving snow storm had changed to rain, but the United States weather bureau reported that snow accompanied by high winds would continue for the next 24 hours. The entire city is blanketed and drifted high and more than 500 workmen rounded up by the city to fight the mounds of snow which block the streets.

The three persons killed here indirectly by the storm were in motor car accidents. This was in addition to a crash between two "L" trains last night in which a score of passengers were injured, but none seriously.

CHANGE MADE IN U. S. MAIL ROUTES

Recent Change In System In Adams County Becomes Effective Tomorrow

The change made recently in the rural free delivery system in Adams county, by the Postoffice department, will become effective tomorrow, April 1. In the change, six routes, including one out of the Decatur office, the Pleasant Mills and Magley routes and one at Monroe, Berne and Geneva, will be dispensed with and consolidated with the Decatur, Monroe, Berne and Geneva routes.

In the consolidation, six carriers will lose their jobs, namely Howard Davis, of the Pleasant Mills route; Harry Bauer, of the Magley route; Howard Mauler, of Decatur route ten; Enos O. Osterman, of Monroe route one; Rawley A. Sipe, of Berne route two, and William H. Bradford, of Geneva route three. The consolidation also effects several hundred rural patrons. The patrons on the Pleasant Mills and Magley rural route will, after today, receive their mail out of the Decatur office. The ten routes out of the Decatur office will be merged into nine, giving the carriers an average of about 140 patrons on the route.

With the consolidation of the six routes, there will be only seventeen rural routes in Adams county. The patrons of the Magley and Pleasant Mills offices who call for their mail at the postoffice at these two places will not be affected by the change.

The Daily Democrat has revised its mailing list to correspond with the changes, several hundred patrons of the paper being transferred to different routes. The changes have been made for tonight's papers and in case an error was made, the publishers kindly ask the subscriber to notify this office and the correction will be made.
