MARKET REPORTS

Daily Report Of Local And Foreign Markets

OPENING GRAIN REVIEW

Chicago, April 5.—(United Press.)—Grain prices opened irregular on the Chicago board of trade today.

Wheat opened fractionally lower in all deliveries. At the beginning of the session local traders were in a quandary as to how to handle May wheat. Many close observers say that there is less short holding in this delivery than is believed generally. This delivery more than any other has kept operators on edge throughout the present movement. Today's statistics are expected to be moderately bullish with a good sized decrease in the visible supply and Chicago stocks.

Corn opened 1-8c higher in the May and September deliveries but unchanged in the July. This grain lacks incentive to induce purchasing.

Oats opened practically higher in the July and September deliveries but unchanged in the May. This grain is devoid of features and lacking in active trading.

Provisions opened lower.

D. C. H. S. Seniors Give Play For School Children

A dress rehearsal and a matinee for the school children was given by the cast in "The Crazy Idea," the senior class play of the Decatur Catholic high school, in the auditorium of the school building this afternoon. The presentation of the play for the public will be given Tuesday evening, the program starting at 8 o'clock. A large cast takes part in the four-act comedy and a few tickets are yet available. Tickets may be obtained from the school children at fifty cents each.

Heidelberg Glee Club To Sing At Magley Church

The ceh's glee club of Heidelberg University, of Tiffin, Ohio, will give a sacred program at the Magley reformed church, near Magley, next Sunday morning, at 10 o'clock. There will be no admission charge, but a free-will offering will be lifted for the benefit of the glee club. The club consists of twenty-three men. They will give a popular concert in the community auditorium in Berne on Saturday night, under the auspices of the missionary society of the Berne Reformed church.

Adams County Farmers Find That Spraying Their Orchards Is Profitable

An interesting article telling about a spraying program. "We thought that four sprays would be enough, and that's what we applied the first year. But the second year we applied five, and we sure could see a difference, for the second year there was practically none of the fruit affected with the larvae of the codling moth as was the case the first season. "We have found that speed is the big idea in fighting pests, too. We lay out a spraying program that's almost like a railroad time table, and hurry from one farm to another, each farmer being ready for work when the outfit arrives. "A careful record of expenses has been kept, including interest, depreciation, materials, etc. "Last year we sprayed 1715 trees and it cost us complete, only 13 cents per tree. "Thirteen cents a tree—for a good crop of marketable apples, cherries and pears is a mighty good investment. We're well pleased with the whole proposition. "DANIEL MAZELIN, "Berne, Indiana. "My son is in direct charge of the machine."

Western Railway Workers Seek Increase In Wages

Chicago, April 5.—(United Press.)—Western railroad workers today start their fight for an increase in wage rates. Union representatives will start conferences with railroad heads over new wage demands—which if granted will increase the payrolls of the nation's railroads some $500,000,000 annually. The demands range from $1 to $1.64 increase daily. Today's conferences will be between W. M. Jeffers of the Union Pacific and W. F. Thiloff of the Burlington, representing the principal carriers, and William G. Lee, Cleveland, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and L. G. Sheppard, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, president of the Order of Railroad Conductors. Representatives are expected to have a part in the conferences. Similar wage sessions are to be held throughout the United States shortly on demands presented by railroad workers several months ago.

School Supervisors To Meet At Bloomington

Bloomington, Ind., April 5.—(United Press.)—An excellent program has been arranged for the second annual conference on elementary school supervision which will open here April 17 under the auspices of Indiana University, it was announced today. Among the speakers on the program, which ends April 18, are J. F. Thorton, of Indianapolis; W. W. Black, of Indiana University; Miss Belle Caffee, Evansville; W. F. Vogel, Indianapolis; Dr. L. M. Terman, of Leland Stanford University; Dr. G. T. Bomers, Herman Young, W. W. Wright of Indiana University; Dr. H. N. Sherwood, Indianapolis; Dr. P. R. Stevenson, of Ohio State University; Z. M. Smith, Indianapolis; John Linberger, Rockville and Dean Smith of Indiana University.

Inspection Of Nurseries And Green Houses In State To Be Made In Near Future

Indianapolis, April 5.—(United Press.)—With spring in the offing the office of State Entomologist, Frank Wallace is a busy place these days. Already Wallace and his assistant are preparing for the annual inspection of the greenhouses and nurseries of the state. Within the next few weeks these inspectors will start out over the state and before they have completed their rounds every greenhouse and nursery in the state will have been inspected. This inspection, it was pointed out, is a vital factor in the keeping of Indiana free from plant diseases. Under the law it is necessary that a clean bill of health be given every nursery before a certificate can be issued. Without the certificate of the state entomologists office not one plant can be raised in the greenhouse or nursery can be shipped in or out the state. Last season certificates were issued to more than 310 nurseries in the state. Wallace declared that this does not mean that more were not inspected for in some instances the certificates were refused because of disease plants. It also was explained that in some instances the inspectors made recommendations for cleaning up a disease and it was necessary to make a re-inspection before the certificate could be issued. Wallace estimated that the actual expenses incurred by the state in this inspection work, not including salaries of inspectors is in excess of $5,000.

Gasoline and Flour

Rising prices are a matter of vital concern to every man, woman and child in the Middle West.

Statistics show that while gasoline has increased in price during the last two years it has not advanced nearly as much as other staple commodities.

Take flour for instance. The United States Department of Labor states in the Monthly Labor Review that the average retail price of flour in Chicago on Nov. 15, 1913, was $.029 per pound—$.725 for 25 pounds.

On the same day the average Chicago tank wagon price of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline was $1.45 per gallon. At that price, a twenty-five pound bag of flour would have purchased 5 gallons of gasoline.

On Nov. 15, 1925, the average retail price of flour in Chicago was $.054 per pound—$1.35 for 25 pounds.

The price of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline on the same day was $1.16 per gallon. At that price, a 25 pound bag of flour would have purchased 8.43 gallons of gasoline.

From these figures we find that 25 pounds of flour in 1925 would have purchased 68% more gasoline than in 1913.

In twelve years time, flour advanced in price 86.2% while gasoline advanced only 10.3%.

These statistics are the more startling when the enormous increase in the cost of every factor entering into the making of gasoline is considered.

Why has Standard Oil Company (Indiana) gasoline advanced in price so much less than such staple commodities as flour? How can the continued low price of gasoline be explained?

The answer lies in the unwavering determination of a highly specialized organization of 28,059 men and women to keep costs down that the price of gasoline might be low.

This determination finds expression in the intensive work done in the research laboratories of this Company, and in the close cooperation of every department of the business.

Inspired by this determination to serve, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed advanced refining processes which double the yield of gasoline from every barrel of crude. In this way the Company has met increasing costs with increased efficiency.

The remarkable achievement of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in maintaining low gasoline prices in the face of increasing material costs is due to the strenuous, persistent and unending work of its whole organization.

Overwrought Nerves

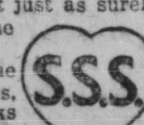

YOU never heard of a red-blooded person—man or woman—becoming a nervous wreck? And you never will. You never saw anybody with healthy, rich, red blood, get wearied by the activities of daily life. Did you?

No! Its weak blood—lack of healthy, rich, red blood. That's the whole trouble with those whose nerves are overwrought. They lack the resisting powers—the stamina that healthy, red-blood-cells give that enable us to stand up under the strain of daily life.

S. S. S. is the salvation of these unhappy people. It is just the thing needed to strengthen the nerves, restore muscular power to the body, and increase the endurance of weak, failing, run-down women and men.

Don't keep on going down simply because your blood is starving for want of healthy, red-blood-cells. You can get back your nerve power with S. S. S. You can do it just as surely as thousands have done for the past century.

S. S. S. also clears the skin of pimples, boils, eczema—hollow cheeks fill out and firm flesh takes the place of flabby muscles. Why, you'll begin living all over again. Get S. S. S. today from any good druggist. And get the larger bottle. It's more economical.
