Y. W. C. A. Biennial Convention Assembles In Milwaukee, Wisconsin

Milwaukee, Wis., April 22.—(United Press)—Women prominent in religious and social work from all parts of the world were gathered here today for the opening of the biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Association which will be in session until April 27.

Practically every section of the world will be represented at the gathering by noted speakers. Among the prominent American women taking a part in the convention will be Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Delegates from all walks of life, college girls, business women, society women, factory workers, will take part in the discussion on legislation affecting the woman worker, which will be one of the features of the program.

Milwaukee's contribution to the convention will be a huge pageant in which more than 800 persons will take part. The pageant, which is called "Forward Through the Ages," represents the history of woman from the early ages up to the present time. It is being produced under the direction of Miss Era Betzner, New York, while the making of costumes, the painting of scenery and selection of the cast, will be in the hands of local representatives.

Most of the "props" used in the pageant have been made at the Y. W. C. A. club house, where a corps of volunteer workers have been working daily for the past month. The pageant is given in seventeen scenes.

The part of "Woman" is being played by Mrs. J. Tracy Hale, Milwaukee society woman, while Olivia Orth Anderson plays the part of Mme. Roland, during the French Revolution episode, which employs a mob scene of several hundred and is one of the most effective scenes of the pageant. Hazel Lee Barbour will act as Joan of Arc and Mrs. Samuel O. Buckner, Charles Mercein and Sally Purchas will have star roles. The pageant will be given on April 24.

Y. W. C. A. executives from different sections of the country have been arriving daily, making final arrangements for the opening of the convention, which is said to be one of the largest ever held by the organization.

Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, Chicago, is to be the principal speaker at the convention. As a member of the board of trustees of the University of Chicago, he is widely known throughout the country as a lecturer and religious leader. During the winter 1924-25, he spent most of his time in India upon an invitation of the Barrows foundation to "interpret Christianity to the Intellectual classes of that country.

The National Student Assembly, which is being held in conjunction with the convention, will be under the direction of Miss Rachel Dunaway, who will be assisted by Miss Rebecca Chalmers, of Wesley College, Miss Emma McAllister of Spelman Seminary and Miss Mary Wilson of Georgia Wesleyan College.

The Business and Professional Women's Assembly will be held under the direction of Miss Bertha E. Pabst, as chairman, assisted by Miss Mildred Pierson, Baltimore and Miss Isahell Dress of New York City.
