Sunday School, 9:30.
Morning worship, at Salem, 10:30.
Epworth League, 7:00.
Evening worship, at Pleasant Mills, 7:30.
Prayer meeting, at Pleasant Mills, 7:30.
The Epworth League convention at Leo is next week, June 22-23. We hope a large bunch can go. A big program and a good time is in store for all who go.

Sunday morning at Salem will be held the communion service and the baptism of children and adults. Let us make much of these two sacraments.

Let us pull together for a greater summer than ever.

Grow Hair this New Way!

MEN! Don't join the bald heads. Don't look 50 when you're 30. Here is a scalp treatment that guarantees results. It is totally unlike anything you have seen or heard of before. Its simplicity will delight. Its results amaze you. It replaces deficient tonics. Does away with the need of shampoos. Nothing else required. The very minute you start using this new kind of treatment you begin to feel its beneficial effect. Note how clean and cool the whole scalp feels at once—how it seems to tingle with renewed life and vigor. You know this treatment is doing good. No matter what your condition here is our offer. This treatment must stop Falling Hair. Must destroy Dandruff. Must grow hair—or money back. There is a written guarantee to this effect in every package. Leaves no after-odor—no grease.—A12.

Beulah Epworth League Holds

First Meeting
The Epworth League at Beulah Chapel held its first devotional meeting last night at the church. Flossie Shady, first vice-president, had charge of the meeting. She was assisted by several other leaguers. Nearly all took part in the discussion and all enjoyed it very much. There were twenty-five present last night and nearly thirty young people around Preble and Peterson have joined the league already with prospects of nearly fifty members soon.

Six leaguers are going as delegates to the Epworth League convention at Leo this next week.

Plans were arranged for the ice-cream social that is to be given on the church lawn on next Friday evening. A free entertainment program has also been arranged. If anyone wants a good time they want to be there Friday night.

Mishawaka Man Heads Lions Clubs Of State

Fort Wayne, Ind., June 18.—(United Press)—A hot contest for the District Governorship of the Lions International ended with selection of William French, of Mishawaka, for the office at the close of the state convention late Wednesday.

Fifteen ballots were necessary for French to win over Dr. James Craig, of Greenwood.

Other officers chosen were: Dr. James Craig, Greenwood; Tom Polk, Indianapolis, and Fred Jessup, Kokomo, Deputy District Governors; Hollis Hunter, Hammond, Secretary; Vern Schlosser, Jeffersonville, Treasurer.

The 1927 convention will be held at Martinsville.

Wants Probe Of Election Of Sen. Pine, In Oklahoma

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 18.—(United Press)—In a letter today to Senator James A. Reed, Missouri, prosecutor of the senate primary investigating committee, George K. Key, chairman of the democratic state central committee, demanded an investigation of the election two years ago of Senator W. B. Pine, republican, Oklahoma.

Lee shoved the man aside and strode on. Carson, close at Lee's heels, his eyes glittering, stepped a little aside when once he was within the room and took his place with his back against the wall close to the door.

It was a big, bare, barn-like room, furnished simply with one long table and half a dozen chairs. Here were five men besides Bayne Trevors. All except Trevors and the man who had opened the door were seated; Trevors, at the far end of the room, was standing, an oratorical arm slowly dropping to his side.

His eyes met Lee's, ran quickly to Carson's, came back to Lee's and rested there steadily. Beyond the slow falling of his extended arm, he did not move. The muscles of his face hardened, the look of triumph which just now had stood in his eyes changed slowly and in its place came an expression that was twin to that in Bud Lee's eyes, just a look of inscrutability with a hint of watchfulness under it, and the hardness of agate. While a man might have drawn a deep breath into his lungs and expelled it, neither Lee nor Trevors stirred.

"What the devil is this?" demanded Melvin from across the table. "Hold up or what?" He rapped the table resolutely.

"Shut up!" snapped Carson. "It's just a two-man play, Melvin; Lee and Trevors."

"Oh," said Melvin, and sank back, making no further protest. He was no stranger to Carson or to Bud Lee, and he sensed what might lie between Lee and a man like Trevors. Then, shrugging his shoulders, he said carelessly: "I'm not the man to get in other men's way, and you know it, Carson. But you might tell your friend Bud Lee that Bayne Trevors is rather a big man influentially to mix things with. I've just resigned this morning and Trevors is our new president."

"Thanks," returned Carson dryly. "I don't think that'll make much difference though, Melvin. Most likely you'll have two presidents resigning the same day."

At last Lee spoke. "Trevors," he said quietly, "maybe the law can't get you. But I can. For reasons which both you and I understand you are going to clear out of this part of the country."

"Am I?" asked Trevors. The look of his eyes did not alter, the poise of his big body did not shift, his hands, both at his sides again, might have been carved in bronze.

Then suddenly he laughed and threw out his arms in a wide gesture and again dropped them, saying shortly:

"You're playing the game the way I thought you would. You've got a gun. I am unarmed—begin your shooting and be d—d to you!"

He even stepped forward, his eyes fearlessly upon Lee's, and settled his big frame comfortably in a chair by the table.

"Go ahead," he concluded "ready."

HAVE hot nourishing breakfasts. Stop makeshift breakfasts simply to save time. Quick Quaker is faster than plain toast.

Hot, flavory, nutritious; it's ready before the coffee.

Supplies the excellently "balanced" food ration of protein, carbohydrates and vitamins—besides the "bulk" to make laxatives less often needed—that doctors and authorities now so widely urge.

Start every day that way. Feel better, look better, be stronger and on your toes every minute. Ask your doctor.
