When you taste a blueberry pie that you have just made and feel the thrill of pride at its delicious flavor, always remember that you didn't make the blueberries.

WHAT TO EAT

One may have a green salad dressing by adding a cupful of cooked, sifted peas to it. Put the cooked peas through a fine sieve. This not only improves the flavor and makes it more pleasing in appearance, but it is more nourishing and enjoyed by all.

Boiled Dressing.—Beat two eggs light, without separating; add one cupful of mild vinegar (dilute with water if the acid is very strong), add one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, one-half teaspoonful of sugar, and one-fourth cupful of butter, melted. Mix well and put over hot water. Stir constantly until the dressing is thickened; cool and serve with an addition of whipped cream or olive oil.

Fish Dinner.—Take two pounds of haddock, cod or halibut, tie in a cheesecloth and boil in salted water until tender. Cook a cupful of rice in boiling salted water. Chop one quart of cooked spinach, season with butter, arrange with chopped beets in small mounds around the fish. Serve very hot.

Cucumber Sauce.—Pare two cucumbers and cut into quarters lengthwise, remove the seeds if large, chop fine, and squeeze dry. Season with salt, paprika and vinegar and stir in one-half cupful of thick cream whipped until stiff. A small grated onion may be added if liked.

Fried Green Tomatoes.—Cut off both ends of large green tomatoes, cut into thin slices, roll in seasoned flour and cook in hot butter in a frying pan. If onion flavor is liked a slice of onion may be added when frying.

Wilted Cucumbers.—For those who find the juice of the cucumber disagrees with them, cover with strong salt and water and let them soak for two hours. Toss in a salad bowl, dress with sour cream and serve.

Tongue Scramble.—Take one cupful of finely minced cooked tongue, add six well-beaten eggs, season to taste with grated onion and chopped green pepper. Cook in butter and serve very hot.

Go to it. Even an electric button won't accomplish anything unless it is pushed. When men and women have their ideals and work in common, the world will be helped along with something like electric speed.

CAKES FOR PORCH TEAS

Some of the summer months cakes are served very freely and a good one is appreciated. The following are choice recipes which will add variety to those already cherished:

Almond Cake.—Cream one-third of a cupful of butter, add one cupful of sugar, one-fourth cupful of milk, the yolks of six eggs well beaten, and one cupful of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Flavor with the grated rind of a lemon. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add one cupful of sugar and one cupful of chopped almonds. Put on top of the cake when it is ready to go into the oven. Bake in a slow oven. This may be baked in layers and put together with whipped cream, making a very delicious cake.

Sponge Cake.—Beat the yolks of six eggs until thick, add one cupful of sugar gradually and continue beating; add one tablespoonful of lemon juice, the grated rind of a lemon and the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. When the whites are partially mixed add one cupful of flour and a little salt. Bake one hour in an angel food pan.

Rochester Chocolate Cake.—Cream one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add one cupful of sugar gradually, and then add two squares of melted chocolate, two well-beaten eggs, one-half cupful of milk one and one-third cupfuls of flour mixed and sifted with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Beat well; add one teaspoonful of vanilla and bake in a moderate oven forty-five minutes. Cover with:

Ice Cream Frosting.—Boil two cupfuls of sugar and six tablespoonfuls of water to a thread. Pour the sirup gradually over two well-beaten egg whites, beat until thick, flavor with vanilla and spread over the cake.

One cupful of sugar, one cupful of sour cream and one cupful of nuts, adding the nuts after the sugar and cream are cooked until thick, makes a most delicious cake filling.

Gasoline Stolen From Farmer's Private Tank

Thieves stole about 40 gallons of gasoline from a tank on the farm of Homer Mills, Wells county farmer, last Sunday, while the family was away from home. As the tank, which is located in the barn yard, is kept locked, the thief turned the tank upside down and poured the gasoline from an opening in the top of the tank. He used a new milk bucket, bending one side to form a spout. Recently, fifty gallons of gasoline were stolen from the tank of a tractor belonging to Wells county, which had been left standing along a highway north of Bluffton.

My Favorite Stories

By IRVIN S. COBB

Spoken From the Soul

Nick was the grizzled-headed factotum of an assembly room in a certain southern town. This story, which has to do with him, possesses one merit if it possesses none other—it has the merit of being true.

According to local gossip Nick was a sorely henpecked man. It was said that when displeased with him Aunt Effie, his mastodon wife, had a way of tying his hands behind him and then correcting him with a bed slat. Sometimes she corrected him so thoroughly that he limped for a week afterward and sat down only on cushioned chairs. If there were no cushioned chairs handy he preferred to stand.

Yet Nick bore the secret of his domestic tragedy bravely. He never swore out a warrant for Effie; never publicly complained of the roughness of her disciplinary methods.

But, as the saying goes, the worm will turn, although why it should turn, seeing that a worm is the same on both sides, no one knows. Nick didn't exactly turn, but one time he did bare his inner convictions without exactly going into details.

Some ladies were decorating the assembly rooms for a wedding reception which was to follow the ceremony at the bride's home and Nick was helping them.

"So they're fixin' to have 'nother marriage, is they?" said Nick, half to himself as he unraveled an armful of southern smilax. "Well, seems lak folks will keep on gettin' married." He fetched a soft, pensive sigh under his breath.

One of the ladies overheard him. She knew something of the life Nick was said to lead in the privacy of his home. Mischief led her to speak.

"Why, Uncle Nick," she said, "you surely haven't any grudge against marriage, have you?"

"Oh, none, not fur other folks," said Nick. "But, Miss May, speakin' fur myself in strictest confidence to you, I'll jes' say dis: Ef I wuzn't, I wouldn't."

Athlete Bandit Sentenced
Hammond, Indiana, July 7.—(United Press)—Dan Hesley, Chicago athlete who turned bandit, today was under sentence of twenty-five years imprisonment in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas.
Hesley was sentenced for the $37,000 mail truck robbery at Indiana Harbor last Spring.

Coed—"Your new overcoat is rather loud."
Fresh—"It's all right when I put on a muffler."

Said Can't Be Done
"My experience with doctors and medicines caused me to lose faith in both, and when a friend told me that MAYR'S would cure my stomach trouble I told him 'it can't be done.' However, he finally persuaded me to try it and to my surprise it did. All symptoms of acute indigestion and gas having disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Holthouse Drug Co., and druggists everywhere.
