Bryant Young Man Hurt In Automobile Accident

Floyd Fifer, 18, of Bryant, sustained a broken leg in an automobile accident which occurred Saturday night in Portland. Fifer and Clark Overla had parked their car on the east side of North Meridian street and were repairing a tire. There was no tail light on their car. Dal Bennett, who resides on a farm north of Portland, enroute to his home, was blinded by the lights of another car approaching from the opposite direction. He failed to see the car parked at the side of the street and collision followed. Fifer's left leg was broken in two places, between the hip and knee. He was taken to the Jay county hospital. Lieut. Hal Ayres, state motor policeman, is investigating the accident. He stated that he believed the accident due to bright lights on the car approaching from the north and that he would place the driver under arrest if his identity is learned.

Mob Threatens Man Who Assaulted And Killed Child

Coshocton, Ohio, Aug. 3.—(United Press)—Coshocton was quiet today after a night during which more than five hundred townspeople, aroused by the murder of ten-year-old Gertrude D'Ostrophe, milled in the streets and authorities entertained fears for the safety of Robert Thompson who confessed he assaulted and strangled the child. The crowd dispersed when it was learned that Thompson had been removed from the county jail here and sheriff Marquard had asked state officials concerning the possibility of obtaining troops if the occasion demanded.

For Two Chautauqua Concerts

GREEN'S BAND AND V. E. DILLARD, DIRECTOR
Green's Band is always a favorite with Chautauqua audiences in all parts of the country. Charles E. Green, the organizer of this Band, has a fine sense of program building. He knows what the people like. Also he knows how to mix just enough of both to make his programs entertaining and at the same time, musically right.
The afternoon and evening concerts of this Band on the third day, while including well known band selections such as "Raymond Overture" and "William Tell," are not made up of time-worn numbers. Descriptive numbers, humorous numbers, characteristic numbers and novelties, as well as stirring marches, are features of the program. Practically all of

PRIMARIES HELD IN FOUR STATES

Voters Picking Nominees In Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Montana Today

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 3.—(United Press)—Voters of four western states—Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Montana—are selecting national and state candidates today for the November elections, with 8 issues centering about the wet and dry question in Missouri and Montana; past administrations in Kansas, and personalities in Oklahoma.

Missouri is choosing candidates for the United States senate, short and long term, with major party strife looming on prohibition.

Four of the six candidates are evoked drys; one defines himself as an ardent wet, and the other regards prohibition as not a political question.

Congressional nominees are to be selected as well as those for many other offices.

Kansas, refraining generally from issues of national import, decides on gubernatorial, senatorial and congressional prospects on the merits of past records and with only hints of klan influences, which two years ago split the republican ranks.

Oklahoma, also devoid of pronounced issues, selects national, state and county candidates from a field cluttered with nominations.

Major interest swings to the race from the governorship to succeed the incumbent, Martin E. Trapp, declared ineligible by the state supreme court.

Of second Oklahoma interest is the senatorial contest, in which K. C. Walton, impeached governor, one woman, and four other democratic candidates compose the major opposition to Senator J. W. Harrell, republican.

Montana, in an "odd" political year, nominates candidates for two congressional seats and polls sentiment on a Volstead issue, wets and mild wets having the majority in the number of candidates.

A heavy vote was expected in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.
