Unless you forget, tomorrow is Sunday and aside from going to church, be careful how you drive. Don't be included in the list of fatalities which are always published in Monday's paper.

The children will be entertained at the chautauqua next week, a junior program being given every morning. The program will be supervised by a competent juvenile worker and the parents are invited to send their children to the big tent on Liberty Way.

Meet your friends at the Chautauqua and at the fair next week. It's a big week of entertainment for the Decatur people and with the two programs going on at the same time a variety of entertainment will be furnished. Plan to enjoy the week and meet your friends.

A banker in Morristown, N. J., celebrated his 104th birthday the other day. He retired from active business when he was one hundred years old, but still keeps in touch with business affairs and Arthur Brisbane remarks that in years to come it will be considered a disgrace to die under 140 years. That should be good news for the golf players and those who engage in airplane flying.

A week from Monday is Labor Day and the vacation period will be over. The children will return to school and college, mother will dig up the blankets and dad will think how he is going to pay for the winter's supply of coal. The crisp cool days will bring about renewed energy and if like other years Hoosiers will enjoy the Indian summer and season of the year when you love to be out-of-doors.

Senator Jim Watson is traveling around the state trying to tell the farmers how he fought to have the farmer's relief bill passed in the last session of congress and how he wants to help them. Sounds good to some ears, but many a farmer who is working up to late at night these days would think that he really meant what he said if he would join the threshing gang.

Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford—man and wife of course—returned from a trip around the world yesterday, Mary stating that they cut their stay abroad short, because there was so much to see in America. It's must be wonderful to travel around with no thought in mind except to see the sights and compare them with what you have seen and to the average person a trip through the east, west or north in this country would be considered a real fling in a lifetime.

How would you like to be the mayor of New York City? When Gertrude Ederle, first woman who swam the English channel, arrived in New York yesterday, Mayor Walker was granted the privilege of stepping up and kissing her. "Trudy" seems not to be swayed by the publicity given her feat and on the other hand goes about like a sensible person. Her manner is wholesome and she is being acclaimed on all sides in this country and no doubt is looked at with envy by those who would like to be in her place.

A DAY WITH FRIENDS

A day with friends, away from care,
And all the burdens men must bear;
Away from every urgent need,
From selfishness and petty greed,
Where talk is all of books and plays
And by-gone joys of yesterdays.

A day with friends—and let it be Beneath some spreading maple tree,
Where noise and clamor never break
The calm which sky and meadow make;
Where never traffic's dusty pace
Blots out the beauty of the place.

Where, each for all and all for each,

There is no cunning in the speech;
No thought of profit, save the gain
In liveliness of heart and brain
And those more lasting riches wrought
By friendly interchange of thought.

A day with friends—throughout the
But seldom such a day appears When fame and money, hope and doubt
And gain and loss are all shut out,
And every thought that's uttered springs
From dreams and sweet imaginings.

the November election and wish to avail yourself of this privilege—like all good Americans should—you will have the opportunity to register at the court house on and after September 4th. The registration board will be in session for thirty days and those who have moved from their voting precinct since the last election, those who failed to vote in 1924, those who have become of age since 1924 and those who have changed their name by marriage or divorce since 1924, must register next month if they wish to vote. It costs nothing to register and then if you wish to vote you can do it.

Adams county is a corn growing community and with corn the raising of hogs goes hand in hand. Last year this county lead the state in having the largest number of ton litters and so far this year it looks as if Joe Habegger, one of the progressive farmers in Monroe township will lead the state in having three ton litters, averaging 2,675 pounds to the litter. The farmers of Adams county know how to do it and for that reason you hear less complaints in this county than in others. It takes work and application and any one who drives through the county will vouch that the farmers of this splendid community deserve all the success they obtain. Fine work Mr. Habegger and may you reap the profits.

Throughout the state an organized appeal is now being made to democrats to help in the "Dollar-a-Democrat" plan to finance the democratic campaign in Indiana this fall. County chairmen and vice chairmen, precinct committeemen and committeewomen and interested party workers are or soon will be soliciting the gift of a dollar each from party members. It is little that is asked, but it is not much to give. Yet added together, the dollars of loyal democrats and other interested citizens of this Hoosier commonwealth will make up the funds necessary to meet the legitimate expenses without which a vigorous and aggressive campaign cannot be waged. And a vigorous and aggressive campaign is going to be waged. The needs of the Hoosier state for relief from the burdens of state taxation and of tariff discrimination.

New Auto Record Set

New York, Aug. 28.—(United Press)

L. B. Miller, established a new transcontinental automobile record today when he reached here from San Francisco in 83 hours and 12 minutes.

The previous record was held by "Ad" Jenkin and Roy Tuck, who drove the distance in 86 hours, 20 minutes.

Miller left San Francisco at 9 p.m.
(Pacific coast time) Monday evening.
He drove a Willys-St. Squire roadster.

John D. Werling and son, of Preble township, were business visitors here this morning.

Good Namepriceless and therefore jealously upheld

Dodge Brothers have kept the faith.

Year after year their motor car has continued to mature into a better and better product.

Beauty has been added to dependability, comfort and silence to beauty. Endless refinements have been made, and the basic sources of Dodge Brothers quality maintained in every detail.

As a consequence, the NAME Dodge Brothers is even more valuable than the great Dodge Brothers plant itself, and eminently worthy of the public confidence it everywhere inspires.

The public may rest assured that a Good Name so priceless will be safeguarded jealously by those who hold its destinies in their hands.
