"What the farmer needs is to raise less crops and a higher tariff—" Senator Watson. Yep, and a good old-fashioned rain.

You can help a lot to make Dairy Day a success by meeting the finance committee cordially and doing your part—its Tuesday.

Dairy Day is a community day and if the finances are raised as they will be, you may feel sure it will be a real event and one which will produce benefits to every one.

Over at Warsaw yesterday Albert Hodges struck a match and lit his cigarette at the Polk filling station. The fire which followed caused a $3,000 loss. A little common sense would have averted it.

The carburetor on an automobile is the only one part of the machine but you wouldn't get far without it, would you. Well, advertising is likewise only one item in your business, but you won't shew much speed if you omit it.

Next Saturday night—Evans Woolen at the court house, a sound and safe business man who will convince you that the ills of government can be cured by honest and careful representation and the consideration of the people's needs.

Just another week in which to register and several hundred out yet. Get busy workers. Its the first big job of the campaign. The next is to convince them the democratic candidates and issues are right and then an organization to see that the vote is in and the victory is won.

that the prediction is that the five weeks rain is to go off with a cold snap does not make the average fellow smile any. Keep at it boys, smile and throw your shoulders back and your head up. Remember "the winner never quits and the quitter never wins."

Next for the sports comes the world series in baseball with the New York Yanks and the St. Louis Cardinals contending and the opener a week from today. That will keep you busy about ten days and then it will be time to get the dope on football. We're a nervous lot and we just have to have something to bet our nickels on. Elections are too far apart.

Jack Dempsey is broken hearted over his defeat. At first we thought that a joke, but of course it isn't. Jack's share of the receipts at Philadelphia was $800,000 and the trouble is that from now on he can't dictate the terms. He will take what he can get and will get what Tunney and his manager think he ought to have after the close bargain he drove with them.

And now comes the test which will prove whether or not the community is progressive. The finance committee for Dairy Day will start their campaign Tuesday morning. If you favor a big day and a successful event that will assure a good time for every farmer who visits this city on the 19th of October, do your part financially.

Now, since Senator Jim Watson has convinced every body that high tariff is a good thing for the farmer, that his vote for Newberry was just proper, that the farm should produce less and that every body ought to vote for him, we suggest that he tour the field on the subject, "What the farmer needs now is—more rain." Just about as much argument to that as to his others.

Dairy Day is a Community Day and every farm commodity will be boosted. There will be band concerts, a free barbecue, addresses by leaders in the great dairy campaign, prize awards and a good time. To handle the day properly some funds are necessary and the finance committee will call on you Tuesday. They have a difficult and a thankless job. Make it as easy for them as you can by being prompt and as generous as you feel you can.

The publisher of the Wabash Plain Dealer is good and mad because the fact that the dairy paper was giving columns of space to the school sports and had his printing done in a job shop. Now the Plain Dealer is not mentioning school sports and is "riding" the principal and his policy. Looks like it might be a two edged sword. A newspaper ought to stand for all good things and the organizations should of course—and usually do—give earnest support to the newspapers.
