REGISTER THIS WEEK IF YOU ARE NOT ALREADY QUALIFIED TO VOTE

We are trying to organize for the big community event on Tuesday, October 19th—Dairy Day. You can help by meeting your part of the expenses with a smile when the committee calls tomorrow.

Dairy Day plans are going forward and there is no doubt that it will be a worth-while occasion for a hundred business men are now supporting it.
The complete program will be announced this week.

We still insist that the farmer needs more rain about as badly as he needs Jim Watson's remedies for relief—a higher tariff and less crops.

Seems like it just can't keep from raining and its no wonder that discouragement has reached a stage where the farmer has a difficult time in smiling.

The finance committee for Dairy Day will begin work tomorrow. Give them the glad hand and a financial boost that will make their work as easy as possible for this effort is being made for you and every one else in this community.

The democratic ticket in Adams county is a ticket composed of clean and able men, nominated in a fairly conducted primary election, the choice of the voters of that party. They deserve your consistent and earnest support on their promises to serve you faithfully and honestly and efficiently.

This is the last week for registering. If you have not registered in the last two years, if you have changed your name by marriage or divorce, if you are a first voter, see that your name is properly registered so you will be qualified to vote on election day. Be a good citizen, help to select the officers who will govern you and don't just sit back and grumble.
Register this week.

The campaign is just opening and during the next five weeks you will hear the issues discussed from every angle. The opening here will occur next Saturday evening when the Hon.
Evans Woolen and the Hon. Arthur Hamrick, candidates for United States senator and secretary of state will address the voters at the court house in this city. From that time on meetings will be held in various precincts over the county and we urge the voters to attend that they may understand clearly the important issues.

The last rites were performed today for an honorable pioneer citizen of Adams county, Henry Voglewede, who was born here nearly eighty years ago, spent his life among the people of this county, took an active part in civil and business affairs and was for many years a recognized leader.
He served as a member of the city council, as township trustee and as county treasurer and he leaves a record of services well rendered as a legacy of which his relatives and neighbors and friends may well feel proud.

Attorney General Arthur Gilliom, a former Adams county man, has been added to the program at Geneva on Wednesday of this week, when services in memory of the late Gene Stratton-Porter, will be held. Governor Ed Jackson and other leaders will also be present and the event promises to be one of the most interesting ever held in Adams county. A large delegation from here will attend. The affair is in charge of the Geneva Chamber of Commerce of which W. D.

Cross, Jr., is president and he is being assisted by the business men of Geneva.

Forty-page special editions by the Bluffton Banner and News, boasting the twentieth annual street fair, Bluffton and everybody in that community are out, a commendable service and feats appreciated only by those publishers and printers in cities of this size who have tried it.
And they are real newspapers, filled with splendid features, special stories, a history of the street fair in Bluffton —and we doubt if any city in America has been more successful with this form of entertainment—bushels of advertising and everything necessary to make them interesting editions. Mr.
Frank McDowell, who resided here several years and is known as a man who does things, is the head of the street fair organization this year, supported by every business man of Bluffton. The program is excellent and if the weather man will be just half decent the usual success is sure and "sartin." We congratulate the Banner and News for their enterprising and successful efforts. Good newspapers have much to do with the success of every community which succeeds.

MANY FARMERS IN CORN CONTEST

corn is ready to harvest. It is expected a judge representing the Indiana Corn Growers' Association will be in Adams county within two or three weeks to estimate the yields of the above contestants.
The rules of the club provide that a five-acre plot be entered. A complete labor record is kept on the entire field, thereby making it possible to compute cost of production of the corn on the five acres. The labor record also includes all other costs including commercial fertilizer.
The above men, who have a yield of 100 bushels or more per acre, will be awarded gold medals by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association.
Those having a yield of 85 bushels or more per acre will receive silver medals while those having a yield of 75 bushels or more will receive bronze medals.

of earth and rock and ore. A basket of condensed food in tablet form was at hand to drop to the entombed men if an opening is made.

Officials of the mine declared they believe the men are in a large compartment, opening into a lateral shaft and that they have plenty of air. The lack of water in the trap caused the most alarm.

The dampness of the earth retarded the progress of the crews, who still have about 100 feet to go. The damp earth made careful timbering necessary.

coaches buckled, imprisoning the passengers. Some were able to escape through broken windows, but others were pinned in the wreckage or trapped by the wedged framework of the coaches.

The wreck occurred just outside the station here and rescue workers were by the scene in a few minutes.

Those imprisoned were in the coach which was struck full in the side by the oncoming locomotive. It was knocked off the tracks into a jumble of twisted steel.
