Meet you at the big barbecue tent at the Dairy Day celebration in Decatur, Tuesday, October 19th.

It's funny that the same crowd which complains and shivers on a cool day at the world series will feel perfectly comfortable at a football game, no difference what the weather is.

Those professors who are on a mysterious errand to Indiana and who have already been paid $5,649.14 by Governor Jackson out of his emergency contingent fund will require until December 1st to complete the job. Must be fine to have a fund of that kind about which no questions can be asked.

Don't forget while considering the state income tax amendment that the organization of such a department will mean another large force of office employees and field men who will have authority to ask you all about your business and to make you prove it, which is perhaps alright but an awful nuisance, unless its absolutely necessary.

Dairy Day is going to be an old-fashioned meeting of farmers and business men, just a good time with everything free, plenty of music, entertainment, speeches, gift awards and a barbecue put on by Col. N. D. Lawrence, of Lexington, Ky.

Of course its going to be a good time and you don't want to miss it. Bring the folks and come in early and stay all day.

Even though we have learned during the past few years how elections have been won by the whispering of gossip designed to injure the opposition we would hate to think that the good women in either party of Indiana would join the proposed "five whispering women in every county" organization or the "poison squad" or consent to the "Wheatcraft" type of "government by gossip," and we are glad they refuse to tie up with the plans.

At the rate being paid the professors who are making a survey of Indiana colleges our state officers must feel slighted. The salary being drawn by these men, according to the warrants issued, are equal to a $20,000 per annum total while the highest paid state officer is $8,500 and that's the governor himself. At least we feel the people ought to know what those who hired these men are trying to do.

The Fort Wayne News Sentinel is spending a lot of time talking about school affairs. Mr. Ward, whether its proper to use "a" or "the," how old Mr. Woollen is or how young, any thing to keep from talking about conditions in Indiana, the report of Tom Adams and his "probe" committee, the connection of Watson and Robinson with Stephenson or why it is costing more than fifty million dollars a year to operate the state now as compared to less than one-fourth that amount during the last year of the Ralston administration. Some sand throwers, we'd say.

A committee from the republican editorial association intimates that Thomas Adams, veteran and brilliant editor of the Vincennes Commercial is in his dotage and don't know what he is talking about. Just wait and see. Adams is a fighter of the old school and when he gets through with this deal the public will know a lot of inside things that will surprise them and stop the aspirations of some present office holders. If there is nothing to be afraid of why not permit the committee to interview Stephenson?

It matters not whether its "a world court" or "the world court," Mr. Hughes is to go to the Hague to meet with representatives of other countries. We presume that because this learned statesman happens to be a republican, he could not possibly entangle this country in any thing but profitable contracts. If the News-tin is to be the umpire. So that's settled, lets get on with the campaign. What do you think of the charges being made by the "probe committee" of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association?

Babe Ruth came back and every youngster in the United States knows it and honors him as a hero. In yesterday's game he got three home runs in three times to bat, walking the other time up, which doesn't go as "at bat." One of the hits was the longest ever made in St. Louis and the only one ever made over center field. He brought in four runs and "pegged" one from the outfield that caught an opposing runner at the plate. That ought to be enough for one man in one game. Incidentally he "busted" several world records.

G. L. McKay, national secretary of the Butter Manufacturers of the United States, will be the principal speaker at the Dairy Day celebration to be held here Tuesday, October 19th. Mr. McKay is an able man, an authority on matters pertaining to the dairy business and was for a number of years engaged as a professor of the University of Wisconsin. His address here will be of interest as will those of Miss Stark of the National Dairy Council and the others on the program. Don't miss this day, farmers. Its for you and we are all trying our best to prove to you that we are for you.

All previous records were broken in the 1926 registration in Adams county, the total number being 11,000, a fine showing that our people propose to do their duty on election day. The big job is ahead of course and that is to so interest the people that a large vote will be cast. If that happens the result should be a great democratic victory. The poll will show a majority of more than three thousand and consequently a light vote means a democratic loss. While we do not believe there is danger of defeat in this county, every vote cast will count for the state and national ticket. Don't expect the candidates, the county chairman and the committee to do all the work. It is your election as well as here and means much to you. Roll up your sleeves men and women and help make the vote in Adams county 100%.

Learning

Things

Children are taught things while they are young and according to all reports they live up to their teachings.

One of the most important things young and old can learn is the habit of saving. Once practiced it becomes easy—and not only that. The neat little sum you have laid away is most important and comforting in time of need.
