

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS, NOTICES AND BUSINESS CARDS

CLASSIFIED ADS BUSINESS CARDS

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two yearlings and one Spring Colt. M. A. Ripley, Williston, Ohio. 252-9 e.o.d.-x

FOR SALE—Morchu Soy Beans, $1.50 bushel. Also Gladia bulbs, fine mixture, 25c dozen; named bulbs, 50c dozen. Noah Bryan, Geneva, Ind. 265-8x eod.

FOR SALE—Choice Duroc spring boars, double treated, serviceable. Fred Busche, De- catur, R. R. 5. Monroe phone. 265-8x eod

FOR SALE—A new Underwood typewriter, never been used; will be sold at less than regular price. Frueh and Litterer. 265-8x

FOR SALE—Electric three-tub washer; boy's suit of clothes, size 14, inquire at 624 N. Second street or call 66. 265-8x

FOR SALE—Goose feathers $1 per pound. Call Carl Burkhardt, Decatur R. 1. 265-8x

FOR SALE—Blue reed stroller, ivy wheels, used but very little. Price $10.00. Inquire Mrs. Don Teeple or phone 5142. 265-8x

FOR SALE—1917 Ford touring car, good condition; also, trailer. Eugene Runyon, corner Fourth and Madison. Phone 196. 265-8x

FOR SALE—One double, 10-inch wheel, power tool grinder; one small feed grinder; one 24 inch cut-off saw, all new. Bargain. C. P. Heckstorn, R. R. 8, second house south of Dent school house. 265-8x

FOR SALE—Full blooded Duroc-Jersey male hog. Age 18 months. Phone 875-M. R. R. 8. 265-8x

FOR SALE—Wash bench and wringer combined. Phone 1174. 265-8x

FOR SALE—German Police pups. Inquire at 339 N. Ninth St. 266-6x

FOR SALE—Good baby cab. Cheap if taken at once. Ira Bodle, S. 10th St. 267-8x

FOR SALE—Yearling heifer. Guernsey cow. Roy Young, 1/4 mile east of Salem. 267-8x

MASTER BUICK SEDAN FOR SALE—Good as new, a bargain. Good cause for selling. Call 470 to 9 and 10 a. m. or 6:30 and 8 p. m. 267-8x

WANTED

WANTED—Clean, washed rags, suitable to clean presses and type. Must be clean. Not common rags or waste, or dirty clothes. Prefer muslins, calicos and like. No lace, heavy underwear, woolens or heavy materials. Will pay 7 cents per pound for the right kind if brought to this office, but they must be clean and the right size. Decatur Daily Democrat.

WANTED TO STORE—High grade player piano, bench and music with prospect of selling for cash or good note. Real bargain. Address box "A" care of Decatur, Ind. 266-8x

WANTED—To buy poultry of all kinds. For highest prices Phone Ralph Burnett. Phone 834. 265-18x

WANTED TO RENT—Six or seven room house, modern or semi-modern. Call 309, between 8 and 10 a. m. 265-33x

WANTED—All kinds of poultry. High- est market prices paid. Monroe Hatchery, Monroe, Indiana. 266-18x

WANTED—to rent farm, grain rent; also want work husking corn. Phone 1111. 266-31x

WANTED—2 men to shuck corn on stalk and in shock. Fair good wages. Marcellus Davison, Decatur, R. R. 9. Monroe Phone. 266-31x

WANTED TO RENT—Small house or unfurnished rooms. Phone 266-31x. 267-8x

WANTED—400 to hear the Special Program at the United Brethren Sunday School Rally next Sunday. 267-8x

FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Two farms. Only those who can give the very best reference will be considered. J. F. Arnold. 248-4x

FOR RENT—Farm of 60 acres; also six-room house close to town. See W. P. Colchin, or phone 754. 266-31x

FOR RENT—Garage. 242 North 5th St. 267-8x

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Ford tire, rim and cover. C. D. Neff and Son, Montpelier, Ind. on cover. Finder return to Dan Railing, Monroe. 265-31x

LOST—STRAYED OR STOLEN—White pig weighing about 50 or 75 pounds. Finder please return to the Seymour Carpenter home on South Third street just north of the Erie railroad. 266-31x

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the sudden death of our beloved wife and daughter and for the beautiful flowers received. Also the minister of the U. B. Liberal church of Wren, Ohio, for his words of comfort.

Mr. Joe Gephart
Mr. and Mrs. David Bodle
and Family

Get the Habit—Trade at Home, it Pays

MARKET REPORTS

DAILY REPORT OF LOCAL AND FOREIGN MARKETS

THE FRONT EIGHT YEARS AFTERWARDS

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE)

day, half of the 150 acres where one thousand Americans were killed and 7,000 wounded, is cleared.

Great mounds of the killing are tipped and craggy, the remains of Americans and Germans are found. About fifty American bodies remain hidden in the matted brush. Steel helmets with names on them are found. Tops of uniform, sodden shoes, rusted rifles smashed machine guns, littered caved-in trenches and shallow foxholes.

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

Fismes, where New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania troops had bloody fighting, is about 90 percent reconstructed in chalky stone. The town hall is still a mass of splintered masonry, showing marks of thousands of machine gun bullets.

From Rethus, many miles across the Champaign, stretches a blighted strip of desolate wilderness, churned by shell-fire, withered by cases, tangled with barbed-wire, studded with stumps of shell-blasted trees. Here and there peasants have cleared a few fields. But cultivation is risky and some are killed by striking buried shells. Five laborers were blown to pieces a few weeks ago.

Many villages in this region are exterminated, forever. Pertheslesluris and Hurus are only piles of rubble. No human being lives within miles of men from Texas and Oklahoma, and the Second and Rainbow divisions, the latter from twenty-six states, have vivid recollections of these places. The Argonne forest is slowly reforesting its mummifications. Thick brush covers the trenches near Four de Paris, the Hindenburg line is overgrown by tall weeds and thistles hiding the blasted chunks of masonry. The dugouts have fallen in. The deepish-holes on the twisted crest of Montaigu can be seen miles across country. Vanquished is a red scar bare of vegetation. The tomatoes and tobacco cans you flung aside are still half-buried in mud. The faded first page of a love-letter from Cincinnati to a boy named Henry still lies in a dug-out nest. Avocourt, where the Ohio division jumped off to drive through the Hindenburg line. Where is Henry today?

The narrow ravine where the "lost Battalion" was cut off and suffered 350 casualties among its 564 men, is dense thicket, only a small painted sign marks its site.

At Vienne-Le-Chateau the house where the New York division had headquarters in the cellar is repaired. It is a restaurant. The Seventy-seventh division's cook's belligerent penciled warning "Kitchen, you keep out" is still on the door.

Varennes, captured by Kansas and Pennsylvania boys. Sheppys were the mud was so deep, captured by Missouri and Kansas troops, are mostly reconstructed—unpretty rural hamlets, incongruously new. The section of the Hindenburg line near Avocourt, where the ninety-first—Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Nevada, Montana, Wyoming and Utah men—smashed through, is about as you fellows left it—so Hindenburg himself would never recognize it.

The great hills around Verdun are barren scenes of desolation covered with dead weeds rusting in the winds. Here 1,650,000 men were slaughtered. The bones of thousands are charred into the soil. Men's devastation has defied even nature's reparation.

In material reconstruction from Switzerland to the Channel, France has done a vast work. She has expended sixty-seven billions of francs. More than fifteen billion are still required.

Notice is therefore hereby given said defendants that unless on or before the 23rd day of the November Term, 1926, of the Adams Circuit Court of Indiana, being the 21 day of December, 1926, to be begun and held on the 15th day of November, 1926, at the Court House in the town of Decatur, in the State of Indiana, the cause of action against all persons and corporations who assert or might assert any title, claim or interest in or lien upon the real estate described in the complaint in this action by, under or through said complaint, or by any other means known to plaintiff, that said action is for the purpose of quieting title to real estate in the State of Indiana; that a cause of action exists against all of said defendants; that all of said defendants are necessary parties to said action; and that they are believed to be non-residents of the State of Indiana.

The following real estate in Adams County, State of Indiana, is described in said complaint, to-wit: The South half of the Section 12, Township 26, Section of the North West quarter (1/4) of Section twelve (12), Township twenty-six (26), North Range, fourteen (14) East.

This action is instituted and prosecuted by plaintiff for the purpose of quieting his title to the real estate above described as against all demands, claims and claimants whatsoever.

Notice is therefore hereby given said defendants that unless on or before the 23rd day of the November Term, 1926, of the Adams Circuit Court of Indiana, being the 21 day of December, 1926, to be begun and held on the 15th day of November, 1926, at the Court House in the town of Decatur, in the State of Indiana, the cause of action against all persons and corporations who assert or might assert any title, claim or interest in or lien upon the real estate described in the complaint in this action by, under or through said complaint, or by any other means known to plaintiff, that said action is for the purpose of quieting title to real estate in the State of Indiana; that a cause of action exists against all of said defendants; that all of said defendants are necessary parties to said action; and that they are believed to be non-residents of the State of Indiana.

In witness whereof, I, hereunto set my hand and affix my seal of said Court at the office of the Clerk thereof in the town of Decatur, Indiana, this 27th day of October, 1926.

JOHN E. NELSON
Clerk of the Adams Circuit Court
LENHART, HELLER & SCHURGER
Attorneys for plaintiff

Oct. 28 Nov. 4-13

The Yediz Kiosk, the famous place of the past Sultans of Turkey and in the old days one of the most secret and mysterious buildings in the world has been leased by an Italian company which will transform it into a hotel.

Five hundred and forty thousand houses and farm buildings of $67,000 of the 17,000 public buildings, 3,224 miles of 4,061 damaged or destroyed railways and narrow guages, 334,000 miles of roads of 36,394, 5,000 bridges and tunnels of 6,150.

But for many, many millions living today, there is no reparation, no replacement. There losses are outwardly represented by acres of white and black crosses. Strained faces and tear-dimmed eyes of visitors here give only a hint of the load of sorrow these places mean to the world.

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

The Roosevelts have erected a memorial watering trough at Chamery through which Michigan and Wisconsin boys chased the Germans. Quentin fell and is buried nearby. It bears Theodore Roosevelt's words: "Only those fit to live who are not afraid to die."

On the roads toward the Vesle, the villages are mostly rebuilt. At Clères, captured by Michigan and Wisconsin troops, the steel tank perforated by machine gun bullets, which thousands of you saw, still lies beside the road. Faded German billowing signs remain painted on walls.

</div