British Columbia Plans Highway Improvements

Victoria, B. C. (United Press).—Construction of new highways at an ultimate cost of $16,000,000 will be undertaken by British Columbia, according to an announcement here by Hon. W. H. Rutherford, minister of public works.

"Projects in the new road building program," said Mr. Rutherford, "include a main automobile highway connecting British Columbia with Jasper Park in the Canadian Rockies, a motor road from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, a new highway through the coast mountains from the Chilcooten country to Bella Coola and a road following the course of the Columbia River. Highway in every district of the province will be improved."

Good Health Depends On Well-Behaved Mind

By C. Charles Burlington, M. D. Member Gorgas Memorial Institute (Written for United Press)

Chicago—(United Press).—We all have minds, and they all behave, sometimes more and sometimes less, but like children, different types of mind need different training. Each group has its own problems and of the several groups the "worried housewife" is the one most in need of assistance in making her mind behave.

The "worried housewife" should remember the better her mind behaves the more comfortable it is for those about her, and surely the better it is for herself. Just as surely as we may have indigestion from careless eating and lack of exercise, so we may have mental indigestion from improper feeding of our minds and giving them no exercise.

We cannot have a perfect body without a mind well behaved. We cannot expect our minds to behave if we never give thought to our bodies. The two things go together.

It is also true that an unhealthy body may change a well behaved mind into one misbehaving badly, as witness the husband who comes to breakfast after a too hearty night before. The physical condition he finds himself in has affected his mental state.

And yet it is just as true that every housewife who may find herself crowded with little worries, "queer twitches" and nervous feelings may have some physical condition at least in part responsible for her misbehaving mind.

So full is her day of work indoors and physical exertion that the housewife feels she needs exercise out of doors the least of anything. But nothing she can do indoors, no amount of physical exertion connected with her work, will take the place of the small amount of exercise, relaxation and recreation in the open air and in the sunshine.

These who must have for her best mental health. Now let's understand at least a few of the principal things about our own thoughts.

Go back to your school days, when you were learning something new every day. Ask yourself if, in becoming a housewife, you have not, day by day, been building a little wall around yourself and your home and your household duties. Ask yourself if you have cultivated a real, vital interest or if you have acquired any additional knowledge—be it ever so slight.

The mind which is growing may not always behave perfectly, but it is the mind best able to withstand all the ills that the human mind is heir to. The two simple truths about the mind are these:

Your mind depends upon a healthy body and your mind must continue to grow. Each has its place in your daily life if you would help your mind behave.

"THE OLD GYM" TO BE SOLD

capacity on the east side was increased, also. A new hardwood floor was laid. Since then hundreds of exciting athletic contests have been staged there.

On September 23, 1919, the trustees of the Decatur Athletic Association bought the building and real estate from Mr. Bosse for $3,500. On May 5, 1921, the property was sold to the Decatur school board.

Since the completion of the addition to the Decatur high school building, which contains an auditorium and gymnasium, the public schools of the city have not used the old gymnasium much. The Catholic school pupils continued to use the old gymnasium until the new Catholic school building, which contains a modern gymnasium, was completed two years ago. Since that time, the building has been used mainly by the basketball teams of the Monmouth, Monroe, Kirkland and Pleasant Mills high schools, and an occasional public meeting.

SCOUTS ACCEPT A CHALLENGE

influence of the church—recognize the eternal truth in the President's set vaameth: ETAOI RF HM dent's statement:

"The organization is not intended to take the place of the home or religion, but to supplement and cooperate with those important factors in our national life. We hear much talk of the decline in the influence of religion, of the loosening of the home ties, of the lack of discipline, all tending to break down reverence and respect for the laws of God and to man. Such thought as I have been able to give to the subject and such observations as have come within my experience have convinced me that there is no substitute for the influences of the home and of religion.

"In the past I have declared my conviction that our government rests upon religion; that religion is the source from which we derive our reverence for truth and justice, for equality and liberty, and for the rights of mankind. So wisely and liberally is the Boy Scout movement designed that the various religious denominations have found it a most helpful agency in arousing and maintaining interest in the work of their various societies. This has helped to emphasize in the minds of youth the importance of teaching our boys to respect the religious opinions of others."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, for only 75c, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.
