the ideals and purposes of the Legion, and urged all who were eligible to unite in the Legion.

At the business session, many matters of interest were discussed and plans were laid to carry out a program of unusual activity. An effort is being made to secure suitable quarters for the post and it is possible that a definite announcement of the same may be made within a week or ten days.

An organization was effected at last night's meeting for the conduct of an extensive and thorough campaign for increased memberships. Two teams, captained by Charles F. Starost and Walter Wilkinson, were selected and these teams will call upon every eligible man between now and March 1. At the close of the campaign, prizes will be awarded to the team bringing in the most members and the losing team will give a banquet for the winners. The post now has a membership of 90.

Need $258,076.43 To Put I. U. Properties In First Class Condition

Washington, Feb. 10 (United Press)—Cost of putting Indiana University properties in first class condition will total $258,076.43, according to estimates submitted to trustees by Indianapolis contractors who have just completed inspection of buildings and grounds.

All buildings were inspected in detail and the contractors believe nearly half of the total will be required for repair of buildings. Estimated cost of required repairs will total $124,583.83, the contractors state.

Walls and drives will require another $56,607.60, according to the estimate while wiring and electrical repair work will take still another $56,000. The smallest essential item is that of plumbing and that alone totals $20,825.

Rewiring of several buildings was cited as essential at once in order to eliminate fire hazards which may cost the state much more, the contractors stated.

The budget request of the university, now before the state legislature at Indianapolis, calls for an increase of but $215,000 for repairs, which President W. L. Bryan of the University considers low rather than excessive.

The state budget committee has recommended an increase of $50,000 for repairs, nearly four-fifths less than requested.

Estimates of contractors were made public by President Bryan in an effort to show that the university budget requests cover only actual needs.

Timber Resources Are Heavily Hit By Forest Fires During Past Year

Washington, (United Press)—Forest fires took a huge toll in the nation's timber resources last year, according to figures submitted to Congress by E. A. Sherman, associate Forester of the Agriculture Department.

The largest number of fires in history, 8,263, occurred in 1926, destroying 257,376 hard feet of timber. These fires covered a total area of 6722,000 acres.

While the number of fires were the largest in history, quick action by the Forestry Service prevented the damage from becoming as great as that of other years. In 1919 there were 6,800 fires which destroyed 3,713,903, the largest destruction on record.

"The trouble during the past season was not so much in the number of fires because the number was slightly less than normal for recent years; but was due chiefly to the bunching of lightning fires. Most of the lightning fires came from two storms, one on July 6 and one on the 12. So many fires started by those two storms, particularly the latter one, that the available force of guards and rangers was not able to get around fast enough to keep them under control.

These two storms covered practically the whole of northern Washington and northern Idaho and the western part of northern Montana.

The second prize was won by C. W. R. Schwartz of north of Berne. He won $15 and a gold medal. The third prize of $10.00 and gold medal went to Joe P. Habegger and the fourth prize and gold medal was awarded to David C. Nussbaum.

One dollar prizes and medals were awarded to each of the following men: Albert Davison, the youngest feeder of a ton litter, and Joe Heiman.

Six men, who did not attain the ton litter mark but fed litters of 1,800 pounds and received silver medals were, Ben Mazelin, William Burchy, C. P. Steury, Martin Habegger, Elmer Inniger and Orval Jones. Other men to receive honorable mention were J. Sommer, Ed. Gilliom, Ben Colter, Joel H. Habegger, Leonard Sprunger and John W. Blakely. The latter medals were awarded by the Indiana Livestock Breeders' Association.

Joe Habegger, litter feeder who has never been equalled in the state, was asked to make a speech and tell how he happened to feed three litters weighing 2,686, 2,678 and 2,662 pounds each. He meekly said he would rather do that than tell an audience of 150 men how it was done. Mr. Blakely also made a speech.

Medals for the five-acre corn contestants will be awarded by the Indiana Corn Growers' Association. The medals did not arrive but due announcement of these will be made in a later issue.

Gold medal colt club men received the medals for feeding colts to the required gain per year.

Adams county dairymen were also

"Boy-Catcher's" Car Gets Russian Waifs

Moscow (United Press)—A "boy-catcher's wagon" on rails, like the familiar dog-catcher's carts, has been put into service to round up the homeless waifs in the Soviet state and to bring them to governmental shelters. The homeless boys, who are products of the World War, the civil war and the Russian revolution, gather around railway stations. They often hop onto moving freight trains when they want to travel. The special car, equipped to care for the boys who are caught, makes frequent trips between Moscow, Leningrad and Kazan.

Mrs. James Elberson and Mrs. C. Humphrey spent Wednesday afternoon in Fort Wayne.
