GILLIOM SUPPLIES AN ALLEGED "BILL OF PARTICULARS"

ville embarked D. C. Stephenson in klan activities among southern Democrats to enable him to carry out his intentions of becoming the Democratic candidate for governor. (The reference was to Ben Bosse.)

"3. In 1922, the only Democratic candidates elected on a state-wide vote, namely, United States senator, state auditor and clerk of the state supreme court, had the unquestioned support of the klan.

"4. In 1924, there were many klan delegates in the Democratic state convention. Four candidates for state offices there nominated, viz; for judge of the supreme court, state treasurer, state auditor and attorney general, had the organized support of the klan and they ran 100,000 votes ahead of the Democratic candidate for governor.

"5. In the 1924 Democratic national convention, Indiana Democrats treated with Wizard Evans and southern klan delegates for support of their candidate for president.

"6. In 1925, Stephenson played a part in arranging conditions on which the bolting Democratic senators of the Indiana senate returned to their duties from Dayton, Ohio.

"7. In the 1926 election, the organized klan vote supported the Democratic candidates for state treasurer and clerk of the supreme court.

"8. In the 1926 election, the Democratic candidate for senator opposing Senator Watson carried most of the counties where the klan was strong, and he never mentioned them publicly, through importuned, while Senator Watson denied publicly under oath that he belonged to them.

"I suggest no inference that the Democratic candidate did belong, but it was plain that he was not alienating their support.

"9. In many counties normally Republican, the Democratic county tickets won in 1924 and in 1926 with klan aid.

"10. Right now the principal klan activities are among Democratic voters to create opposition to the nomination of Al Smith. That is why Senator Hefflin toured Indiana recently and addressed klan gatherings."

Gilliom charged that the Indiana Anti-Saloon League was able to force Democratic candidates to make written promises to the league "incompatible with the essence of representative government."

"In 1924, the Democratic candidate for judge of the supreme court opposing Justice Willoughby made his peace and had the combined support of the Anti-Saloon League and the klan so that he ran more than 100,000 votes ahead of the Democratic candidate for governor," Gilliom charged.

"Again in 1926," Gilliom continued "The Democratic candidate for judge of the supreme court had the support of the super-government 100 per cent in its effort to control the court and its decisions. Many other illustrations can be furnished.

"I have urged a Republican governor to recommend to the next legislature, which will have some Democratic members, an amendment to the state dry law so as to have it conform to the Volstead law, which permits medical liquor.

"Will you also urge in the Democratic party that this tyrannical sup-ergovernmental interference with the most fundamental natural right be eliminated, since Democratic legislators, responding to the will of super government, helped to enact it?"

ILLINOIS MINERS GO BACK TO WORK

Work Is Resumed Today
After Strike Which Started On April 1 Is Ended

Marion, Ill., Oct. 3.—(UP)—The work whistle sounded in the Illinois coal fields this morning and the fuel which will keep thousands of industries at work began to come out of the earth for the first time since a strike was proclaimed, April 1.

Settlement of the wage controversy between unions and mine operators and the return to normal conditions in the coal fields throughout the state brought unsurpassed rejoicing among the people whose living depends on the steady flow of loaded coal cars from the mine region.

All day Sunday in every town boasting a shaft, derelict automobiles, small trucks, touring bungalows, and every manner of vehicle brought the families who left the coal towns at the time of the strike back to their homes. Trains brought other hur-dreds.

WILL HOLD CORN BORER MEETING

Demonstration of Low Corn Cutting To Be Held Near Berne Thursday

Every farmer in Adams county who failed to attend the corn borer meeting held near Decatur last Wednesday should not fail to be at the low cutting demonstration planned for next Thursday. This demonstration and meeting will be held on the E. H. Gil-liom farm, which is located one mile north of Berne, west of State road 27.

Beginning promptly at 1:30 o'clock engineers from Auburn Corn Borer office will begin cutting corn, using blinder with low cutting attachments.
Following this, the use of home made sled cutters will be demonstrated.

A part of the meeting which proved most interesting last week and which undoubtedly will be a similar feature at next Thursday's meeting is the time devoted to questions and answers on the corn borer. The State Department of corn borer regulations will have a man present to explain the clean-up requirements to be observed this year, as well as answer all questions. Anyone not being sure of what is required by way of clean should not fail to be there.
