Mrs. James Fletcher was hostess to the Young Matrons Club, Tuesday evening, at her home on Mercer Avenue.
After a short business meeting, Mrs.
Ira Schroyer assumed charge of the program for the evening, and used as her subject for a very interesting paper, "Literature of the Bible." Mrs.
Schroyer illustrated her paper with sacred vocal solos, and Mrs. Charles Langston played a group of piano solos. A social hour followed the program, during which the hostess served a dainty lunch. Mrs. Charles Langston and Mrs. Robert Krick were guests

PYTHIAN NEEDLE CLUB HEAR BIRDIES SING

The birds sang merrily, Tuesday afternoon, when a committee comprised of Mrs. Ed. Ehr. Mrs. Fred Ahr, Mrs. Leo Annen and Mrs. Millard Baumgartner were hostesses to forty members and six guests of the Pythian Needle Club, at the K. of P.
Home. After a short business session, the guests, two at a time, were conducted into a small room where they were permitted to fish in a fish pond. Their catch proved to be a comic valentine in an envelope. The backs of the envelopes were numbered and those numbers were to be matched with numbers on fancy valentine place cards in finding their seats at the tables in the dining room. As the guests entered the dining room, they beheld birds everywhere, parrots and canaries in yarn cages suspended from the ceiling of the room.
One real sure canary greeted them with a merry song, while the song of the other birds was manufactured by the hostesses with bird warbler whistles. After the guests were seated, a delicious luncheon consisting of baked potatoes, veal loaf, hot rolls, salad, cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee, was served in two courses. Guests other than the Club members were: Mrs. Carrie Sutherland, Mrs. Virgil Hoy, Mrs.
Frances Howell, Mrs. Russell Baumgartner, Mrs. Art Krugh and Mrs.
Albert Deikeke.

The Baptist Woman's Society will meet Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock with Mrs. H. M. Shroll. There will be special business and all members are requested to be present.

by the Sorority, to entertain their Grand Inspectress, Mrs. Helen Van

Murray Hotel. After the dinner, Mrs.
Rice will be hostess to the Sorority

Dog Lovers Evolve Plan To Stop Thefts Of Canines

Marion, Ind., Feb. 1.—(INS)—After losing a number of valuable dogs through thefts, members of the Marion Hunting Club and other dog lovers of this city have evolved a plan to stop the depredations.
I. F. Shildner, secretary of the club said that dogs were listed for taxation and records that these RT taxation and proposed that these records of the animals so taxed were kept by the county. It was proposed that these records be used for identification purposes and for the checking of the sale of stolen dogs. Members of the club believed that it would be as easy to recover dogs in this manner as it is to find stolen automobiles.
The club planned a vigorous campaign to arrest and convict all dog thieves in the county.

Agreement Reached In Squabble At Indianapolis Regarding Mayor

Indianapolis, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Difficulties that threatened to beset Mayor L. Ert Slack as result of the city council voting that it acted illegally in electing him were cleared away today by the agreement of Cyde E. Robinson, county treasurer, to pay city warrants signed by Sterling R. Holt, city controller.

The sole effect of the "ouster" resolution appeared to have been to emphasize the falling out between the six Republican councilmen and Mayor Slack, growing out of his replacement of Republicans with Democrats in the city hall.

If Robinson had carried out his threat to refuse to recognize Holt because he was appointed city controller by Slack, the city might have been financially embarrassed even more than it has been by the mayor-city tangle, but after a day of suspense, during which he conferred with attorneys, Robinson finally announced he would honor the pay vouchers.

On the other hand, Robinson refused to give encouragement to Ira M. Holmes, Republican attorney, who has filed suit to gain title to the mayor's office. When Holmes made formal demand for the mayor's salary, Robinson refused him.

SPECIAL MUSIC GIVEN AT REVIVAL

tion; second: This was a large family of brothers; third: Death visited this family, as it will visit every family, no matter how wealthy or how many in the family. When death calls you must answer. Fourth: One member of this family was in Hell and this is not the guess work of the preacher, but the exact reading of the Word of God; fifth, the rest of the family was going the same road; sixth, the thought of the one brother of a reunion was not at all pleasing to him and he urged that they be told to escape it; seventh, this family possessed all the means that they needed for spiritual salvation, but they would not "hear."
In the concluding remarks, of the pastor, he told of the selfish life that they lived, how wonderful were the opportunities for their doing good, the feeding, and caring for the poor man who was sick and hungry, and then the pastor carried the picture of the poor sinful hungry souls, in this community that need the help of the church of the Christians to bring them to the Master's table of salvation. For sin will separate you loved ones in eternity as it does here unless it is halted. God with just a few pen strokes gives a view of Hell, said Rev. Smith, where there is tormenting, where memory of your evil life taunts you, where there is no escaping throughout all eternity.
Then the pen shows us Heaven, pictured as security, of joy and pleasure.

Thus ended the sermon, as the pastor appealed to them to make a family record here that would be pleasing to God. Services tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The motto last night was, "No to God is yes, to the Devil and yes to God is no to the Devil."

Rydzewski, prominent in democratic politics for nearly a half century, died last night at Coral Gables, Fla., where he had gone on physician's orders in the interest of his health.

sentence of his son, Frank X. Jr., on charges of bootlegging, was believed by friends to have hastened Rydewski's death. He was suffering from Bright's disease.

U. S. Now Has Wild Animals For Sale

Washington.—(UP)—The United States government is now in the wild animal business.
Uncle Sam will sell you a buffalo, elk or some other big game animals that roam reservations maintained by the agriculture department.
These animals are available either for stocking or exhibition purposes.
Reservations are overstocked so the government must dispose of surplus game to assure food for animals retained.

Federal officials said that no hunting is allowed on big game preserves and reduction is accomplished by capture of the animals.

Blind Boy, At 17, Wins High School Honors; Is Professional Pianist

Mansfield, Ohio.—(INS)—Blindness proved no handicap for Howard Alderman, 17, Mansfield high school student, who just recently won the honors of his mid-year graduating class in senior high school here.

school course with a total of 107 "A's" and four "B's"—a total of 551 points.
His credits were 18, two more than the number necessary to graduate.
All of Alderman's studying was through the Braille system. His reports were all typewritten by himself.
Alderman, in addition to his proficiency in school studies, is classed among the best pianists in Mansfield.

VANITY MAY COST WOMAN HER LIFE

Both Legs Amputated After Operation To Remove Bow From Them

Chicago, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Miss Sadie Holland of Detroit, who recently underwent an operation to have her bow legs straightened, was reported in a critical condition today after both her legs had been amputated.

Gangrene set in, making the amputation necessary, physicians said.
Joseph I. Holland, the girl's brother, said Dr. Henry J. Schireson, plastic surgeon, performed the original operation, promising the young woman it would make her legs straight.

After the operation, Dr. William Van Doren, the Holland family physician, examined the girl. Later he called in Dr. Paul Magnuson, surgeon, who performed the amputation.
Benjamin Ehrlich, attorney for Dr.
Schireson, said today that Dr. Schireson and Dr. S. D. Zaph performed the original operation on Miss Holland.

The operation was not dangerous, and Miss Holland was recovering, he said. Then, over the protest of Dr.
Schireson, Ehrlich said, Dr. Van Doren ordered Miss Holland removed from one hospital to another.

Miss Holland signed a statement, he said, relieving Dr. Schireson and Dr. Zaph of responsibility in the removal. Ehrlich said Dr. Schireson warned that the transfer in cold weather might be dangerous.

Examinations when Miss Holland left the hospital showed she was in good condition, Ehrlich said.
Dr. Schireson was out of the city
