Physicians feared that both would die. Neither of their two children was harmed. They had builded a fire in a fireplace on arising, using lacquer to hurry the blaze and placing the can nearby. While they were seated in their night clothes before the fireplace, the can exploded, spraying them with burning lacquer. In attempts to extinguish the flames, they rolled in bed clothing and into a tub. Two neighbors, Mrs. Edgill Herriott and Mrs. Harry Shornie, finally wrapped the bed clothing around them and smothered the fire.

Guards Fail to Appear At Mayor Slack's Office Indianapolis, Feb. 3—(UP) The Republican majority of the city council which added to the complications of the mayoralty tangle by voting to rescind its election of Mayor L. Eli Slack, claimed a minor victory over his administration today. The four uniformed policemen, who had mounted guards at the door of Slack's office because of the fear that efforts might be made to put the Mayor out bodily, did not appear this morning. Their presence since last Monday had aroused the anger of the Republican councilmen. The majority expressed itself Wednesday by holding a secret caucus.
