The Woman's Home Companion is running a story of the life of Mrs. Gene Stratton-Porter and the chapter in the March number now out, tells of her residence in this city and her early married life in an interesting way. The story is written by the daughter of Mrs. Porter.

The finance committee for Old Home Week will start their campaign next week and believe they have a plan which will succeed. Watch for announcements the middle of next week. You will be interested.

Joe Simmons has returned from Detroit where he attended the convention of Lincoln Life agents.

J. D. Ross, of Indianapolis, was here today to arrange for the burial of his mother, Mrs. Murphy. Mr. Ross will be well remembered by the older folks here as he spent his boyhood days in this city. He is a painting contractor and has prospered.

Among those from this city who accompanied the Decatur high school basketball team to Elwood, today, were: L. A. Graham, Herbert Fuhrman Wilson Beery, John Wilson Beery, Don Koos, Bill Engle, Fred McConnell Stanley Callow, Dick McConnell, Dr. Burt Mangold, Ralph Yager Walter Krick, Lawrence Beal, Hansel Foley, Miss Virginia Hite, Miss Marcella Hower and Miss Mildred Liddy.

Clarence Bell Speaks At Rotary Club Meeting

Clarence E. Bell, of the LaFontaine Handle company and delegate of the Decatur Rotary Club to the International Rotary convention at Ostend, Belgium, last June, gave an instructive talk on "The Rotarian—his responsibility to his vocation," to the local club last night. As part of an educational campaign in Rotary, Mr. Bell delivered the same talk before the Bluffton and Huntington clubs, recently, and is scheduled to talk before the Portland, Hartford City and Marion clubs in the near future. His paper touched on an individual's responsibility to his vocation and what he owed it in the way of giving service and representing it in a creditable manner.

SELECTION OF JACKSON JURY MOVES RAPIDLY

Kinsley M. Johnson, assistant prosecutor, said "today—and that's only my guess."

As the hours of the trial passed the questions to the jurors became less of a routine nature and more pertinent to the issues of the case.

Lawyers for both sides endeavored in their questioning to interpret the intricate statute of limitations which the defense will utilize.

Indications also came that Governor Jackson might take the stand.

"I DON'T CHOOSE TO RUN IN 1928", JOKES HICKMAN

Lawyers were talking in court. I knew there was no use to sit there and worry. I knew it was either guilty or not guilty, which ever same or insane meant. It was all predestined.

Asked if he had always believed in predestination, he replied, "No. I only thought about that after I was caught. Then I began to reason that things must be mapped out for us in life so I just took what came along."

The youthful kidnaper-killer said that he was reconciled to the thought or death on the gallows. "But," he added, "I wish they would use me as a scientific study."

Another Child Murder Is Narrowly Averted

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 10.—(UP)—Another child murder was believed to have been narrowly averted here last night, and today posses hunted a 21-year-old youth charged with kidnapping Helen Gillett, 5.

The youth was Lester Daniels, 21, Walton Gillett, factory worker father of the girl, charged the youth kidnapped Helen and was standing over her with a butcher knife in his teeth when Gillett found him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kern and sons of Saginaw, Michigan are visiting in this county.
