LINDY'S FORTUNE GROWING RAPIDLY

St. Louis threw $25,000 at his feet for the Paris flight. And the pan-American flight, undertaken chiefly as a tribute to his friend and admirer Dwight Morrow soon after the latter moved to the United States embassy at Mexico City, further swelled his income for the year.

The Hubbard medal award carried $25,000 cash and a life annuity of $5,000—equal to a cash gift of more than $100,000. The Woodrow Wilson peace award, to be bestowed this month, will bring him $25,000 more. Through it all he remains a colonel in the reserve corps, the pay of which would buy gasoline for a fellow who flew less.

Lindy's expenses have been paid on virtually every flight since his return to America in June. But pilots who have escorted him declare his money is no good anywhere. Hotel managers, gasoline merchants and even taxi drivers refuse to accept his cash.

His more pessimistic friends declare that his life is charmed—that, try as he will, he cannot avoid the evil luck of amassing a second million soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Keller were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conkling, in Bluffton.
