Creek Goes On Rampage, Flooding Madison, Ind.

Madison, Ind., June 6.—(P.S.)—Fire bells sounded the alarm here when a sudden flood came tearing down crooked creek and flooded several city blocks in the vicinity of North Walnut street.

The creek went on a rampage following heavy rains.

The laundry water rose to a depth of more than a foot in many homes, flooded cellars and filled cisterns.

When the fire bells rang the alarm citizens from all over the city rushed to the scene to render aid. Small boats were brought by trucks from the Ohio river and household goods from inundated homes were removed.

The flood waters subsided quickly, however, leaving a heavy deposit of mud and debris in their wake. Today the creek was running bank full.

Damage estimated at several thousands of dollars was done.

FIVE MISSING AIRMEN SAFE

Seward, Alaska, June 6.—(U.P.)—Five airmen who had not been heard from for nearly a month were safe at Point Barrow today, suffering from cold and exposure.

Matt A. Nieminen and Richard Heyser, who flew in a relief plane from Fairbanks to Point Barrow, returned to Kotzebue on the North-western coast of Alaska. The searchers had been overdue from Point Barrow.

Reports received here said the planes piloted by Noel Wien and Russell Merrill and carrying three passengers were forced down 150 miles from Point Barrow. The aviators and their passengers left Wiseman for Point Barrow on May 13 and expected to return the next night.

The reports said Merrill walked 100 miles for help and was in a hospital at Point Barrow suffering from snow blindness. Other members of the party, Wien, L. Virgil Hart, Charles G. Clarke and Jack Robertson, also were receiving medical attention.

CREWS OF TWO PLANES RUSHING PLANS FOR HOP

said that he regards as the best airplane runway in the world.

Captain Kingsford-Smith announced the two Americans with the Southern Cross, Captain Harry Lyon, navigator, and James Warner, radio operator, would continue the flight to Australia.

Originally the Americans planned to leave the expedition here. Captain Kingsford-Smith and his fellow countryman, Charles T. P. Ulm, relief pilot were to go on to their native land alone.

Captain Kingsford-Smith and Ulm made a thorough inspection of the Southern Cross and tested out its motors today. They pronounced the craft in perfect condition.

Lyon checked the charts for the flight of nearly 1800 miles over the Pacific to Brisbane and Warner superintended the recharging of the batteries of his radio set.

Members of the crew revealed that barely 20 gallons of gasoline remained in the tanks of the Southern Cross when it landed here.

On leaving Hawaii they estimated they carried enough gasoline to reach Suva with a surplus for two hundred miles more. Storms encountered on the way cut down the reserve.
