Stabilization Of France Puts Nobility To Work

By International News Service
Paris — Stabilization of the franc has set French nobility to work. Information bureau, room-renting agencies and employment offices in Paris report the visits of innumerable countesses, viscountesses and other noble offspring in search of means to increase their low income. Large numbers of them are crowding their families into a few rooms and renting the rest of their chateaux and palaces. Before Poincare actually brought about the act of stabilizing the warring franc, they held out some hope of recovering their lost fortunes. Today they can only realize the truth.

At 98, Captain Continues To Pilot His Steamer On Lake

St. Albans, Vt.—(U.P.)—Seventy-one years ago Eli B. Rockwell took out his first pilot's license. Today, hale and hearty in his 98th year, Captain Rockwell is daily on the bridge of the steamer Vermont at it plies up and down Lake Champlain.

The venerable captain's ambition is to round out 88 years of service as a sailor on Lake Champlain. This he will do, he vows, if he attains the century mark.

"I do not spend too much time in reviewing the past," he says, "but look forward to the future. Even with 98 years behind me, I am planning for the future. Do you know what my plans are? Well, they are to spend at least two years more in the pilot house of the Vermont."

In 1868, the captain, then pilot of the steamer Adirondack, saved 125 lives by quick thinking. One night a fire started in the boiler room. He rushed in and realizing that the small stream of water from the pump would have little effect on the fire, turned the hose on the hot boiler which created enough steam to extinguish the flames.

During his 86 years on the Lake, not an accident has been checked against his name. He has held the rank of captain of the Vermont since it was built 27 years ago.

Leo Weber Sells Four Saddle Horses At Lake

Leo J. Weber, of Decatur, who takes a number of saddle horses to Bass Lake each summer, recently sold four of his horses to a Detroit man, according to an item in the Bass Lake Sunday Times, last Sunday. The item is as follows:

"Leo J. Weber, well-known saddle horse man, who has had fine saddle horses at the Kaley barn for the past several seasons sold four of his saddle horses to Mr. San Weinberg of Detroit, Michigan. These horses are to be used at a riding academy at Detroit, and Mr. Weinberg stated that he had been unable to find any saddle horses anywhere that were as nice as those he purchased of Mr. Weber. The horses sold were Lindberg, Jim Boy, White Sox and Nellie, the latter the bay mare formerly owned by Miss Mildred Musser. The horses were sold for $600.

"Mr. Weber has an unusually fine bunch of horses this year. Five of the bunch he has now secured from the Black Horse Troop at Culver and everyone knows that this means good horses.

"More people are taking an interest in horseback riding than any former season and arrangements are made nearly every morning at daybreak for a group of riders. This is really the nicest time of the day to ride and many folks at the lake get real enjoyment from this sport."

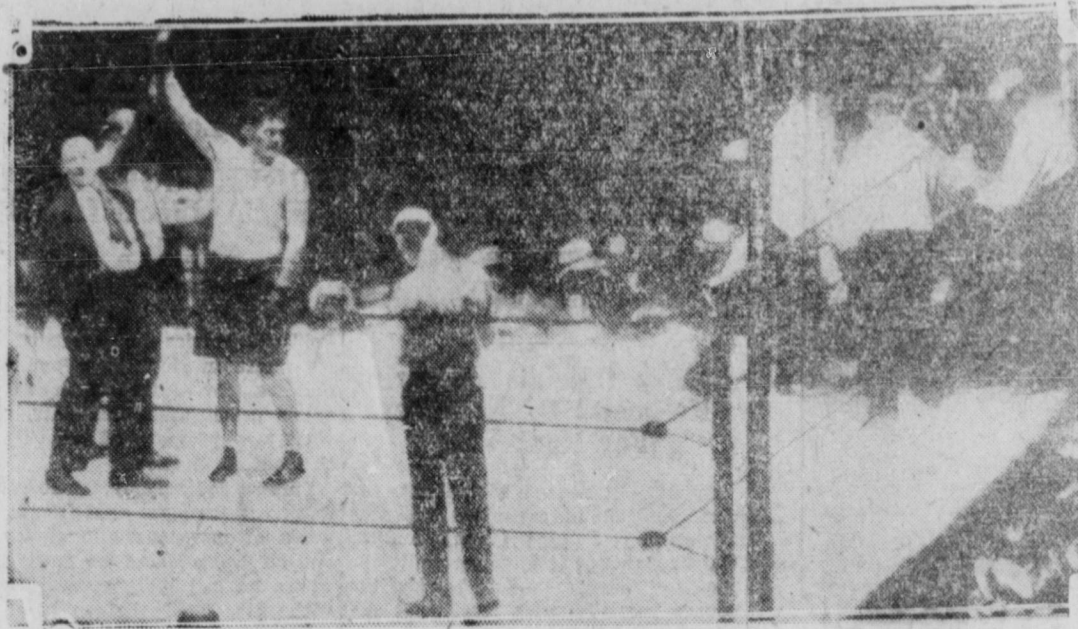

APPOINTMENT OF ADMINISTRATRIX Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed Administratrix of the estate of James H. Ward, late of Adams County, deceased. The estate is probably solvent.

Kansas City Raises $25,000 Fund And Builds Home For Slain Cop's Family

By Jack A. Bradbury,
INS Staff Correspondent

Kansas City, Mo.—A smile will go a long, long way; and Kansas City policemen have learned that it surely pays.

James A. Smith was an elevator operator in a local office building, and because of his cheerful countenance and continual smiles he won the titles of "Smilin' Jim" and later that of "Happy."

Grown to manhood, "Happy" joined the police force here and carried his smiles with him despite all hardships and dangers connected with the job.

For several years Smith was the traffic patrolman at one of Kansas City's busiest intersections. His pleasant disposition and demeanor toward everyone with whom he came in contact, regardless of race or creed, right or wrong as they might be in traffic, won for him a reputation which spread into many states.

Killed By Bandits

Recently, while thousands of persons were crossing "Happy's" beat enroute to the Republican national convention, a daring bandit quintet staged a daylight robbery at a bank a half block from the policeman's post.

As the traffic officer rushed to the scene, the bandits, armed with machine gun, rifles, shotguns and revolvers, shot him down amid hundreds of persons on the busy street. Another policeman and three innocent bystanders were marked with the bandit's bullets.

A few hours later Happy died. For hours the police department was besieged with thousands of calls asking about the officer. Many were from shop girls and stenographers who worked near Happy, while others were from people in all walks of life. "How is Happy—I didn't know him personally, but of course I've heard of him," they would say.

Thousands of citizens braved a steady downpour of rain to attend his funeral.

Then someone suggested a fund for his family, including his wife and five young children.

No sooner said than done. Public subscriptions were received by newspapers and a box was erected near where the officer was slain. Offerings came in by mail from many distant cities where the officer's smile had been spread.

Benefit Shows Help

Will Rogers, the famous cowboy-humorist, was in Kansas City attending the convention, and gave a special performance with the entire proceeds going to the policeman's family.

Other benefit shows were given. On one occasion the headliners of several downtown shows gave a special midnight show jointly, which was attended by about 4,000 persons.

A total of nearly $25,000 was added to a $5,000 life insurance policy of Smith's should place his family on a substantial basis for many years.

This, however, was not enough in token of the smiles. Workmen are busily engaged in erecting a new home for the Smiths, all material, ground and labor donated.

Ninth Olympiad Officially Opened At Amsterdam Today

Amsterdam, July 28.—(U.P.)—The ninth Olympiad was opened today by Prince Henry, the prince consort, as the 4,250 men and women athletes participated in a colorful parade around the stadium in which they will begin tomorrow to compete for athletic honors.

Delegations from 44 nations, gaily costumed, were in the parade. Of these the United States delegation obtained the least applause; possibly because it was figured that theirs would come later.

There was a 45th delegation entered—the French. But the French refused to parade, saying that they had been refused permission to practice in the stadium yesterday, whereas the German team had. They threatened to withdraw from the games, but it was believed the incident would be smoothed over without difficulty.

WESLEY CRIST DIES AT ELKHART

Former Adams County Resident Dies Of Heart Trouble; Funeral Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fugate, Mr. and Mrs. John Floyd, Mr. and Mrs. John Crist, Mr. and Mrs. B.F. Breiner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crist, Mrs. Hattie Andrews and Miss Lizzie Crist, of this city, motored to Elkhart, Friday, where they attended the funeral services for Henry Wesley Crist, 61, who died at his home in that city, Wednesday. Death was due to heart trouble and Bright's disease.

The deceased was born in Adams county, Indiana, July 29, 1866, the son of Jonathan and Martha Crist. In 1873 he moved with his parents to Minnesota, but returned to this county in 1890 and united in marriage with Miss Mary McWhirter, who preceded him in death Nov. 18, 1921.

Mr. Crist had been a resident of Elkhart since 1893. Funeral services were held at the Oakland Avenue Evangelical church in Elkhart, at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, with burial in the Elkhart cemetery.

CITIZENS of New York State alone lost over $500,000,000 invested in worthless securities in the last year, according to reliable authority. Think of it! Multiply it by the number of states in the union and imagine what a staggering amount of hard-earned money flows into the coffers of fake stock promoters!

Like the "hand-writing on the wall"—it's an object lesson to the man with money to invest. Before he parts with a dollar, he should seek the advice of trustworthy, experienced, financial men. This Bank's officials gladly offer their services!
