Flapper Wife Is A Mother At Heart Says Census Chief
 By Clem Whitaker
 (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
 Sacramento, Calif.—The flapper wife, flippant and decollete though she may be, does not scorn motherhood! She's still a mother at heart, ruled by the instinct maternal and enslaved by the patter of baby feet, according to L. E. Ross, Chief of California's infant census bureau.
 In one respect, motherhood has changed, Ross admits. The modern girls limits her family, usually fixing a limit that permits parents and children to roll about in a five-passenger car without crowding.
 But childless marriages in California at least, are few and far between. Though she violates all the standards that are dear to the heart of a mother-in-law, the California wife is a mother none the less and a good one.
 Only 6.5 per cent of all California marriages are childless, Ross' survey shows and in some cases these are involuntary.
 California's birth rate is lower than that for the nation as a whole, Ross explains, but that is due to the size of families—not to wives scornful of motherhood. Thirty-two per cent of California mothers have only one child. And the average family varies from two to three children, while in the country generally the average is more than three.

Houge Still Fighting For Mayor Slack's Job

Indianapolis, July 30.—(U.P.)—Another appeal was filed with the state supreme court today in behalf of Joseph L. Houge who contends he should be mayor of Indianapolis. Thomas L. Daily, lawyer for Houge, filed the petition. He said:
 "Before taking this step, however, we would like to see the dissenting opinion of Judge Julius C. Travers, of Laporte, and the concurring opinion of Chief Justice David A. Myers, of Greensburg."
 "There are certain points in Judge Benjamin Willoughby's opinion which I believed may be controverted and grant Houge an opportunity for rehearing."
 The petition will be in all probabilities filed within the next three weeks, Daily said.

ARE YOU GOOD AT FIGURES?

A very deep and difficult problem comes up in the play, "The Inheritance," which is soon to be presented in the city.
 Dr. Lathan, the leading heavy of the show, and played by Fred Schurfer, engages "Toph" the clown, played by Herman Myers, to work as butler for his household.
 When asked how much salary he wanted, Toph was at a loss to name a figure, until he remembered hearing that at one time, some men worked for a penny a day. The doctor agrees to pay him a penny for the first day and there after double the amount of each previous day.
 After 30 days Toph loses his job and presents his bill. What was it?
 The management of the show will give one dollar to each of the first five who send in the correct bill.
 Also four complimentary tickets to the show, will be given the five winners.
 Send in your answers to Mr. Jos. Laurant, 304 No. Third street.

Russian Peasant Class

The term "middle peasantry" defines a class of people in Russia. It is composed of wealthier peasants, those who not only work on farms, but have progressed to the point that they hire other peasants to work for them. Their status is hard to determine, since they are part property owners and part tillers. Occupation and use are titles of ownership. The peasant is not free to develop into an absentee landlord.

Chess 5,000 Years Ago?

A game resembling chess was played in India over 5,000 years ago. It spread into Persia and Arabia and was brought into Spain by the Arabs in the Eighth century. The name is derived from the Persian shahmat, checkmate or king-confounded.—Mentor Magazine.

Band Plays National Anthem At Beginning Of Program; Fools Audience

LA PORTE, Ind., July 30.—(INS)—Finding the clash of shifting gears and the roar of departing motors, caused by the dispersing of their audience, seriously interfered with their rendition of the national anthem, when it was played as a closing number, the La Porte city band has reversed the usual order of procedure and now opens its concerts with the martial notes of The Star Spangled Banner.
 The innovation threatens to wreck the practice which has almost become an institution in band procedure.

Men Eating Candy, Omitting Cigarettes; Women Smoke More

(By International News Service)
 London, July 30.—Men are eating more candy and smoking less. Women are smoking more and eating fewer candies.
 This marked change in the habit of men and women was revealed at the annual Chocolate and Confectionery Exhibition here, when exhibition bemoaned the fact that the boyish silhouette among women does not encourage the eating of sweets.
 "Women and girls are now eating fewer candies compared with the days before it became fashionable to be thin," said one exhibitor. "It is not that they do not like candy just as much, but they have an idea it will make them fat. The money they once spent on candy they will now spend on cigarettes."
 "On the other hand, the candy habit acquired by many men during the world war has survived, and we find the male is a large purchaser of sweets nowadays. Consequently he is smoking less."
