Cheats Chair Twice On Friday, The 13th, Slayer Wins Appeal

(By International News Service)
Raleigh, N. C.—Larry Newson, negro slayer on Death's Row here, doesn't hold any superstition regarding Friday the 13th.

On two occasions, Newsome has been sentenced to die in the electric chair for murder, yet each time an appeal to the supreme court saved him. The last time, when preparations had been made for the execution, it was discovered that while the trial judge had sentenced the negro to die on Friday the 13th, he also had specified a time of 40 days in which he could appeal.

The time hadn't expired when the fateful Friday the 13th came. Now Newsome has a lease on life until in the fall when the supreme court reconvenes, and he can perfect his appeal.

OBITUARY

Harold Marion Uhrick, son of James and Alta Uhrick, was born in Decatur, Indiana, July twenty-first, 1909, and departed this life in Fort Wayne, Indiana, July 26, 1928, at the age of 19 years and five days. He leaves to mourn his departure the father, mother, one sister Margaret and a host of other relatives and friends, two brothers preceded him in death. He was a member of the Bethany Presbyterian church. Harold was a boy who made friendships wherever he went and he leaves a large circle of friends who are grieved at his departure. He had been in failing health for more than two years but only took his bed on Tuesday morning, July 24 and on Thursday fell into a state of coma from which he never rallied and at nine o'clock that evening slept peacefully away into that sleep from which there is no awakening until the Resurrection morn when the grave shall give up the dead and all shall stand in the presence of God who shall judge according to the deeds done in the body.

yacht, Nina, which won against craft from various parts of the world in a race from New York to Santander, Spain, was equipped with an engine manufactured by a Columbus engine concern. While the Nina was powered by sails, the engine was used to generate electricity for lighting and other purposes and was arranged so that it could provide power for propellers if needed.

Chicago.—A check by the American Air Post Association shows that American business is taking the air. More than 100 concerns selected at random by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce shows that 41 made extensive use of the air mail and express, 39 made limited use and 16 reported "Once in a while" four made no use of the nation's air facilities at all.

With five cent air mail postage for the first ounce, and ten cents for each additional ounce, effective August 1st, a substantial increase in the number of firms using air transportation is expected to be shown.

Decatur Boy Scouts To Go To Camp Kekionga

Demonstration Of First Aid Work At Camp Kekionga

Six Decatur Boy Scouts will go to Camp Kekionga, the Scout camp located at Goose lake, Sunday, to spend two weeks. They are Robert Heller, James Burk, Bruce Wallace, Roland Reppert, Tom Burk and Robert Elzey. They will be taken to the camp by Avon Burk and Clarence Beavers. Several Scouts from Fort Wayne will be at the camp next week, also.

Camp Kekionga is owned and operated by Anthony Wayne Area

Council of Boy Scouts. The troops in the various cities and towns in the council are allotted two weeks each at the camp during the summer. The camp is a real Scout camp, for Scouts and run by Scouts. The program is a real mystery, no one knowing what the program for the following day will be until after the meeting of the patrol leaders and camp directors the previous evening. One morning, it will be a 4 o'clock call for a bird hike and perhaps the next morning it will be all sleep until 8 o'clock. There will be no two days alike.

There is no long list of rules and regulations at the camp, but every Scout is expected to keep his Scout obligations and any other rules will be those adopted by the campers themselves. There is a cook and two assistant cooks at the camp to prepare the food and regular dining room dishes are furnished each Scout in camp.

TALKING MOVIES OF BIG BROADWAY SHOWS PLANNED

New York, Aug. 2.—(INS)—Broadway shows for the smaller cities and towns of the country, with the original casts is the latest plan of theatrical producers. In the flesh and blood? Hardly. Its to be by the talking motion picture and virtually mean the end of the theatrical touring companies.

Plans practically completed by A. H. Woods, the Shuberts, William A. Brady, and Arthur Hammerstein will confine the activities of the stars of the theatrical world to cities like New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Detroit but a reproduction of their performances by the "talkies" will be available to cities, large and small, everywhere.

The producers mentioned have obtained control of the vocafilm corporation of America with offices and studios in New York, and are expected to begin making mechanical reproductions of their current theatrical successes in about six weeks, using the original cast.

The early Woods production of this season, "Jealousy," with Fay Bainter and Glenn Hunter as its stars is expected to be one of the first plays presented, others to follow in rapid order include "Fast Life," "A Man With Red Hair," an English play and a production in which Florence Reed will star. Several Shubert musical shows will follow in an effort to build up an extensive program for the smaller cities so that theatrical owners will be induced to install the vocafilm process which is said to cost only about $3,500 and is much cheaper than other similar processes.

Plays may be recorded in the theatre in which they are being produced, the time required being about two weeks.

The Actors' Equity Association will be a factor in the plans, however. The association recently warned its members to act cautiously in regard to talking film contracts. The association's attitude was expressed by Frank Gilmore, executive secretary of the association, who said:

"The association does not question that the managers will ask equity for its ruling on this matter before embarking on any such project. But in the meantime equity members are forbidden to make any such recording of their current productions without first consulting equity headquarters."

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM FOR OLD HOME WEEK

Niblick, directing the cast of 200 or more people who will take part.

Farm And Dairy Day

Wednesday will be Farm and Dairy day. There will be parades, awarding of prizes in the calf clubs, judging of entries, demonstrations and band concert throughout the day. The Cloverleaf Creameries Inc., of this city, will also give a special Dairy day program at the Creamery building on Winchester street. Three valuable calves will be given away. A speaker of note will address the many who will attend the program.

On Thursday, the lodges of Decatur will unite in a Fraternal Day program. Parades, drills, a firemen's water battle and addresses will be given.

On Friday an Industrial parade and exposition will constitute the main features on the program. Floats will be built for the big parade and the demonstration is expected to be one of the biggest of the week.

To End Saturday Night
On Saturday, there will be many attractions, including the free acts, band concerts, the repetition of the pageant and the grand closing Saturday night with a Madri Gras celebration.

The program is now taking form and an outline is given in tonight's Daily Democrat. The arrangement will, in all probability, be changed a little, the name and description of the free acts added and with every committee working and endeavoring to bring about the biggest celebration ever held in Decatur, the program will not only interest and entertain the many Home comers, but the thousands of others who will be attracted here.

WOMAN PROVES SUCCESSFUL AS GAME WARDEN

Sacramento, Cal.—(U.P.)—Disguising herself as a school girl or an aged woman in order to obtain evidence against fish and game law violators is only part of the day's work of Mrs. W. B. Sellmer of Fairfax, California, only woman game warden.

Mrs. Sellmer is 25 years old, has spent most of her life in the outdoors. Her childhood was spent on a ranch in the black hills of Alabama county, where she learned to ride horseback and helped her father to range.

The ink had barely dried on Mrs. Sellmer's commission as game warden on last September before she arrested a San Francisco man for shooting game from an automobile. A few days later she brought in another breaker with a bag of illegally taken songbirds.

At various times she has arrested a trapper, plying his trade without license; two deer-slayers, who shot doe in the Marin woods and returned under cover of night to take the illegal game; another hunter who killed a large buck by the aid of powerful spotlight, and five Japanese for taking undersized abalones from Tomales Bay.

In the latter arrest, the Japanese refused to "see the judge" the following day, as Mrs. Sellmer had ordered. Whereupon she demanded they accompany her to town at once. At some argument they consented, and the entire party crossed the bay in their boat.

"I wasn't scared, but their faces were so expressionless I couldn't tell what they were thinking," she recalled. "However, I was armed, and they were not. I always carry a pistol, although I have never once used it in making an arrest."
