Cowboy Band to Appear at Adams Theatre

Famous Broadcasting Organization
Will Give Programs, Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 3

Otto Gray's Oklahoma Cowboys, the famous Broadcasting Organization who Radio fans have been hearing from station KDKA Pittsburgh, WTAM Cleveland, WLW Cincinnati and many others, throughout the country, will appear in person at the Adams Theatre, Monday, Sept. 3.

Otto Gray, who manages the band is quite a master of ceremonies. He ropes, dances and keeps the boys at it all the time. Mrs. Gray sings and all who have heard her on the air know what is in store for the public when she sings on the stage.

The Cowboys are easily distinguished on the street for they wear the regular cowboy make-up. Large 10-gallon hats, spurs, and their boots. They are a well-met bunch and ready at all times to say "hello" to the public.

These cowboys came from the Shultz-Gray ranch in Oklahoma and their presentation of the cowboy songs has been received with much enthusiasm everywhere.

Hear them on the stage.
