Dear Friend Roy:

Mrs. Bell and myself will visit Decatur about Wednesday of Old Home Week. If you have any programs for the week would like you to send me one. Tell Martin Mylott I will put the gloves on with him. Hoping the week will be a big success. I am yours truly.

Dr. Roy Archibald.
Dear Sirs:

My Dear Sir and all old friends: It is with regrets to offer in the old home week Sept. 10 to 15 that I can not be with you. Much I would like to be, distance from you is a long ways, before coming to this coast, while living in Michigan I certainly would have been greatly pleased as many of our members as well as, of all the committees I used to be very well acquainted, have known them since little children. That takes me back to my childhood and a young man of many stances and loyal friends having lived in 6 or 8 different states, making new acquaintances and friends and so many years have passed since bidding adieu to the old town and birth place.

Yet I oftentimes think of you, well with all of my rambling, tell the folks I have never been arrested never had a law suit, never was sued, nursed the other fellows. I will be 73 in April next I have been a producer in a mechanical way and have much credit along that line, I worked over a year on parts that went into the Flagship on battleship California at Marie Island. Have scores of building to my credit. I was deputy sheriff of Kent county, Michigan for 4 years, have landed many behind the bars while in that capacity, have never left a place but what I can return and meet glad hands our immediate family are here on or near the coast with in a short drive by car. Four boys and 2 girls so we are very happy of that not being separated by thousands of miles. Some of the older citizens of Decatur can remember when a ticket could be fixed and vote people at the polls, if Perry Robinson is living ask him if he remembers bringing in John Toxel to vote on the Monday following at Monmouth. I got to see Tom Malonic, I asked him what he meant by letting Perry bring John in to town to have vote the democrat ticket, then he said John was at home when he left his house in the country. Well I told him that he was not there now, he said where is he, I told him up stairs over Little John Tonales store in the old Smith building so Tom Stote Froxel took him out home with him and voted him the Republican ticket. Don't think Perry ever knew how gave the thing away but he missed voting Troxel just the same. We are having fine weather Sun shiney days cool nights, splendid weather which is typical on this coast the year around. Our families regards to all who remember us.

Respectfully Yours

My family and myself are very grateful and thank your committee for your remembrance and invitation for Old Home Coming week, and would be very glad indeed to come back home and help celebrate, which to us would mean one of the most delightful and enjoyable weeks of our lives, for don't we remember the last great homecoming and the big time everybody had. Decatur people certainly know how to entertain, how to make one feel at home, to be among friends, and to be real honest to goodness folks.

To really appreciate the full meaning of real friends, especially to one who has lived as we have in Decatur a good share of our lives, one should go out among strangers for a while, although we make new friends and acquaintances, there is a difference. Old timers, tried and true, while new ones, well, you know it isn't the same. We would surely like to come back home, but cannot do so this year. Our plans for a long while, for coming back home, have been for next year, for then we expect to help celebrate fathers and mothers golden wedding, and being so far away, we cannot make both trips. We will be with you in spirit though, and think of the good times we are missing.

You know this sure brings back fond memories especially when I was a kid. The old Beeler hole in the St. Marys, where I learned to swim, the Johnson melon patch, right back of it. Poor old Mr. Johnson, he sure had a hard time keeping us kids out, and when Millard Cowan was Marshal, how we kids feared him but at the same time teased him and tried to get him to run, which he couldn't do so very well, and we sure kept out of his reach.

PARENTS HAPPY; CHILD'S HEALTH IS BROUGHT BACK

Mother Tells Of Quick And Remarkable Results Obtained Through The New Konjola

MISS LILLIAN REEVES
Read what a delighted mother, Mrs. Della A. Reeves, 15 Minneapolis Avenue, Vincennes, Ind., has to say about the wonderful new medicine—Konjola.

"For some months the health of our little daughter, Lillian, was a great worry," says Mrs. Reeves. "Her kidneys were badly affected. During the day there was frequent leakage, and at night sleep was impossible for the child. We tried everything, but to no avail. We read of Konjola and determined to try the new remedy, of which we had heard so much that was encouraging. After a short treatment the kidneys cleared up, Lillian took on a new color, new life, vivacity and general health. She was able to sleep the night through, and all the evidences of kidney affliction disappeared. I believe that every mother in the land should know of this case, for Lillian's condition, I am told, is one that is common among children. Surely Konjola came as a blessing into our home."

Konjola is sold in Decatur, Ind., at Smith, Yager & Falk's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Remember the old Place Creams, the champions of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, with Minnehan, Police, Kief, O'Conner, Judy, Rady, Hoggy Taylor, Chris Meyer, I can't remember the rest, but anyway they were heroes to us kids. We didn't always have the price to see the games, so we would go along the river to the fence, on the Zimmerman bottom lands, and follow that to the thicket, right back of the diamond, and when a foul ball was hit, it would sometimes fall in the thicket, and then there would be a scramble among us kids for the ball, for whoever got it, carried it in and got to see the rest of the game. Frequently there was a scrap over the ball, which made things rather interesting. Those were the days of real sport.

Now we are all grown up, and scattered all over the world. Wouldn't it be wonderful if all we prodigals, could gather once more in good old Decatur what tales we could tell, what a good time we could have. Maybe some day but not now.

California has been good to us, given us good health, a good living, and some pleasures, and a little of this world's goods for the future. It is a wonderful place to live, and we all like it, and expect to remain, but we miss our old friends.

We certainly hope that your efforts will make a success of Old Home Week.

Give our best regards to our friends. Most Sincerely
Jacob J. Meyer and Family
P.S. This letter may be rather jumbled but the reason: We are spending the month of August on the beach, and as I am writing this lying on the sands, and there are many and various distractions, so please pardon my mistakes.

Get Your Dollar's Worth

GRANDMOTHER reads the latest market prices—"Lands sakes alive!" she exclaims, "why, when I was young we didn't have to pay half so much." Yes, in "the good old days" milk sold at five cents a quart, potatoes at forty cents a bushel, sugar twenty-five pounds for a dollar, and so on. And, in "the good old days" a laborer was paid a dollar a day or possibly a dollar and a quarter. But who wants to go back to "the good old days"? Not you—not me.

Prices are higher now, but wages are higher too. You pay more, but the goods you buy are of better material, they are better made, they last longer. Even footstuffs are better. Inspection and extra care insure their quality.

The dollar can still buy a dollar's worth. Read the advertising in the newspapers and you will find that they will help your dollars go a long way. Advertising tells you where you can get full value for your money. The young housewife of today shops even more intelligently than "grandma," for the advertisements are her guides, they make her a competent judge of values.

Merchandise must be good or it couldn't be advertised. Read the advertisements and get your dollar's worth.
