

WORLD'S SERIES MAY BE DELAYED

By Frank Getty
(U. P. Sports Editor)
New York, Sept. 28.—The possibility of a postponement of the World Series scheduled to start next Thursday, arose today when it became apparent that there was considerable chance of the National League pennant race ending in a tie between the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The New York Yankees are safely in line for their third successive American League championship, and cannot be beaten unless they lose all their remaining games, and the Philadelphia Athletics win three straight.

In the National League, the Cardinals lead by one game and have three more to play, the last with the Giants themselves at the Polo Grounds on Sunday. All the reserved seats for this final game have been sold and a record crowd for the ball park by Coogan's bluff is anticipated.

The Giants have two more games to play, with the Chicago Cubs before they meet the Cardinals, who are playing the Boston Braves today and tomorrow. If the Giants do as well against the Cubs as the Red Birds do at Boston, the leaders will meet on Sunday with St. Louis still leading by a single game. And if the Giants win that Sunday game, the standing will be tied.

Under the rules, they would engage in a "Three Games" series to decide the Championship. The National League directors would decide the conditions for such a series, but it seems certain that the winner would not be required to enter the World Series immediately thereafter.

If the Giants lose or gain a game today or tomorrow, the possibility of a tie following Sunday's battle will be removed. But if the Giants gain two games in the next two days, the Cardinals could tie things up by winning at the Polo Grounds.

From any angle, the likelihood of a tie presents itself, but the men who make baseball their business are losing little sleep. The chances are that the attendance at the play-off series, if held in New York would rival that at the World Series itself.

The Giants figure to beat the Cubs today and tomorrow, the Cards to defeat the Braves two straight. Which should make Sunday's ball game one of the Classics of baseball history such as has not been seen since 1908 when New York and Chicago had to play an extra game to decide the championship.

Fakes Run — Passes For Win For W. & J.

By SOL METZGER

Three plays that start exactly alike, yet develop into amazingly different ones, was one reason why Lafayette held the top in football a few years back. Today let us take up the scheme Lafayette used to defeat W. & J., the two preceding plays described yesterday paving the way for this one.

Lafayette knew that the W. & J. half back, shown in the circle of the accompanying diagram, always came up fast to make sure of breaking up its reverse or its reverse that turned into a lateral pass, so McCracken added a play to take care of him. No. 2 took the ball and broke to his right, slipping it to No. 4, who started to his left on a reverse run. Up ran the defensive back to throw him for a loss. No. 3, in the meantime, bluffed boxing the opposing right tackle, but slid by him straight down the field and then out, passing the defensive half before he could recover. No. 4 then passed to No. 3, who was free for a score.

McCracken will present a slightly different formation of backs from that shown here in the opening game with Albright tomorrow: No. 2 will play four yards back of guard No. 5; No. 1 will play eight yards back of his center. This gives him more power on the strong side and a better chance to hide the ball on certain trick plays and bucks.

Tomorrow — A Penn pass for its opening game.

COLLEGE TEAMS TO BEGIN ACTION

By Dixon Stewart,
UP Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Sept. 28.—(U.P.)—Opening football games of the 1928 football season, in the middle west, are scheduled for Saturday. Few important tilts are carded, a majority of the leading teams throughout the district continuing practice for another week before swinging into action.

Notre Dame heads the squads which refuse to wait for baseball to clear the stage. Rockne's "Fighting Irish" are scheduled to play Loyola, of New Orleans at Notre Dame. The southerners are reported to have a powerful aggregation and have been at work for the past month "pointing" for this contest. Rockne's squad has been practicing for only two weeks and the coach is far from satisfied with results. With Notre Dame not yet in stride and the southerners out to establish a reputation by trimming the famous western school possibilities are that this will be a much more interesting battle than the usual early season practice tilt.

Only two western conference teams are listed among those which are "rushing the season," Indiana being billed to take on the "Little Giants" from Wabash and Chicago having scheduled a double header with South Carolina and Ripon.

Coach Staggs declared today that no attempt to divide his squad into "A" and "B" teams would be made this week and it is possible that a number of the players may see action in both contests. In future double headers the varsity will play the first game and an individual reserve squad will be used for the other contest.

Indiana is also to have two teams this season. The first team will play Wabash and the second eleven will clash with State Normal. Wabash is, traditionally, no mean foe, but the Hoosiers figure they need not exert themselves unduly.

Kansas Aggies will be the only "Big Six" conference team in action this week. The Aggies tackle Bethany college in what is regarded as a high-powered practice contest.

Washington U is the first Missouri Valley conference team to open its season, playing Westminster at St. Louis tomorrow.

The Fourth Down

By Willie Punt

At the pep session yesterday, Joe Krick, senior, was elected president of the high school athletic association. Carl Gerber, junior, was named vice-president. Principal Walter Krick will again serve as treasurer.

James Engeler was re-elected yell leader yesterday, also, following try-outs held during the pep session. Evelyn Kelly was chosen first assistant and Dick Engle was named second assistant.

Harry "Berry" Yancy, D. H. S. grad and former Yellow Jacket, gave an inspiring talk at the pep session, encouraging members of the team and the pupils. He urged them to give their best in the Huntington game and the others of the schedule.

The Yellow Jackets and Huntington Vikings, time-honored enemies on the gridiron, were scheduled to clash on the Country Club field this afternoon. Pre-game dope favored the Vikings to win, but not without a hard fight.

A rousing pep session was held by the D. H. S. pupils and teachers at the high school building last night. The pep displayed gave indication that the pupils were still behind the team, despite the defeats suffered in the first two games of the season.

Several Indiana college teams swing into action this week-end. Their schedule is as follows: Wabash at Indiana; State Normal vs. I U. second team at Bloomington; Loyola at Notre Dame; Indiana Central at Franklin; Manchester at Rose Poly; Concordia at Muncie Normal; Hanover, at Cincinnati, Central Normal at Vincennes, and Antioch at Earlham.

To Face Gridgers With "Specs"

Ben Wattenberg, University of Chicago halfback, will be the only man in the Big Ten to wear glasses this season. Coach A. A. Staggs has already commended the accurate forward passing of Wattenberg, who, despite the fact that he has a pair of spectacles built into his helmet, is expected to play an important part in the Maroon aerial attack.

Mike McTigue Loses By A Technical Knockout

Chicago, Sept. 28.—(U.P.)—Tuffy Griffiths, Chicago light heavyweight, won his fifty-first consecutive ring victory here last night by a technical knockout over Mike McTigue, New York. Griffiths floored the New York Irishman twice in the first period of their scheduled ten round bout before the referee stopped the fight.

McTigue was dropped for a count of five a few seconds after the opening bell. He staggered to his feet on the count of ten after a second knockdown but was in state of collapse. McTigue a hard puncher and clever boxer with years of experience, entered the ring a favorite.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Joe Genewich, New York Giants pitcher, who held the Chicago Cubs to five hits, to win a 2 to 0 victory for the McGrawmen. The Giants lost the opening game of the doubleheader with the Cubs, 3 to 2. Carl Hubbell started on the mound for the Giants and allowed five hits in seven innings. Art Nehf opposed his old teammates, the Giants, and was found for only six safeties. The second game was won by the Giants on a home run by Hogan, a hit by Lindstrom, an error by Maguire and two sacrifices.

The New York Yankees won a double-header from the Detroit Tigers, 4 to 3, and 8 to 5. Babe Ruth hit his fifty-first and fifty-second home runs in the two games. Lou Gehrig batted in two of the Yankee's four runs in the first game.

The Philadelphia Athletics remained in the pennant race by winning from the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 3. Grove held the White Sox to six hits and struck out nine.

Timely hitting enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to defeat the Boston Braves, 8 to 3. Jess Haines was found for ten hits, while Brandt and Cooney allowed the Cardinals the same number.

The Pittsburgh Pirates lost their chance to win third place by suffering a double defeat at the hands of the Brooklyn Robins, 7 to 6 and 8 to 1. It required ten innings for Jess Petty to win the 7 to 6 victory over Burleigh Grimes in the first game. The Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox divided a double-header. The Indians won the first game, 11 to 10, and lost the second, 7 to 4. The Washington Senators defeated the St. Louis Browns, 6 to 5. Hadley went the route for the Senators and allowed all of the St. Louis runs in the ninth.

Semi-Finals Reached In Women's Golf Tournament

Hot Springs, Va., Sept. 28.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, vs. Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, and Mrs. G. H. Stetson, of Philadelphia, vs. Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., were the semi-final matches in the women's national golf championship scheduled for today.

EVER SMOKE RIPE TOBACCO CIGARS?

Maybe. But Did You Ever Buy Them for a Nickel?

Most every smoker knows that the secret of true, sweet, mellow-mild flavor in a cigar is fully ripened tobacco. The top leaves of the tobacco plant are under-ripe at harvest—they are usually bitter. The bottom leaves are over-ripe—usually "flat." The choice fully-ripe middle leaves are generally sorted out and used only in the higher priced cigars.

But here, gentlemen, is a five-center made of ripe tobacco from heart to wrapper: Havana Ribbon. Ripe tobacco!—One nickel!—Perfect smoking!—Money saving!... Isn't that just about the most sensational cigar news that's come your way in many a day? Grab a nickel; light out to the nearest cigar counter; light up a Havana Ribbon; and light into the nearest nickel smoke that's ever touched your lips. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.
