Lace Remains On Winter Dress Program

New York, Oct. 24.—(U.P.)—Styles may come and styles may go but lace goes on forever.

The lace frock is one of the important evening fashions to reckon with this fall. It is folly to regard the lace frock as essentially a spring and summer consideration, and that because the lace frock was a success the past summer, it could not be depended upon to continue its career into a new season. But there is every evidence that the lace frock will be one of the leading evening fashions.

One cannot forget the Chanel lace series of last year, since they were the forerunners of what will be so vital in this season's evening program.

Emphasis is placed on colored lace frocks, generally the vigorous blues and reds. The neutrals, preferably rose, beige and black, are good but brightly colored ones present the most glamorous style-appeal. As evidence of the intention to make them brilliant, they are generally of the rayon lace, identified by its shiny surface, and are posed over satin foundations, the luster of which contributes to the brilliant effect through the design.

There is quite a definite style associated with laces of this description—the circular and one-tiered skirt of minaret type, with scarf neckline of some sort. Both these features instantly suggest Chanel.

One of the most convincing features of the lace frock in this expression is its practicality, just as it has always been. It represents the current "handy" dress, one of which every woman has in her wardrobe, serving for so many occasions that require a frock not too elaborate and yet formal. It possesses the "comfortable" quality of the appropriate yet unobtrusive frock.

The feeling for lace is not confined to this type, however, for some of the loveliest dance frocks of pretentious description adopt lace. They usually are of fine zossamer thread made in robe de style models that distinguish them so completely from the other type just discovered. There is this difference, too, that the lace robe de style has a character that makes it belong exclusively to the youthful wearer, while the other is more universal and appeals to all.

MISSIONARY CIRCLE ENJOYS HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Young People's Missionary Circle of the Evangelical church met for its regular meeting at the home of Miss Ruth Hammond, east of the city, Tuesday evening. The home was artistically decorated in Halloween colors and effects. Nine members and several guests were present. The lesson for the meeting was about Reverend DeWald and his life as Superintendent of the missionary work in Red Bird Mission, Kentucky. Rev. DeWald died suddenly September 23, 1928 and the community in which he lived and worked are without a leader and miss his sympathetic help and his powerful influence, as was pointed out in the letter from Miss Gladys Kern, teacher in the schools at Red Bird Mission, which was also read during the study hour. After the business session, a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday in November and a special program has been planned.

TO HOLD GROUP MEETING

A group meeting of the Women's Presbyterian Society of Missions will be held at Ossian, Tuesday October 30, in which the Bluffton Society will have charge of the program. At the noon hour a pot-luck dinner will be served. It is urged that a large representation of this society plans to attend the meeting.

V. I. S. CLASS ENJOYS HALLOWEEN PARTY

The V. I. S. class of the United Brethren Sunday school held a Halloween party last evening at the Hill home, north of the city. A delightful time was had by all, guessing the funny masqueraders, after which other ning, all artistically wrapped in the orange and green colored papers, in keeping with the color scheme of the appointments. About this center table, forty-five smaller tables were grouped laid with white linens and crystal glass. Each small table was centered by a burning green taper in green crystal holder.

In the receiving line as the guests arrived, were the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Oscar Lankenau, Mrs. Vincent Bormann, Mrs. Charles Holt-house, Mrs. Fred Fullenkamp and Miss Rose Fullenkamp. Covers at the tables were marked for each guest by a yellow cut-out chrysanthemum combination place card and Bridge tally. Dainty yellow and green chrysanthemum nut baskets adorned each place at the table and furnished lovely favors for the evening.

At 6:30 o'clock, a most delicious three-course dinner in orange and green appointments was served by seventeen young girls. Those who served were: Misses Louise Hahndorf, Helen Gerber, Mary Macy, Cella Appleman, Helen Vogelweide, Mary Margaret Vogelweide, Helen Schmitz, Edwina Shroll, Patricia Teeple, Laura Lankenau, Dora Shosbergen, Bernice DeVoss, Mary Fisher, Sara Jane Kauffmann, Mary Meyer, Rosemary Holt-house, Patricia Fullenkamp and Helen Devor.

Following the dinner, the guests found their places for Bridge, five games of which furnished the diversion of the evening. At the close of the play, the hostesses called the names of the seven prize winners, and each in turn approached the gift table, opened her package and presented it so that the entire crowd could see the gift received. Each prize proved to be of unusual beauty and the fortunate winners were: Miss Teresa Appleman, Miss Genevieve Berling, Mrs. C. C. Pumphrey, Miss Florence Bueter, of Fort Wayne, Mrs. Leo Kirsch, Mrs. Byford Macy, and Mrs. C. N. Christen.

Non-resident guests in attendance included: Mrs. Hubert Berghoff, Mrs. Henry Berghoff, Mrs. Tim Corbett, Mrs. A. H. Lankenau, Mrs. Wm. Dowling, Miss Lucille Corbett, Mrs. Charles Keller, Mrs. Perry Gandy, and Miss Florence Bueter, all of Fort Wayne; Mrs. Lewis Armstrong of Geneva, Mrs. W. S. O'Brien, of Lima, Ohio, and Mrs. Fred Gray, of Terre Haute.

Mrs. Raymond Keller will be hostess to the Auction Bridge Club, Monday evening at eight o'clock.

The Eastern Stars will meet in regular session tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Masonic Hall. There will be business of importance and all members are requested to attend.

At six-thirty o'clock the guests were seated at the large dining room table, which was centered with a huge decorated birthday cake, and a delicious three-course dinner was served. The room was very prettily decorated with vases of fall flowers. After the dinner, a number of contests and games were enjoyed. The guests included the Rev. and Mrs. A. R. Fiedlerjohann and children, Virginia and Leila, Mr. and Mrs. Elzey Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Shifferley and children, Doris, Eldred, Emil Dale and Mildred; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mutschler and son Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Weidner, Mr. Adolph Weidner, Mr. Jacob Schafer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Goldner and son Richard, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Weidner.

Lindy Begins His Second Aerial Visit To Mexico

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 24.—(U.P.)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh begins his second aerial visit to Mexico today.

Before retiring last night, the famous aviator said he would fly into Mexico at dawn, carrying two passengers. He intends to spend several days there hunting bear and resting at La Bafia ranch.

Colonel Lindbergh landed at the Eagle Pass airport last night after a three-hour flight from Midland, Tex.

SMITH STARTS ON FINAL TOUR

Alderman, sheriff, legislator and governor—positions he always has won in the final two weeks before election—the Democratic nominee will swing his fight for the presidency across the Atlantic seaboard from Massachusetts to Maryland. He has less than two weeks in which to do it.

A changed campaign demeanor could be noticed as he gathered up his papers for the final trip. The speech of his Republican opponent, Herbert Hoover, in New York Monday night, charging Smith with socialist tendencies on farm relief, prohibition and waterpower, had an unmistakable effect upon the "happy warrior," his friends said. His papers burned with replies he expects to make in Boston tonight answering the Hoover speech, according to those who share his confidence.

In his historic campaigns for the governorship Smith has never begun to fight until the last two weeks. With shrewd political fervor he has always bided his time. He regards the latest Hoover speech as the first real statement of issues from the Republican candidate.

Couldn't Sleep, Stomach Hurt So

Suffered for Years. Finally Found Relief. Perfectly Well Now.

Readers who can't eat without gas or pain, will be interested in reading how Mrs. Ada A. Shoemaker, 449 Lindly Street, Huntington, Ind., recovered her health. She writes:

"I had stomach trouble for 3 years. After meals, gas formed in distressing quantities, and I would turn weak and dizzy and had a choking sensation in my throat so bad I thought I had gone. Food felt like a rock in my stomach and caused such heartburn and shortness of breath that I couldn't walk far or do anything else without stopping and sitting down to rest. Often, at night, I've had to get out of bed and sit in a chair, because my stomach felt so wretched. Four doses of Viuna brought me wonderful relief, and now my troubles have vanished. I am eating anything, without a sign of gas or pain or dizziness, and the choking sensation in my throat is all gone. I am sleeping soundly all night long and feeling better every day. It seems wonderful that any medicine could give such quick and lasting relief as Viuna has given me."

Viuna acts promptly on sluggish bowels, lazy liver and weak kidneys. It purifies the blood, clears the skin, restores appetite and digestion, and brings new strength and energy to the whole body. Take a bottle on trial. Then if you're not glad you tried Viuna, your money will be refunded. $1.00 drug store or mailed postpaid by Iceland Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.
