

FOX FARMING GROWS POPULAR

It would pay any one to make a little visit out to the Blue, Silver and Black Fox farm that two of Decatur boys have installed on what formerly was the William Breiner farm, on the Van Wert road, one mile north east of Decatur, now owned by Dallas Brown.

These two men, Andrews and Brown have already a real show place and any one who would enjoy seeing their beautiful animals are welcome to do so any Sunday at any time of the day.

Fox raising is a comparatively new industry in America and it is really surprising the number of people who are becoming interested in this highly profitable venture. The boys have built quite a number of scientifically constructed pens and dens for their foxes and has on hand about twenty high grade animals.

Each pair of silver fox belonging to the boys has a value of seven hundred dollars and one wonders why they are worth so much until they are told how much such a pair of these animals earn for a breeder. The demand for their fur is constantly increasing and the market is continually calling for more.

The boys are enthusiastic about this business and claim that they will develop a number of purchasers who are to be relieved of all care of maintenance of the animals. All foxes sold will be ranced on this fox farm and will be cared for scientifically by experienced men as to proper pens and dens and feeding and all other care. The animals sold will be the property of the purchaser who will realize the profit, under a plan inaugurated by the boys that is fair and safe.

Purchasers may establish a ranch of their own, if they choose, and may use either plan at their option. The point of the whole matter is that there is profit in the industry; that purchasers have a real opportunity by making a reasonable investment, for fox raising on a scientific basis has proved itself very successful.

Persons will find it mighty interesting if they will visit this ranch, it is convenient to reach and the boys will be delighted to go into full explanations as well as exhibit their fine collection.

"HAPPY AND WELL; SING AS I WORK"; PRAISES KONJOLA

Serious Stomach Affliction Following Surgical Operation Quickly Yields To New Medicine

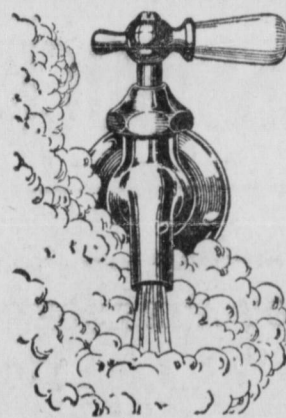

MRS. RAY MELTON

Day by day, swells the mighty chorus of praise for Konjola, the new medicine, for its marvelous achievements. And no wonder, when reports like this pour in, telling of new victories over disease. Says Mrs. Ray Melton, 428 Adams street, Gary, Indiana:

"Following one major operation and two minor ones, and after spending many weeks in hospitals, I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. I became exceedingly nervous. The children irritated me, and I was cross. I know this was not right, nor normal, but I could not help it. Nervous headaches and constipation added to my sufferings. I tried simply everything recommended, but constantly became worse every way. I was led to try Konjola by reading of the wonderful work it was doing here in Gary. But I had no ideas of how soon I was to be restored to health. Konjola worked quickly—almost like magic—and today I am happy, strong and well. The children were quick to see the sudden change in me, and now our home is one of glorious health and happiness. What a medicine Konjola is; what a debt I owe to those whose recommendations led me to give it the chance to make me well."

Konjola is sold in Decatur, Ind., at Smith, Yager & Falk drug store, and by all the best druggists in this vicinity.
