

BIGGER, FASTER AIRSHIPS SEEN AS NECESSARY

Howden, Yorkshire, Nov. 1—(U.P.)—Airship builders must concentrate on the ultimate construction of bigger and faster ships than any that have so far appeared, declared Commander C. D. Burney, managing director of the Airship Guarantee company, the builders of the R-100 now nearing completion here.

Commander Burney, in an exclusive interview with the United Press said he had watched the recent transatlantic flight of the "Graf Zeppelin" with the greatest interest.

The R-100 is a shorter and faster ship than the German models. For this reason it is possible to increase structural strength with out so large an resulting increase in weight. Also it is believed that her resistance to the air will be less than that of the longer ships, enabling smaller motors to move her at the same speed.

Before this step was taken, exhaustive tests were carried out with a view to insuring proper ventilation and avoiding any danger from the proximity of the hydrogen which will be contained in the gas bags.

"The R-100 is definitely intended for service on the Egypt-India route," declared Burney. "Thus she will not be called on for really long flights."

"I do not think airships will ever be used for freight transport excepting mails," Burney said, "but I do expect the number of passengers to increase rapidly."

"Great Britain is, of course, primarily interested in linking up the outlying parts of the Empire," he pointed out.

"We are not immediately in either the north or south Atlantic routes, though I am sure other countries will devote their energies first of all to securing the Atlantic traffic."

Tab on Bookkeeping

Loose-leaf systems of accounting are prohibited in Brazil, where the keeping of books by commercial firms is strongly fiscalized. Only bound ledgers are permitted. Similar laws prevail in other South American republics, some even requiring that every sheet of every ledger be stamped by a government official before the book can be legally used for entries.

"Love Rite" Furnace Victim

Elfrieda Knaak of Deerfield, Ill., whose weird story of feeding herself to the flames of Lake Bluff police station furnace in order to purify herself for her "psychic lover," has scattered officials in several directions seeking clues to an aid, counsel from psychiatrists or some precedent in the realm of mysticism that might lend credence to her statements. Investigating authorities tend to reject Miss Knaak's story of self-inflicted torture as the fantastic invention of a delirious mind. It is believed that the pretty Miss Knaak, student, Sunday school teacher, saleswoman, deliver into the occult, will lose both legs and both arms, all charred to the bone, if she recovers.

STATELY DANCE DUE TO RETURN SAYS TEACHER

London, Nov. 1—(U.P.)—A return to the days when dancing was a stately serene ceremony, when Black Bottom, Charleston and Heebee Jeebies were things not to be thought of, is predicted Camille de Rhynal, president of the Dance Teachers of France and also of the International Dancing Federation. "The Charleston, the Black Bottom, and the Heebee Jeebies," said Rhynal in an interview, "burst upon the ballrooms of England and the Continent and cleared them of many nice people who used to love dancing. In their place we got the flapper and the young men of her kind."

"Now, there are dances on the horizon that will bring back to our dance floors the nice people who used to see in dancing a means of expressing grace and charm in the days when dancing was worth while."

Rhynal partly blames the simplicity of modern dancing, and partly the importation of jazz from America, for what he terms the "decline" in dancing.

"In the dances and dance music numbers have been coming over from America," he said. "There has not been a dance teacher of note in Europe, or in London, who did not see the inevitable ruin of good dancing and the departure of all grace and style from the ball room."

Advocates the "Twist"

"We realized that any renaissance of dancing depended on getting away from the American control. I think we have not reached the stage when we can say that we are moving in a new direction."

Even the make-up for dance bands, he declared, is changing. Jazz instruments are giving way to the violin, flute, harp and 'cello.

"The curious thing about it," he added, "is that America, who was the pioneer of nearly everything that has been wrong with modern dancing, has now actually slowed down the music, and effect is all to the good."

One of Rhynal's purposes in London is to introduce and popularize a new dance called "The Twist," which he has already demonstrated on the continent.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN BED

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE ONE) the deaths of Mrs. Spuller and her husband, the late Fred Spuller, who was found dead in his home in this city in January, 1920. Apparently, Mr. Spuller had been dead for about ten days when found. Evidence found in the house, indicated that a stove had exploded when Mr. Spuller attempted to kindle a fire in it, hurling fire and soot over the room. It was believed by officers who investigated the affair, that Mr. Spuller had died of suffocation in extinguishing the fire.

Mrs. Spuller was a daughter of Henry and Mary Gephart and was born in Adams county, east of Decatur, August 26, 1857. She resided in Adams county most of her life. Mrs. Spuller was a staunch member of the United Brethren church at Willshire.

Skin Eruptions successfully treated from within

SKILLED physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

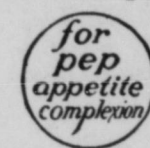

You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

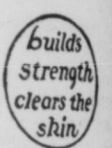

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight, I didn't look natural. I had pimples, and was also bothered with a breaking-out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S.S.S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S.S.S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S.S.S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy."—Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.
