As the late Tom Marshall would say, what this country seems to need is more democratic churches.

We might add three cheers for Andrew Mellon and his enforcement of the laws. That would make it fine.

This is the first campaign we can remember of when politics actually was brought into some of the churches and it will be interesting to note the results. We say that in good faith and without malice but we are very happy that most of the pastors did not feel a call to mix up with it.

Women are canvassing the city urging women to vote the republican ticket. They are doing it primarily for politics, don't overlook that. Can you imagine these same women doing this work if Mr. Hoover was on the democratic ticket?

Governor Lowden will not take part in the campaign which means that he is all out of the tune with the republican party, of which he was once a great leader and a runner up for the presidential nomination in 1920. He feels as does James M. Cox, once the democratic nominee that the G. O. P. has become a "standstill" party.

Remember the meeting at the court house tonight at 7:30 when Mrs. James R. Riggs will give an address of interest. The women are urged to come and bring their friends. Hon. C. J. Lutz will preside and we are sure you will be deeply interested in this meeting.

There is something wrong with the republican party when they must stoop to underhanded methods of campaigning. If they have issues to discuss, why not discuss them? Campaigns should be conducted on a higher level than they have operated this year and that fact alone will make thousands of votes for Smith and Robinson.

Governor Smith is hopeful as the hour approaches for opening the polls. He believes the enthusiasm with which he has been greeted every where means something and that victory is in the air. There can be no doubt that millions admire this fearless leader who has the courage of his convictions and can tell them the remedies for their various ills. If elected he will do his best to serve you. We shall soon know.

Whats the use of splitting your ticket any way? The national, state and county candidates are deserving. They stand for clean government and the safe thing to do is to vote for them. Of course you are being advised by republicans to do otherwise, to get even with this faction or that, to do anything which causes you to take a chance on losing your vote or spoiling your ballot. Be as wise as they are.

A page advertisement supporting Smith was published in the Chicago Tribune yesterday. It was signed by thirty-six of the leading business men of that city, most of whom can be found in "Who's Who." The list includes such men as Edward Cudahy, Oscar Foreman, the great banker, Edward N. Hurley, former head of the shipping board, Joseph Leiter, Harold

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

Gary, Ind., Nov. 2.—This city celebrated "Twin Week" recently. Twenty-four sets were born, twice the number born during the entire year of 1927.

F. McCormick and many other men of brains from Chicago. Many of America's greatest men and women are supporting the democratic ticket this year.

The campaign nears the close and every effort will be made to cause the voters to vote one way or another. You should think calmly and carefully of the situation and vote to the best interests of the country and yourself. We feel that its with Smith and Dailey. Governor Smith has good sound sense and will do nothing that will injure a soul in the nation. Frank Dailey is admitted to be the most capable man for governor presented by either party in years. His platform is "a clean house," and every good citizen should support him.

The women should be especially interested in this election for there are numerous questions before the public of vital importance to them. Governor Smith has ever been a friend to women and children as well as to men. He has always fought their battles. He is for education, for all things that are helpful, for a better America and he is not the vile creature that his opponents would picture him. Mrs. Riggs who will speak at the court room tonight knows him personally and has an interesting story for you. Be sure to hear her.

Alf Hogston, state fire marshal, and former klan titan, is not only doing the publicity work in the campaign of Harry G. Leslie, Republican candidate for governor, but is also a constant attendant in the Leslie state headquarters directing the Leslie campaign, according to information from Republican sources. Although a demand was made by the Indianapolis Star on Sunday, October 7th that Leslie renounce "Hogstonism," Leslie is reported to have flatly refused to do so, and instead Hogston "came into the picture" stronger than ever to prove that he is one of the dominant figures in the Leslie campaign.

The great Zeppelin made the wonderful trip across the Atlantic to its home in Germany in sixty-nine hours and without accident, a journey that will be written in history for it completed the first round trip of a passenger air ship. In the years to come it will be frequently referred to and of chief interest will be the fact that a seventeen-year-old boy named Terhune stole passage on the ship. He is to be made rich by the theater managers and hotel owners of Germany who are already bidding for his services and that will be little to what he will receive when he returns to America and the picture crew gets hold of him.

We listened to the address of Senator Joseph Robinson at Fort Wayne last night and watched the wonderful reception given him. Thousands crowded into the Shrine auditorium and other hundreds stood in the hall outside and heard the able address through amplifiers. It was a great rally and we cannot help but believe that such enthusiasm means victory next Tuesday. Senator Robinson is a campaigner worth hearing and for two months has been constantly on the go, visiting almost every state in the union and addressing hundreds of thousands during that time. He predicts that the democrats will sweep the country next Tuesday and certainly no man should be better able to judge.

Down at Houston the Democratic leaders said to farmers, "write your own plank," and they did. If the farmers won't vote for the Democratic ticket under these conditions with their own plank in the Democratic platform, why should any inducement be offered in the future? The future of American agriculture is hanging in the balance. Your ballot is your own

The Prince as a "Lather Boy"

Doesn't this just say you, girls. It's no less a personage than H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, in costume of a "lather boy" which he wore about P. & O. liner Malda, when he assisted in initiating his brother, Prince Henry, the Duke of Gloucester, in the strange "Crossing the Line" ceremony. The above photo was considered so very informal that its publication in London papers was stopped at the suggestion of the government.

to be used in your own behalf as much as any other tool on your farm. If you don't use it at all you are lazy and you never will succeed. If when we take our own hand out of our pocket to mark our ballot we don't do it in our own interest we should stop complaining because we're going to get just what we vote for. With Hoover we will get more of the same. With Smith we will get a square deal with prosperity passed around.

Governor Smith is a winner. He always has been and he bids fair to be this year, notwithstanding the wild claims which have been made by those who figure the results on those of previous elections. At least the election is a scrap right up to the last minute. Do you think the south is in doubt? Ask your friends from down that way. Don't you feel that Governor Smith has the best of it in New York, Massachusetts and Rhode Island and an even break in several other eastern states? Do you figure that the governor is out of the running in Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and other western states? If so, better do some more figuring. Just claiming the election will not win it. The results will be known after election and we are confident that a lot of folks are in for a big surprise.
