Coiffure Turban Appears in Clever Guise

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—(U.P.)—Like Kipling's story of the lie that ran around the world, Rebeux' finger wave hat started a fashion for hats in semblance of coiffures that is still inspiring French and American modistes in interesting effort.

From waves of soutache braid, to waves of pressing in felt, the coiffure hat appeared in feathers, and one became blond, brunette or Titian, and (sometimes most effective of all) snowy-haired, by the simple process of donning a closefitting turban.

In Paris last winter the fad was amazingly developed, and in Paris at the moment, the idea is carried not only in wave and curl effects but in straight drapings, smoothly pinned to the head and swirled into a crown at the nap of the next neck. The ingenious arrangement was credited to Alphonsine who used velvet in its execution.

The skull fitting hat is such an idea this season that in these coiffure hats the effect of no hat at all is achieved for. One of the most important considerations is the line that frames the face; this always follows the line of the hair and in consequence there is generally the suggestion of the eyebrow line although it is not done in any radical way. The straight-across-the-forehead line is accomplished in some cases to stimulate the hair-dress of those women who wear their hair straight back from the forehead.

LAURA SOVINE MARRIED WEDNESDAY

A wedding of simple appointments took place at the home of Mrs. A. N. Hilton, 336 North Ninth street, when the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sovine, and Orlan Wayne Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Brown, south of the city, were quietly married Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. The rooms were beautifully decorated.

She wore a necklace of crystals, a gift of the groom, and carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses and swansonia. Immediately following the wedding ceremony, an informal reception was held, during which a luncheon was served to the sixteen guests. The young couple left for a wedding trip of unknown destination, and after December 4 will make their home with the bride's sister, Mrs. A. N. Hilton. The out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were the Rev. C. J. Miner and wife, of Laketon, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Brown and Dorothy, of Bluffton, and Miss Maud Brown, of Fort Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell have issued invitations for a dinner Saturday evening, honoring their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. William Bell, who are home for a several days visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Shroll entertained at dinner, Thursday for Mr. and Mrs. William Zwick and family, Irene, Leona, Robert and Harold Zwick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freedy of Shipshewana, and Helen and Edwin Shroll.

Mrs. Robert Garard served a delicious Thanksgiving dinner Thursday, at which covers were laid for John D. Aber, Miss Lela Yost, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garard and daughter Patsy.

SHOWER GIVEN AT CIRCLE MEETING

The Young People's Missionary Circle of the Evangelical church met in the church parlors Tuesday evening for its regular meeting. After the business session, a very entertaining playlet, entitled "Why the Missionary Meeting was a Failure" was enacted, instead of having the regular study lesson. During the social hour, two showers were given for Mrs. Irene Hoogen-gardner and Mrs. Golda Streib, who were recently married. They were recipients of very lovely gifts. Three guests of the Circle were present, Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Ed Warren, and Mrs. Adolph Colter. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the evening.

C. E. PARTY OF MAGLEY CHURCH

The Christian Endeavor of the Magley Reformed church held its annual Thanksgiving party at the home of Henry Freuchte. After a short business session, a social hour was enjoyed, during which games and contests were played. Those present were Edna Beineke, Jacob and Magdalene Borne, Elmer, Edna and Selma Peters, Milton Dettinger, Milton and Elsie Kreutzmann, Thelma and Dan Jaberg, Emma and Irene Bloemker, Edna, Ida, Raymond and Noah Borne, Waiter Hilgeman, Harold Johnson, Irene and Walter Peck, Glen Girod, Lisetta, Edna and Elton Worthmann, Irene and Walter Hildebrand, Martha Conrad, Bob Stysler, Marie and Bernadine Kolter, Lawrence Belhold, Esther and Paul Reppert, Amanda, Mildred and Lillian Worthmann, Amanda and Walter Freuchte, Jack, Frank, Marie, Ruth and Grace Grether, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Freuchte, and Rev. and Mrs. D. Grether. A most delicious lunch was served by Miss Amanda Freuchte, assisted by the Misses Amanda Worthmann and Thelma Jaberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alva Nichols entertained Thursday with a delicious Thanksgiving dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Leo Miller and family, of Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Clark Spahr and children Virginia and Philip Jean, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nichols, who have returned from Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meyers, and children Virginia and Bobby Earl, of Van Wert, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Beavers, and Mrs. Verena Miller, of this city.

DIAMONDS Are Gifts That Last

When you give a diamond, you know that your remembrance will never die, for diamonds last forever. The sentiment expressed in a diamond from this store will reflect upon the giver throughout the years to come.

A Fortunate DIAMOND

You will find here a glittering array of blue white diamonds set in the newest hand engraved mountings at remarkably low prices. The ring pictured here may be had for $37.50.

What gift could be more appropriate or more acceptable on Christmas than a sparkling blue white diamond set in a beautifully engraved mounting of 18 kt. solid white gold? Unlike other gifts, diamonds never wear out, never grow old and never lose their value. They are truly "gifts that last." Of all gems, the diamond is most highly prized by those who love fine jewelry. Yet you can secure one here at a remarkably low price, with a positive guarantee of satisfaction. Give a diamond for Christmas. It will serve as a bright reminder for all time to come.

For ages, the diamond has been recognized as the supreme jewel. No other gem so reflects the admiration and good taste of the giver.
