FRESNO YOUTH
TO BE HANGED
DUE TO HUNCHBut Policeman Who Had Hunch Finds He Can't Be Promoted

Fresno, Cal., May 3.—(UP)—When Allen Ellis, Fresno minor, is hanged in San Quentin prison Friday, May 17, it will be testimony to the worth of a "hunch."

The hunch was that of Policeman Dana H. Tullis.

Ellis shot and killed Charles O. Welsert, Fresno automobile firm accountant, when the latter scornfully refused to raise his hands at the bandit's command. William Kreiger, 19, drove the light roadster used by Ellis and Lowell Davis, 18, in the holdup job. The murder took place about 10 o'clock at night in one of the best residential districts of Fresno last June 5.

And within two hours the city of 75,000 persons was fairly aflame with indignation. Welsert was widely and well-known. The city had suffered a recent plague of boyish bandits—later established as the Welsert murder trio preying upon gasoline service station operators, small store owners and occasional residential pedestrians.

All of the city's 175 policemen were turned out for the midnight man-hunt. And not a single clue was developed!

Tullis Brought 'Em In

Then came Dana H. Tullis, typical heavy-bodied "flatfoot" beat man, with a hunch!

"Give me a car and another man," he told Police Chief J. W. Walker, "and I'll bring those boys in."

Walker did. And Tullis brought them in! The boys were still drowsy with sleep when they were hauled into police headquarters in the early morning hours. They had but fallen asleep in their beds at Sanger, 13 miles east, when Tullis, a second Fresno officer and a Sanger constable roused them.

Tullis had seen the youths riding aimlessly about the city's streets earlier in the evening. He had known of them as irresponsible characters.

And, as he explained it, he had the hunch!

A curious sequel followed Tullis' feat. Officials thought to reward Tullis by a promotion to detective sergeant. Tullis failed to pass the civil service examination! He couldn't read and write well enough!

One Pleaded Guilty

Kreiger pleaded guilty, and received a life sentence. Ellis and Davis stood trial. Ellis, as the "triggerman," was sentenced to the gallows. Davis got life. Kreiger and Davis both are in San Quentin prison.

Ellis' attorney, W. A. White, used every resource in attempting to free the youth from the gallows' threat. He appealed to California Appellate and Supreme courts, and all without avail. He rested his case on the assertion that Ellis lacked four days of being 18 years of age—the minimum age subject to capital punishment in California—at the time of the murder. All appeals failed.

White since has carried his fight to Governor C. C. Young, in an effort to obtain executive clemency. No apparent softening in the gubernatorial breast has been made apparent, though, and the hanging is expected to be carried out as scheduled.

White has repeatedly asserted he could prove Ellis to be four days younger than 18 years at the time of the crime. He has shown affidavits of witnesses in Texas, where the youth was born, and of the youth's parents, but to no avail. All California school, court and community records show the boy to have been but four days lacking of 19 years at the time of the Welsert slaying.

ing three others at the city jail. Several nearby buildings were demolished.

In Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, rail traffic and communications were crippled. Lake traffic was demoralized by the tossing waves of Lake Michigan, which were believed to have engulfed two men in an airplane which was seen to fall into the lake during the storm. Central Illinois reported the heaviest snowfall ever recorded in the month of May. Unofficial estimates stated that from four to six inches of snow fell in that area. Thousands of fruit trees were in bloom and it was believed that much of the crop would be lost.

Eight members of Adams post attended the installation, and several Decatur Legionnaires gave talks following the ceremony. The Decatur members in attendance included Vincent Bormann, Lloyd Baker, Earl Benz, Leo Ehinger, Joseph Laurent, Herman Uhlman and Frank Shumacker.

T. B. Rhoades, commander of the Limerlost post, presided at the meeting following the charter granting, and outlined the anticipated program of the new Geneva organization.

New Retail Cigar System
Will Link 2,000 Dealers

Buffalo, N. Y., May 30.—(UP)—A new retail cigar store system, to be known as the Associated Cigar Stores, Inc., is expected to be formed about May 20 when representatives of more than 2,000 independent retail tobacco merchants meet here to lay the foundation for the organization.

According to William E. Mathias, manager of the Snyder Retail Cigar Stores, Inc., the merchants will dispose of their present stock and good will for cash, thereafter buying merchandise from the new corporation. Financing, according to Mathias, will come from Buffalo and New York banking houses. Capitalization will be between 30 and 50 million dollars.

Artist Knows Art, But Is Ignorant Of Nature

Sioux City, Ia., May 3.—(UP)—The artist who painted the murals which adorn the rotunda of the Woodbury County courthouse may have known art but didn't know nature farmers have discovered, eleven years after the murals were hung.

The flaw in the pastoral scene, pointed out by the farmers, is in the tip of the tail of a Holstein cow. In nature the tip is white. Critics assert the artist concealed the tip behind the head of a dog to avoid embarrassment, while the artist's friends assert the hidden tip is white, but the farmers are adamant. They insist the tip is not white and that therefore the Holstein is not a Holstein.

All the world over graduates soon will be asking "What to do now?"

It's a question each must answer for himself. But one thing is sure: whatever type of business one enters, a certain quota of even the most modest salary should be banked.

That is the great lesson in the School of Hard Knocks.
