YOUTH RAPS
OWN TIMES

Philadelphia, June 4.—(UP)—Clad in working clothing and with an overnight growth of beard on his face, Chester A. Arthur, Jr., grandson of President of the United States and sailor on a freighter, arrived here recently in quest of adventure.

A poet himself, Arthur went across the river to see the home of Walt Whitman.

Prohibition was vigorously denounced by the 28-year-old sailor who blamed it for many of the evils of the present
"jazz age".

"Young people today, particularly high school boys and girls, do not drink as Walt Whitman did—for pleasure," said the former president's grandson. "They drink to lose their senses and revel in drunkenness. The automobile, too is ruining this country and blasting the lives of our young people. The cars enable young people to drive far from their homes and their parents' surveillance. The outcome of these promiscuous drinking and petting parties is frequently disastrous."

Although from a conservative Republican family, Arthur said he supported former Governor Alfred E.
Smith in the presidential election and was jailed in Boston once for speaking on the Boston Common in favor of the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland.

Young Arthur said he hoped to write a novel after completing his experiences aboard the freighter. He said a sailor's life had hardships as well as the romance of going to places and doing adventurous things.

Arthur's home is near Santa Barbara, California. His wife Charlotte Arthur, has had poems published frequently in national publications.

There will be a meeting of the Chapter, No. 112, at the Masonic hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

"WONDERFUL-IS WHAT I SAY OF NEW KONJOLA!"

Nervousness And Awful Headaches Completely Banished
By This Modern Medicine

MISS LEORA M. BOWLBY

"I think Konjola is a wonderful medicine!" said Miss Leora M. Bowlby, 531 Porter street, Gary. "I suffered from splitting headaches that would force me to stay in bed for days at a time. I became sick to my stomach. Black spots appeared before my eyes. I would become weak and nervous, and steadily lost in weight and strength. I felt complet-ly worn out."

"But Konjola banished every trace of these troubles. The dreadful headaches are no more, nervousness is gone, and I have regained my lost weight and strength. My sleep is sound and refreshing, and I get up in the morning full of energy and vigor. I recommend Konjola to everyone as being a wonderful medicine."

Konjola is sold in Decatur at the Smith, Yager & Falk drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.
