Girl Admits Torch Murder Of Her Lover

Toulon, Ill., July 8.—(UP)—A trail of evidence, builded around the charred fragments of a red and blue patchwork quilt found among the ashes of the funeral pyre of Wilmer T. Kitzelman, 52, ended today in a complete confession by a 21-year-old farmer's daughter of Stark county's mysterious "torch murder."
The confession which solved the slaying was made by Laura Weaver, daughter of a wealthy farmer, and sweetheart of the elderly Kitzelman. The young woman admitted that she strangled her lover in his home, June 30, while he lay in an automobile quilt, she carried it in an automobile 30 miles, saturated it with naphtha and set it afire.

Administration Changes Imminent

Rumors around Washington are saying that there is a widening rift between President Hoover, left, and the Secretary of the Treasury, Andrew Mellon. Among the reasons cited as confirming the rumor are disagreement on tax reduction, ideas on the "economy program," prohibition development of the last few months and the French war debt. President Hoover has been having his way in most cases and Mellon is said to feel his loss of power keenly.

BRITISH POLICE REPORT STEADY INCREASE IN MOTOR BANDITRY

London, July 8.—(UP)—Motor bandits have become so active and successful throughout the British Isles that police have been forced to seek new means of curbing their activities. More than 100 motor raids were reported in London alone during the first half of 1929. The number of attacks increased steadily from six in January to 51 in May. Few of the culprits were arrested.
The bandits not only use automobiles to escape after a robbery. They patrol residential districts in their fast cars, attacking and robbing persons on the sidewalks.
Police admit they are meeting serious difficulties in attempting to solve the problem.
"We have considered the question from every point of view," said a Scotland Yard official, "but in no two sections of the country is it exactly the same."
"The use of spiked mats to stop cars the use of barriers and cordons of men have been discussed, but there is no generally satisfactory method which can be adopted. To hold up a car after an attack means that many avenues have to be blocked, inflicting great hardships on the general public."
"In some localities the bandits cannot even be pursued because all the police forces are not equipped with cars or even motorcycles."
In a recent case, a stolen car was driven through three cordons of police who sought to stop it. Three attempts to rob the postoffice at Uxbridge have been foiled but the criminals have always managed to escape in motor cars.

MARKS 400TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE PUBLISHING OF LUTHERAN CATECHISM

Omaha, July 8.—(UP)—A historical program, commemorating the 400th anniversary of publishing of the Lutheran catechism by Martin Luther, will feature the annual convention of Luther League of America, which opened here today and will close June 10.
The program will be in charge of Rev. A. J. Travers and Harry Hodges of Philadelphia, and Rev. L. M. Kuhns of Omaha.
One thousand delegates, who used almost every known travelling device to get here, were registered for the opening session. They came afoot, on horseback, automobile, train and airplane. William Elliott, Findlay, Ohio, president of the Western district, Luther league of Ohio and his son, Carlton, walked to the convention "by way of Pueblo, Colo."
Most of the Ohio delegation came in automobile caravans. Special trains picked up most of the other eastern delegations at Chicago for the trip here.
The convention is expected to appropriate $250,000 for building of a Lutheran school in Porto Rico as recommended by the board of directors.
Principal speakers at the convention include Dr. H. D. Hoover of Gettysburg, (Pa.) seminary; Dr. H. F. Martin, president of Midland college, Fremont, Neb.; Rev. F. W. Otterbein, Chicago; Rev. Oscar Blackwelder, Baltimore and Dr. Ross Stover, Philadelphia as the most eloquent preacher in the Lutheran church.

BANQUET GIVEN BY NEWSPAPERS AT NOON TODAY

W. F. Beery, of this city, thanked the newspapers for their part of the program, and Bert Black, of Bluffton offered a resolution which was carried by the business session thanking the newspapers of this vicinity.
Preceding the banquet, the Rev. M. W. Sunderman delivered thanks and, during the meal, Mrs. Catherine Tyndall sang a group of three songs accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Carrie Haubold. Following the addresses, Miss Catherine Knapp gave two readings.
A joint memorial service of the letter carriers and the ladies' auxiliary followed the luncheon and the men then returned to their business session at the K. of P. home.

Interest In Election

Election of officers and the selection of a site for the 1930 convention were creating the most interest among the delegates to the convention. There was strong sentiment among the delegates to take the convention to Bedford next year. Others were boosting Gary and Hammond for the convention site, but Bedford appeared to have the most strength.

Walter I. Uttis, state president of the organization, appeared to have better than an even chance to be re-elected president of the organization. Several Uttis boosters were busy all day seeking delegates to support the present regime. There was some talk of other candidates, but the present organization seemed to have the most strength.

Following the selection of a site for the 1930 convention the ladies' auxiliary will meet and select the same site and then will elect officers. Both organizations will adjourn following the disposition of business until the state meeting in 1930.

Many Here Sunday

A large crowd of letter carriers and their wives arrived Saturday night and Sunday. Sunday evening, a total of 312 had registered at the Pythian Home.

The delegates held a short get-together meeting at the Pythian Home Saturday night.

CONCERT GIVEN FOR THE YOUNG AT RUGG MEMORIAL PARK, SUNDAY AFTERNOON, BY THE JUNIOR BAND.

A large crowd was present and the youthful musicians were highly praised for their concert.
A program was held at the Decatur high school building Sunday evening, starting at 8:30 o'clock. Following a song by the audience, George Vincent, state chaplain of the letter carriers, gave the invocation. Mrs. L. A. Holthouse sang two solos, which were greatly enjoyed.

Motion Pictures Shown

Three reels of motion pictures, furnished by the Post Office department, including the picture, "Rural Service," were shown.

The principal address was delivered by C. C. Wenrich, a representative from the Post Office department at Washington, D. C. He spoke on the subject, "Cooperation Between the Post Office Department and the Postal Employees." Mr. Wenrich conducted a question box, following his address, also.

Mrs. Hoyt, of Michigan, vice-president of the national ladies' auxiliary, also spoke. She discussed the help of the ladies' auxiliary to the rural carriers association.

Owing to a lack of time, the playlet, "The Triumph of Love," scheduled to be given Sunday evening, was not presented. The auditorium was filled to capacity for the program.

C. L. Walters Speaks

C. L. Walters, Decatur attorney, gave the principal address at the noon session of the convention today. Mr. Wenrich was scheduled to give another address this morning, but was called out of the city. Walter I. Uttis, of Kokomo, state president of the association, presided at the morning session. L. A. Graham, Decatur postmaster, gave the address of welcome, and William H. Black, of Uniondale, responded in behalf of the visiting carriers. Remarks were given by other state officers, and by visiting carriers.

SUES FOR FIFTH DIVORCE

Muncie, Ind., July 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Grace Carlyle, suing for her fifth divorce in 10 years, pleaded with circuit Judge L. A. Guthrie, "please, Judge, let me have this divorce," but her suit was dismissed on motion of her counsel when the court indicated he would take that step regardless of any action by the attorney.

Since Ben Franklin said "Save and Have" many level-headed persons have opened savings accounts. And many have blessed the adage that showed them the way to financial solidity.

Are you one of them?
If not, you can be. Start today to lay away a little amount each week. Keep steadily at it and attain the goal striven for by so many.
