Coal By-Products
Some of the by-products of coal include coke, gas, light, medium and heavy oils, tar, pitch, ammonia and the nitrogen contents of ammonia known as ammonium sulphate. The crude gas can be used as the starting point for a number of other products and the crude oils and tars as the starting point for a long list of dyes, medicines, explosives and other chemicals.

Defects in Ivory
Sometimes what appear to be cracks in ivory beads are instead what a jeweler calls "checking." The process of aging sometimes results in surface cracks. There are natural flaws in tusks due to the air spaces and the drying out of natural oils.

United States Birds
The American Ornithological union lists 768 species of birds in the United States. There are also a great many subspecies.
