Bank Of England
Increases Its Rate

London, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—The Bank of England today increased its rate by one per cent to 6 1/4 per cent, in spite of the general belief which existed here that an increase would not be enforced owing to the recent collapse of the Clarence C. Hairy group of financial and industrial enterprises.

PAROLE MAY BE SOUGHT IN CASE

Mrs. Lois Pantages May
Seek Freedom On Ill
Health Plea

Los Angeles, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—A plea for parole because of ill health appeared today to be Mrs. Lois Pantages' only hope to escape a sentence of from one to 10 years in San Quentin penitentiary.

A jury in superior court last night found her guilty of manslaughter in the death of Juro Rokumoto, Japanese gardener, who died on a hospital operating table three days after his automobile was struck by one driven by the millionaire theater man's wife.

The jury of seven men and five women returned its verdict after 27 hours of deliberation. As the decision was read by the court clerk, three women jurors wept.

Mrs. Pantages gasped at the word "guilty," then exclaimed "Oh God!"

As her attorneys made their successful attempt to have her released in their custody until time for sentencing Friday, Mrs. Pantages wrung her hands distractedly and sobbed. In the corridor outside the courtroom the convicted woman collapsed. She was revived in Judge Hardy's chambers.

Mrs. Pantages was at liberty today in custody of her attorneys, under the $50,000 bail posted before the trial.

Perfume Old Commodity

Perfume which we define as a sweet fragrance, was one of the most useful and interesting of ancient commodities. It was used for innumerable things, but mostly for religious and medicinal purposes. The queen of Sheba is said to have given to King Solomon an abundance of spices and wood of which perfume was made. These were reported as being of very high value.

Civil War Debt

The Treasury department says that the Civil war debt has been bonded and funded until it has lost its identity. About one-half billion dollars of the old Civil war debt is now outstanding.

CANADIAN ACES
CONTINUE HUNTNo Trace Found Yet Of Missing Northern Exploring Party

Winnipeg, Can., Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—Seven of Canada's most intrepid aviators were aloft in spite of bad weather today searching the barren lands near the Arctic circle for Col. C. D. H. McAlpine and his party of seven geologists-explorers.

Should their motors fail, it was almost certain the searchers would have made their last patrol, for chances of rescue are slight in the northwest territory—That vast stretch of forest, tundra and muskeg inhabited only by a few Indians and fur traders.

Col. McAlpine's party in two planes set out from Coronation gulf in the Arctic ocean September 10 for a 2,000 mile flight to Aklavik. No word has been received from the explorers and it was believed they were forced down on some frozen lake and crashed due to the fact their planes were equipped for water landings only. Due to the desolate country it was feared they soon would starve even if they escaped from the planes uninjured.

families and household goods but were advised to go back home and get to work.

Every agency for disaster relief, including the Red Cross, American Legion and National Guard was mobilized and under orders. Shipping was held to harbor and houses and shops battered down to withstand a blast.

Between Miami and West Palm Beach, where the storm is likely to hit if it does reach the coast, roads were filled with families en route inland to the larger cities.

Fears were felt for the safety of inhabitants of the Bahamas. Attempts at radio communication with Nassau have failed to pierce the silence which has shrouded the islands since noon yesterday, when the hurricane neared the group.

Off Great Abaco Island in the Bahamas chain, the freighter Domira was around in the storm and efforts to rig a breeches buoy to the craft were reported unsuccessful early today. The Domira carries a crew of 30.

Through the night lunch rooms and coffee shops here were crowded with men ready for relief work should a hurricane strike. At dawn the slightly reassuring weather bureau report caused many to leave for their homes.

The radio station here functioned through the night broadcasting dance tunes to help keep spirits up.

Barometers at 7 a.m. in cities along the coast were reported nearly stationary.

Orlando, in central Florida, became crowded with residents of the east coast. Automobiles were arriving in steady streams from the shore towns.

Women explained that they did not wish to live again through last year's experiences.

Heavy seas were pounding causeways along the entire coast today. A bridge was washed out north of Jupiter inlet on the main coastal highway.

Six Leaders Join
In Chinese Revolt

London, Sept. 26.—(U.P.)—Six important military leaders including Gen. Chan Chai-Tong, commander of the Canton district, have joined Gen. Chang Fat-Kwei in his rebellious movement against the national government of China, according to dispatches from Hong Kong to the exchange telegraph bureau today.

The dispatches said the national government rushed 16,000 troops from Ichang, under command of Gen. Isao Wanshun, to fight the rebels, who are expected to reach Hunan province by Sunday. Admiral Chew, commanding five Chinese gunboats, was proceeding along the river to aid General Tsao.
